SPECIAL WEEK CONCLUDES — Scout-Guide Week in Playstaf District concluded on a quieter note than it began. On Sunday, Feb. 22nd, the anniversary of the birthday of the founder of the Scout movement in the world, Lord Baden Powell, a church service was held in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, Scouts from Forestburg and Sedgewick, Girl Guides from Killam and Viking, Brownies from Killam and Sedgewick, and Cubs from Forestburg and Killam, plus parents, numbering close to 100, joined in the service. Rev. Larry Lin of the Presbyterian Church conducted the service and accepted the colours from each group, as noted in the picture at right.

SEDEGWICK PEE WEES

The Sedgewick boys had a four goal lead going in to the third period. Owen played excellent hockey and had the total points tied at the end of the first period. At no time through the second and third period did either team hold more than a one goal lead.

In the overtime Sedgewick scored first. Owen tied the score in less than a minute. The winning goal came with 4 minutes left in the first overtime period and Sedgewick held on to the lead playing short handed two players. These two teams played a series with good fast skating, few penalties, the goal tenders played well. Two teams that aye well out.

Legislature report

by Kevin Peterson
Premier Peter Lougheed has set the stage for an all-out Legislature battle over the accountability of his ministers with a statement that they don't have to consider resigning just because they make a mistake.

The doctrine of accountability the Tory chief amounts to a gauntlet thrown down to the opposition: Ministers have to account for their errors but not quit over them.

"I think that's a important distinction," the premier said in an interview.

"The minister is fully responsible for the operations and administration within his department and agencies... (that) I do not feel if he makes mistakes, or the people in the department make mistakes, that the nature of that responsibility is in any way such as to require him to consider resignation."

Mr. Lougheed emphasized that his ministers are not allowed an unlimited number of mistakes, but declined to say how many. Each case would be examined according to the nature of the error and the magnitude.

Mr. Lougheed's notion already has opposition spokesmen in an uproar. They cite traditional precedents in the parliamentary system which emphasize that ministers should leave their jobs if their work or their employees work is found wanting.

A Social Credit working paper on accountability says ministers must "accept political responsibility for all actions by subordinates."

The debate stems from provincial auditor D.W. Rogers investigation of the grants handed out by Culture Minister Horst Schmidt's department.

Mr. Rogers found administration was "hazy and chaotic" and, while he cleared Mr. Schmidt of attempting to get any personal gain, blamed the minister for allowing a situation which degenerated into fraud to develop.

Opposition critics howled for Mr. Schmidt's resignation but his original statement that he retains full confidence in his minister.

"I see no practical way in which an activist minister can run a government department today without there being mistakes of administration," the premier says.

While the minister should straighten out troublesome areas, he should not feel honor bound to quit, Mr. Lougheed feels. The premier also emphasizes that ministers who personally misbehave or make private gains because of their public office must resign immediately.

The issue is likely to come to a head during study of next year's budget in April when the opposition is expected to demand Mr. Schmidt's resignation.

HARDISTY WINTER WIPEOUT DAYS

Keeping in touch

This week's Keeping in Touch column is being prepared on the eve of the delegates arriving to participate in the National Conservative Leadership Convention, Ottawa.

The reason why British Columbia Members became so important to this issue was the fact that the most popular television station in southern British Columbia is KVOS.

Prior to the television airing into Canada, KVOS was established just south of the Canadian border in the United States. It attracted Canadian advertising but helped its signal into Vancouver and other southern B.C. areas.

While one may not generally endorse the dumping of American program into Canada, the situation with KVOS was significantly different. In response, once having established a market in Canada and keeping most of its advertising benefits from Canada, KVOS initiated a contact with the Federal Government and made the request for an opportunity to pay Canadian taxes. As a result, back in the 1950's, a special agreement between Canada and the U.S. allowed for KVOS in Bellingham, Washington, to pay taxes to the Canadian government. Moreover, since its inception this television station has an example of a good Canadian corporate citizen. As an example, it developed in Vancouver, Edmonton and Calgary a corporation known as Canavest. Canavest is now one of the world's renowned animated film makers. This company, operated by Canavest hires a large number of Canadian artists and is internationally known for its ability in designing and producing special advertising effects for the commercial media. Canavest not only hires Canadians and makes significant contributions to the Western Canadian scene, but also has attracted market opportunities in many foreign countries.

An excellent opportunity for Canadian talent to be expressed abroad.

I took the position in developing on the amendments to Bill C-58 that if the Government is truly interested in developing opportunities for Canadian artists, the method should not be to restrict foreign television from entering Canada.

ada but rather to help much greater incentives, and to do a much larger degree of lobbying into the international market. What Canadians need if they are to gain true exposure is not an opportunity to play only to Canadians but rather a real sales effort ought to be made to allow them to keep in touch with the commercial media the world over.

It will be applying to the Agricultural Services Branch for a $250.00 capital grant for (1) Class Ag. Societies, Doug Gibbs of Taber and Jim Tindall of Sedgewick were elected to the Board of Directors representing (1) Class Societies. Financial reports showed the R.U.C.A. to be in a budgetary financial position, partly in the assistance of Alberta Agriculture who provide office space, strong support, assistance, duplicating, postal, telephone and other services, either free or at greatly reduced rates.

Next Agricultural Societies have reported that they are in a satisfactory financial position with only three Societies in serious trouble.

Pee wees go to provincials

Sedgewick Pee Wees defeated Dayland in a total point series by a score of 15-2. This was the zone playoff and the team will go to Bow Island for a Provincial Tournament near the end of March. There was good play in both games. Held Wednesday and Sunday this past week. Fan support was also good at both games, an indication of good hockey.

We wish the Pee Wees good luck in the tournament at Bow Island.

Government to practice restraint

by Kevin Peterson
Alberta's 15 M.L.A.s March 4th open business-like legislative session marked by a new mood of economy in sharp contrast with last year's pre-election tax cuts and other giveaways.

With new emphasis on husbanding the treasury, the Conservative government is pledging to restrain the budget and invest $1.5 billion in saved resource money productively.

Keeping the administration true to its promised 11 per cent ceiling on spending growth while avoiding sloppy use of the province's wealth are major opposition priorities.

The law makers face a crisscross agenda. The list is topped by managing surplus oil cash in the Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund, cabinet accountability, land use, housing, coal policy and law and order programs. The budget will take over more than $100 million in existing direct lending programs from the Alberta Housing Corporation, which will continue working with reduced duties.

More heritage fund money will go into the new housing firm along with cash for irrigation.

The government plans to introduce 65 to 70 bills in a sitting expected to last until late May or early June.

Major legislation will set up the heritage fund with its initial $1.5 billion, an Alberta Home Mortgage Corporation and a new provincial planning act.

Only administration of justice and law enforcement are exempt from budget ceilings, aside from the heritage fund, which the government does not consider "spending". Substantial expenditure on improved court machinery and policy is expected.

The cabinet has also been working on highway safety. Plans could include lower speed limits, safety inspections for used cars, crackdowns on drinkers, a seat belt law and expanded driver training.

The new mortgage corporation will take over more than $100 million in existing direct lending programs from the Alberta Housing Corporation, which will continue working with reduced duties. More heritage fund money will go into the new housing firm along with cash for irrigation.

Spiral Staircases:
If you are building or renovating your home you might consider putting in a spiral staircase. A representative from Spiral Industries Ltd. (Calgary) provided the following information:

Staircases from Spiral Industries are made entirely from wood, stairs, vinyl, cushioned supports except for the handrail which is vinyl-covered metal.

A spiral staircase is for "people access" not for moving heavy objects such as a freezer.

Most often it provides direct access to the lower floor living area from the main floor living area.

Spiral staircases have several advantages over conventional stairs—they save space, are safer and have aesthetic appeal.

A spiral staircase requires only 12 to 20 sq. ft. compared to a conventional stair which requires 45 to 60 square feet.

Prices range from $1,000 to $1,400 installed, plus mileage from Calgary.

Vitamin C and Cold:
February's issue of Consumer Reports looks at the various studies related to Vit. C and the common cold, rather timely I thought. Two main points were suggested in the article. (1) Vit. C has no significant effect in preventing colds or reducing days of illness, but possibly Vit. C could reduce the severity of generalised symptoms in some patients (colds, fever). (2) Various studies does suggested various amounts of Vitamin C which raises the question "How much is enough?" We know from studies that 30mg. of Vitamin C a day is sufficient to replenish the amount metabolized daily by an adult man. Other studies suggest that a person who gets 130mg. of Vitamin C a day obtains about all the body can store. What happens if we eat more than 130 mg. a day? Our body simply excretes the excess. Unless a person hates fruit and vegetables, getting an adequate amount of Vitamin C can be relatively easy. For example: a six ounce glass of orange juice, fresh or frozen, will generally meet or exceed daily requirements for a healthy person. Other foods rich in Vitamin C: broccoli, cabbage, cantaloupe, grapefruit, strawberries, tomatoes. Building or Redecorating?

Interested in lighting in the home? Cheryl Corbell from Calgary Power will be our guest this Wednesday, Feb. 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the Provincial Building to discuss this topic. Everyone welcome. (Cost: $6c for the evening)

NOTICE of IRON CREEK GAS CO-OP LTD.

Annual Meeting

The Annual Meeting will be held on MONDAY, MARCH 8th, at 1:30 p.m. in the Community Hall in Sedgewick.

The Iron Creek Gas Co-op Ltd. has been divided into nine areas. The number of directors will be reduced from seventeen to nine this year. An election of a director from EACH of the areas will be held. This is your opportunity to have a voice in selecting your representative.

ed and all of them enjoying their home on the hill in Sedgewick. And judging from Colleen's beautiful crocheted work, I'll bet the ladies at the next Loughbaird Fair are going to run into some very strong competition in that line.

Had a nice visit with Mrs. Hedman and she was really delighted to be made an Honorary Pres. of the Hardisty Social Club.

If a number of ladies are not already collecting spoons they soon will be doing so with all those beautiful spoon racks that Olaf Nelson has been making at the Lodge.

The Hardisty Social Club had their monthly meeting on Feb. 23rd and there has been some electrical work done and hopes to get heat in, in the near future were expressed.

There is a lot of old plaster to get rid of and ladies, ladies to pull out before spring work, on the old house.

Those attending Pauline Cavanagh's funeral were Wilfred Cavanagh of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Cavanagh of Montreal, Mr. Bernard Cavanagh and daughter of Vancouver. Two daughters of P. Cavanagh's also attended, one from Edmonton and son from Leduc. Mrs. Wilfred Cavanagh and her father Mr. Conquer from Wetaskiwin also were seen, as well as Mrs. Edith Marler, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hill of Viking, the Forster families and Mrs. Mary Reashaw from Killam. There were many, many other friends, Oscar and Marjorie Larsen of Edmonton too.

Birthday greeting to Mrs. Wilda Rose on her 71st birthday Feb. 28th. May you have many more happy birthdays Wilda.

We were saddened to learn that in a 12 vehicle pile up in the Red Deer area, during a stormy period, Mr. and Mrs. McCall were injured in a car accident. Mrs. McCall being injured fatally. Mr. McCall was an elevator agent in Amisk for some years and later moved to Innisfail.

Miss Doffins Cox who has been nursing at the Hardisty Hospital for well over a year now, is leaving for her home on the little island of St. Vincent's.

Later on she will be working in a hospital in New York. We all wish her well on her trip home and in her new job. Sometimes we think a small town is the greatest; but when people take equipment from an elderly person who needs it badly, or often wonder where their conscience is or have they got out? I refer you to this paper.

The means upon bouzelli is ever after being very successful competition in that line.

The Davidson card composed of Bill Davidson, Allen Nelson, Neil Olson and Brian Harman was over the Grand rink and then played George Anderson's rink from Sedgewick.

The Davidson rink was a lovely trophy which was a real thrill for Brian Harman. It will be his.

A very close game Saturday was played between Jim Devoy's rink and Judd Veltner's, going into eleven ends with Jim coming out the winner.

Sympathy is extended to the relatives and friends of Mrs. Helen Strain who passed away Monday morning in an Edmonton hospital.

As sure as we are a car from beautiful British Columbia, we get a gold medal. I wonder why that is. Emil.

The Explores under the direction of Mrs. Pat Hanson and Shirley Reber sang and danced the Polka and the Buttery to entertain members of the P. Cavanagh Lodge on Thursday night. Members from the St. Mary's Ladies Club went up as well and put on a little program too. Mrs. Gail Kishinich sang two songs and accompanied herself on the piano. Marjorie Korth brought the nutmeg song by Carol Korth, Larne and Chris Humbergh accompanied by Billie Jo Drayton on the piano. With Emily Nelson playing the piano a few dances and with entertainment over, the Lodge was presented with a flowering white chrysanthemum from the St. Mary's Ladies Club. A beautiful lunch from sandwiches to sweets followed and so an enjoyable evening was brought to a close.

The ladies were all glad to arrive home safe and sound as visibility was very poor and it looks as though March plans are in for a little rain.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brownson at the Lodge. Harold had also attended the Cavanagh funeral.

Arnold Malone, M.P.

The great Convention is over. In its aftermath comes the task of restoring to normal and turning our attention to the many obligations of the House of Commons and its Standing Committees. In the immediate wake of the Convention was the disappointment to the many who contributed to much energy and devotion to a favourite candidate only to witness the heavy heart of defeat.

People of courage, however, recover quickly and I was literally surprised at the genuine expressions of support, the mood of consolation, and the united efforts that have enabled our Caucus into the heart of loyalty. We have a deep feeling of friendship and pride in our new Leader.

There is, however, a lesson to be learned from our Convention that spans beyond the partisanship of a political party. It is a lesson that ought to be stressed to all Western Canadians regardless of political faith. Throughout the course of the campaign I was frequently contacted by those who suggested it would be folly for someone such as Peter Lougheed or any other Westerner to enter the race because Eastern Canada would never support a Westerner. The frequency in which I encountered such a comment was extraordinary high. I trust that the fact that a young and relatively unknown politician from Western Canada has succeeded in capturing the top prize should establish clearly that none of the divisions that we assume are really the product of a conditioned mind.

To me, one of the great moments of the Convention was witnessing an Alberta group of delegates struggling for or against a four unilingual or an hour and a half to come French delegates from the Province of Quebec. That was an hour and a half marked with many gestures, laughter and I am sure a rich reward. The struggle to communicate concluded with a picture taking session: a memo to remind one back home of the joy of meeting a fellow Canadian.

There is a deep pride that accompanies a forum that is as Canadian. At a Convention that draws its delegates from all provinces and territories from each region and corner of the country, the diversity of long flowing gowns and gaudy of knuckle ranchers, all and ensure the importance of a participating democracy and the value of representative government.

Our party is elated with the outcome of our recent Leadership Convention. The Convention has resulted in underscoring the importance of democracy and the need for grassroots input. I trust that its overall effect will, in some way, encourage and increase involvement for governments, at all levels, to attempt to keep in touch with the citizens that they are supposed to serve. It is only by this genuine and unselfish effort of governmental representatives that there can, in fact, become a government that serves people.

Club Reporter Jayne Steiger

on May 22, 23 and 24th - the long weekend.

Purpose of the project is to educate people living within the tour in connection with attractions right on our doorstep, so that they are better able to advise and direct visitors who come to this part of Alberta. It is the first time that the local tourist association has tackled this kind of project. Since it is a pay-as-you-go deal, it will not cost the association a penny. However, there is a considerable amount of volunteer effort being expended in making the various arrangements.

Participants will congregate between 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, May 22, at the Rymada Museum in Wetaskiwin. After visiting the museum, the cavalcade will move to Silver Beach Park at Pigeon Lake for a picnic and canoe ride. The next stop will be a thirty mile jaunt to Buck Lake for an afternoon tea and a bit of fishing!

The cavalcade will then move to Drayton Valley, a run of 25 miles, and camp for the night. A diagnosis and various other fun things are to be organized for the evening.

On Sunday morning two optional trips are being suggested - depending on whether the family is predominantly made up of early or late risers! One alternative is a 25 mile trip to visit the Irrigon Dam and the other takes the cavalcade to Tomahawk and on to Herby for a ride on one of the last remaining ferries in Alberta. Both groups will re-convene at Stampy Creek campsite by noon. By Sunday evening the cavalcade will converge on the Lions Park at Drayton, and will camp there for the night.

On Monday morning, the cavalcade will move to the International Airport for a tour of the terminal building and hangar in the hangar.

During the afternoon the tour will include a stop at Fort Elmer, and wind up with a pre-arranged steak fry at Wetaskiwin.

Anyone with a recreational vehicle or the necessary equipment for two nights' camping may participate, but should advise the Battle River Tourist Assoc. by March 21, 1976 so that adequate site and food reservations can be made.

Consort regional meeting report

The second Regional Meeting of the East Central Region was held at Consort on February 21, 1976. Along with the general meeting there were project meetings held in the morning with a report going to the general meeting in the afternoon. The meeting was called to order by Chairman Ralph Manning with June Crane taking the minutes. There were 5 out of 6 districts in attendance. Reported by the Coordinator that there were 157 members attending the Regional Council Fun Day which is sponsored by the Regional Council. The minutes were read and adopted. Reported by Carol Arntsen that the Regional Council is organized for April 11, 1976 in Sedgewick Public School at 1:00 p.m. with Provost, Coronation, and District Directors responsible for judges. The officers are June Crane and Bill Barnes. Lunch will be served. Everyone is welcome to attend. It was reported by Sec-Treas. that some of the District Councils have not yet paid their dues.

Project Reports were given by the leaders: Horse - Terry Lealle; Beef - Carol Arntsen; Horse making - E3 also Almgberg; Dairy - Garth Lantry; which were very interesting and interested the rest as to what the projects are doing. The Horse project reported that there was a workshop in Killam on Monday, Feb. 22 on Chaining and Bandages that should be used in the show ring. Also they asked whether we in the other projects could possibly see both days at Regional Days. The Beef Project wanted to thank the Dairy Project for their financial assistance which they are giving the beef for the club planned for Regional Days.

This year Regional Days will be held in Killam July 22 and 24th. The meeting closed with the date April 24th, 1976 at 10:30 a.m. being set for the next regional meeting to be held in Killam. At this meeting final plans will be made for Regional Days with local news representatives in attendance.

Reporter - Carol Arntsen

Varied agenda at tourist meeting

The Battle River Tourist Association met at Viking on Thursday, February 19th, 1976. The group gathered at the Community Hall for a dinner, and were joined by a considerable number of local people. Two films were presented that illustrated the importance of tourism in our economy.

At the business session that followed, it was decided to construct another information centre in 1976. When tenders were called, it was expected that more of these would be needed, but it has now been decided that this particular project can be suspended for this year.

It was reported that the "Tom Guide" is on the home stretch at the printers, and 1,000 are expected to be available by March 10th. It is time for distribution at the Edmonton Hotel and Trailer Show.

It was also reported that the executive had authorized yet another place of promotion literature. It is an enlarged road-map of the entire area, that will provide considerable detailed information about sights and activities in the area.

The association has given some thought to the matter of consultancy in operation of Information Centres throughout the area. In these joint operations, BRTA supplies the building and attracts to insurance and repairs. The recipient community supplies the site, manpower and utilities. Policies regarding the operation have therefore been a local matter. However, it has been suggested that in the interests of uniformity, the association suggest guidelines for each community to follow if at all possible. During the coming summer BRTA will be recommending that information centres be kept open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. seven days per week, from June 21st to September 15th. Further in connection with information centres, each centre owned by BRTA, will be provided with a "sandwich" type "Open" sign, so that visitors can more easily see that the place is open for business as they approach on the highway. Seven of these are now being prepared by Madison Sign in Camrose. Madison Art Studios in Camrose is also busy building a "display board" for the association, to cost about $1,000. This will be used to set up site displays at fairs, exhibitions, conventions, or any other function that may come up.

Considerable interest in the Annual Meeting of the Travel Industry Association of Alberta has been generated and it is expected that the President, John Gust of Bashaw will lead a delegation of about twenty people from various points in the 1980s to the affair. This will take place in Edmonton on March 12, 13 and 14, 1976.

A "Hospitality Seminar" was planned to take place in Camrose on June 12. This all-day event is intended to train people in the art of assisting visitors to our area. While it is geared particularly to people working in information centres, anyone may participate and the recommendation is highly recommended for anyone who deals with the public, including clerks, receptionists, service station personnel, waitresses etc.

The next meeting of the Battle River Tourist Association will take place in Provost on March 19, 1976 at the Greenhead Motel on highway 12.

Best to melt with fertilizer

Did you know that you can use area fertilizer to melt snow on your sidewalk and driveway?

When sprinkled on snow it has the same melting effect as coarse salt. It also has the same limitation as salt in that it does not work where the temperature is below about 15 degrees C.

Although it is more expensive than salt it has two important advantages over salt. It will not corrode vehicles as salt does and it will not damage grass or plants in an adjacent flowerbed when it runs off the driveway or walk during a thaw.

A 50 pound bag of urea costs about $5, and can be purchased from agricultural fertilizer outlets. Any fertilizer that is left at the end of the winter can be used to fertilize the lawn, says Alberta Agriculture's soil specialist, Doug Penny.

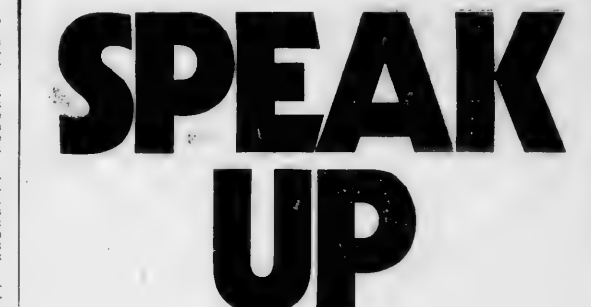

Quotes 'n Quips

John: "My wife is always asking me for money, yesterday she wanted $20, the day before she asked for $50, today it was $100."

Keith: "What does she do with all the money?"

John: "I don't know, I never give her any."

4-H advisory council meet

On February 18 and 19, the 4-H Advisory Council met on the 5th floor of the Centennial Building for their annual meeting. The meeting was called to order by Chairman Don Holthorn of the North East Region. Also in attendance were Ted Voeck and Doug Biewert, representatives from the Department.

The regional Councils have expressed some concern on guidelines when electing the Advisory Council Representatives. They suggested that the Regional Councils set their own guidelines on this as we are representing them and the minimum term be 2 years with one being elected every year but not necessarily a new member.

The Truck and Tractor Rally was discussed; and tentative plans are now being made for such a Rally. There is a possibility of five events and the organizers are looking at Regional Finals and then Provincial Finals to be held in August. The one thing that is going to be stressed very much is SAFETY and this is an important factor in competing in these events.

The 60th anniversary of 4-H in Alberta was discussed in length as this is a very important event for 4-H in our province. We as a Council have to get people more involved.

Bring hockey cup home

Camrose Good-Timers (Old Timers) entered in the second national Old Timers Hockey Tournament to be held in Canada.

A bus was chartered from Camrose and on Friday 13th, they were on their way to the tournament. The teams were divided into three groups. Group 1 Lehighville Longhorns, C.F.B. Halifax, Dartmouth; Campbell River, Vancouver, Group 2 Ft. St. John, Regina 53's, Camrose, Brewster Kings (Calgary); Group 3 Ft. McHenry, Medicine Hat, East Gwillimbury-Lamden, Sask.

In semi-finals Camrose played against Medicine Hat, the score 6-0 and played Foxthills in the finals which went into 2, 3 minute periods with overtime with no change. They followed a shoot-out of 5 players on each team taking turns shooting at the goal, as a result Camrose won 4-3 bringing home a lovely big trophy and players for the players.

Camrose goalie, Ray Simpson, one time Hardisty Stampeder goalie, was the best goal tender award in "B" division and brought home a trophy too.

Next year this Old Timers Hockey tournament will be held in St. John N.B. Walcott with John Galt, Reged Lebar, Baldy Matthews, Kelly Hendricks, Mark Degens, and going to the semi-finals to play well too.

These games consist of real sportsmanship and no real staff and people were heard to remark that they enjoyed the Old Timers games much more than the rough ones.

ed and also make people aware of the 4-H program. It was also suggested that we have a week in October set aside as 4-H Week for promotion. There is also the matter of an Alberta 4-H Centre. This idea has been met with great enthusiasm and we are proceeding with a study on such a project. If there are any ideas which you would like to contribute to the 60th anniversary please contact your advisory Council member. We would be very pleased to hear from you.

On Tuesday, Feb. 17 the Council had the privilege of meeting with Mr. Tom Drinkwater, Deputy Minister of Parks, Recreation and Wildlife. The Advisory Council expressed their many concerns about 4-H and what we feel is necessary for staff to administer the program to its fullest extent.

The dept. also would like each Regional Council for a budget of income and expenses so that they have some approximate cost of the operation of our Regional Councils. A request for funding for our Regional Councils from the Government. They would like the budget and requests for funding by April 1st from the Regional Council. The dept. also stressed the fact that all registration forms from the Clubs must be in by Dec. 31 or there is no go. They will not accept the forms.

All in all the meeting was very successful and I hope that if there are any complaints, statements or ideas that you as a member, leader or parent would like viewed to the Advisory Council, feel free to contact your Advisory Council Representatives.

Line break near Killam

Pipe Line crews from Edmonton and Kerbert, Saskatchewan, are working to recover an estimated 3,000 to 10,000 barrels of crude oil that leaked from the Interprovincial Pipe Line north and east of Killam.

The leak is about 150 feet from the spot where two previous leaks occurred in the winter of 1974 and the oil is being contained in a natural land depression at the site. D.C. Fleming, manager of operations, said the effect on agricultural land should be minimal and the majority of the spilled oil will be pumped back into an adjacent line on the same right-of-way.

First indication of the leak came about 6:15 p.m. Monday when a resident of the area telephoned to report an odor. Personnel were dispatched from Hardisty and Camrose.

The company employees patrolled on foot and also by car and immediately before the leak location was pinpointed and then Pipe Line Maintenance crews arrived from Edmonton and Kerbert.

TROPHIES PRESENTED - Fred Mitchell of Hardisty and President of the Battle River Hockey Club has been busy making presentations to outstanding players in the League.

School adopt budget

At its March meeting, the County of Playfair School Committee adopted a budget for 1976 educational services. Budget Highlights:

- total spending of $2,044,155 (6.85% increase over 1975);
- government grants of $273,185 (4.82% increase over 1975);
- teaching staff reduction of 1/4 teachers (3.5% decrease from 1975);
- anticipated pupil enrollment of 2245 pupils (2.8% decrease from 1975);
- increase of 11% in the supplementary Tax Requirement levied on property owners;
- adjustment in school bus transportation services as to achieve the 85% loading factor established by the Government;
- freezing of school purchasing and maintenance and repair services at 1975 levels;
- increase in textbook rental fees (average increase of 4%);
- anticipated deficit of $23,000 upon adopting the budget.

Throne speech uninspiring

With a throne speech that opposition leaders found "banal", the Longford government has entered 1976 pledged to uphold all parts of the federal anti-inflation program.

Alberta already has signed an agreement with Ottawa committing public employees and professionals in the national wage settlement.

In the throne speech - and with expectations the March 10th budget will underline the commitment - the Longford administration has promised to ease the guidelines itself.

premises made by the cabinet over the last few months. A highway safety program, including selective cuts in speed limits and an increased emphasis on driver training skills and use of safety equipment, was also promised.

But the speech stopped short of saying whether Alberta will have a mandatory seat-belt-wearing law as other provinces have. And ministers have already ruled out a general cut in speed limits, saying Alberta will cut limits on high risk stretches of road only.

One of the most contentious issues before the House is likely to be the Heritage savings fund. Premier Longford's main platform plank during last spring's election campaign was to increase the fund.

Draft legislation presented last fall would have given control of almost all major investments in the fund to the cabinet. The proposals have been rejected by the cabinet and some members of the Tory caucus are re-examining the Legislature's control over the purse strings.

Much of the money in the fund has already been committed to projects ranging from starter home mortgages to irrigation projects. The House this spring will be asked to set up an Alberta Home Mortgage Corporation which will administer the fund.

inter a wide variety of provincial home building programs. Also high on the agenda list is the new occupational health and safety act that Mr. Longford says is the major government priority.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

(The following letter was received in my office from The Cross Country Ski instructor. I think the public will read it with interest.)

Dear Mr. Johnson: I just thought I would drop a note so that you would extend to the kind people of Sedgewick my sincere appreciation for the hospitality during the Cross Country Ski Course.

Your coordination and "behind the scenes" work was well noted. Ski Coeders helped me for dinner, Dick Matthews and Zane Parsons helped me with my ski gear. I was able to ski on his land and to cook up a pot of my famous Borscht. There were so many helpful people, many more than I could list.

I just thought I would drop a note so that you would extend to the kind people of Sedgewick my sincere appreciation for the hospitality during the Cross Country Ski Course.

In the shirt of a happy man, soldiers were sent far and wide to find a man who was truly happy. Everyone expected had some cause for misery, had something that had taken away their happiness. At last they found a man, a soldier, who said when asked, "You, I am truly happy." They told him that they wanted his shirt for the long sleep in for one night. He told them that he had a large sum of money for it. Will you sell it? The beggar burst out to an unobtainable laughter and replied, "I am sorry I cannot oblige the king. I haven't a shirt on my back."

Why story you say, why is it that so many are looking all over to find happiness, like the king, while the answer to his and our problem is found in God's Word? A wise man, Solomon, in the Bible said, "There is nothing better for a man than that he should eat and find enjoyment in his work, for it is from the hand of God that we receive this. Apart from this you can eat or who can have happiness. It is to those who please God that he will give wisdom, knowledge and 'happiness.' In another place Solomon says, 'Happy the man or woman who fears the Lord and keeps his commandments.'"

Have you found this happiness? Or are you still looking for "the shirt"? It isn't there, God is the answer to your search.

The new building is an attractive addition to the town of Daysland, and the two firms will contribute much to the progress of this community.

Helen and Eldon Sather of Sather Electric Ltd. in Daysland invite you to their Grand Opening on Saturday, Mar. 13th, to have a cup of coffee with them. While there, you can have a look at their new display of lighting fixtures, lamps, heaters, etc.

Eldon has been in the electrical trade for eleven years, the last three of which have been in Daysland. Helen is a Sedgewick girl, whose teaching duties took her to Daysland.

The new building housing the two firms was built by MacLoc Metal Buildings of Ponoka, and much of the building and finishing materials were supplied by Revelstoke Co. Ltd. of Daysland. The concrete was supplied by William Transit Mix of Killam. The new building is an attractive addition to the town of Daysland, and the two firms will contribute much to the progress of this community.

Congratulations to the Hardy Stampers hockey club who won their 2nd semi-final game against Forestburg on Saturday, March 6th. Next game to be played on Tuesday, March 9th in Hardisty. Good luck boys.

Herb and Millie Redman are having a real holiday. They stayed in a Bure for a week in the Fiji Islands. A Bure is a local dwelling place. Then they were going on to Hawaii for awhile.

Jeanette Moran and Mrs. Gibb of Killam have just returned from a nice holiday to Arizona, Mexico and Kansas. While in Arizona they saw Mrs. Clara Wilder, Don and Fanny and Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Harrison.

Saw their first snow in Regina on their way home.

On March 2nd, Mr. Jack L. Cameron passed away at the age of 82 years, in Edmonton. He leaves to mourn his loss besides his wife, Wanda, son John of Calgary, son daughter Fay, Mrs. Adrian Elm of Edmonton, seven grandchildren and four sisters.

Mr. Cameron was a well known C.P.R. engineer and the family lived in Hardisty for many years. They resided in the house now occupied by Mrs. Val Johnson, until their retirement to Edmonton some years ago.

At Zone playoffs in Tofield last weekend, Central won the right to represent the Zone at Provincials by taking the top Provincials by winning over Vidor, Thornby and Devon. The team will participate in Provincial Playoffs this weekend, March 12th and 13th at Pictouville, Nova Scotia.

Control High School Boys basketball team has done very well this season and now is the top position in their League. The picture above, Trish Harrison presents the trophy for first place.

Good luck boys.

Dittrich from Forestburg, Irving and Doreen Bell with Beverly and Valerie, Elaine and Pat Van Roushmont from Sedgewick, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Grant, Killam, Leslie Longman from Innisfail, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Hastings (Comie Spencer) of Forestburg, a one time neighbor also attended, as well as many many more.

We are so glad that the Eastern Canada spellers are home again after being away for several months, some of whom are Mr. and Mrs. Rose Masure, Cliff Moody, Bill Matthews, Lee Hendricks.

Mrs. Mary Goodrich and Mrs. Edna Woodcock just returned awhile ago from their trip to Tulsa. Their sister, Margaret came back with them.

Isabel Nelson enjoyed a visit from her niece and nephew, Grant and Elaine Todd on Wednesday evening. Elaine works in the meat department of Super A Store in Spruce Grove and Grant still calls Maple Creek, Sask., home.

Dorothy Cox and Isabel Nelson spent a pleasant day in Camrose last Tuesday. Dorothy was getting her last minute shopping, ticket buying for the West Indies and other odds and ends taken care of before she left for her home in St. Vincent. It would take her 12 hours from the international airport to her home.

We learned awhile ago that Doug Mills and family moved back to Provost some time ago and Doug has his own business now. Sure nice for George and Betty Mills to have their son and family so much closer.

Well before this news was in, Herb and Millie Redman arrived back in Hardisty after coming from Hawaii by boat and having a wonderful holiday. They were really bubbling over with enthusiasm for all that they had seen and done.

Mrs. Ken Karth and family along with her mother, Mrs. Gladys Goodrich, Paige and Rae Fisher, attended the wedding of Gladys's grandson Brian Klahn, at Gladstone, Brian is the son of Al and Jean Klahn (Goodrich) of Edmonton.

The happy couple will be residing in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Romboough of Kelowna had attended a grandchild's wedding at Wetaskiwin and came to Hardisty to attend the 50th wedding anniversary of their friends, the Cyril Dreviers. Nice to see such a half full of people from near and far, attending the Dreviers' 50th wedding anniversary. The Elks Hall was almost bursting at the seams. More about that at a later date.

At least two ex-teachers from Hardisty School attended the Dreviers' celebration. Mrs. Cliff Saville from Edmonton and Mrs. Andy Gibson of Camrose.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Drevier and family from Ft. McMurray are in Hardisty for the Dreviers' reunion. Recently Bill reads the Hardisty news as he commented on the recent cargo going through Hardisty.

Mrs. Ida Overman of Camrose was down for the Drevier anniversary and spent the weekend with Belva Leadley, Leif and Penny Leadley and family were also home with Belva and Andy Farmachuk.

Ray Horricks will be 10 years old tomorrow.

You can learn a lot in 10 years. Especially if you're a LFA. And you can do so much more. You really get to know people. And what you can do to help. And no one has done this job better than Ray, which is why we'd like to take this time to say thank you. And happy anniversary.

LFA. Your letters of recommendation

Address Daysland kindergarten

On March 2nd, Mrs. Betty Heister, the grade one teacher, gave her impressions of Kindergarten. She stated that there are many factors involved in the child's learning process. It was proposed that Daysland will host the next E.C.E.S. workshop on April 6th. This workshop is designed for the exchange of ideas from all the Kindergarten teachers in the East Central Area.

Mr. Shank, the French teacher, has been busy teaching the Kindergarten some French. They all experienced a trip down to the French Lab with Mr. Shank and used the car phone which really impressed them. They also were shown a film on Safety in the Home, on Wednesday afternoon. The next kindergarten meeting will be April 27th at 8:00 p.m. in the kindergarten room. This meeting is most important for next years parents as a kindergarten program will be drawn up. It is the parents, not the teachers, who decide what they want the children to learn so please attend and contribute your views and ideas. This must be decided at this April 27th meeting as kindergarten will be concluding in May. It is through your cooperation and understanding that kindergarten will continue, so please try and attend.

COME ALIVE ...

CONTENTMENT

The story is told of a king who one day went to his garden and dying, he asked the old tree what the trouble was.
The old tree said it was sick of life and it wanted to die.
It said it was not as tall as the pine tree was heartless because it could not bear grapes like the vine. The vine was happy because it could not stand up as nice and straight as the pine tree. The grass was sad because it was not as tall as the pine tree and so it went on.
The king came to the heartiness of the grass and said to it: "I like you, grass, because you are happy flower, how come?"
asked the king. "O, I am sad of mouth around around here, but I thought if you wanted as oak or pine or peach or like you plant one, so you did.
So with me, you wanted me for your pleasure and I am determined to be the best of the heartiness in your garden.
No two blades of grass are the same, so two blades of sand are the same. God never made two people the same.
Neither are the desires of all people alike, that there is one thing God would like to see in all of us and that, to be content with what we have and have what we are."

Paul the Apostle regarded this, to be content regardless of the state he was in. It requires to look up and not around you. It means expecting it from God. It means keeping up with God's values and requirements and not with the Jewelry, in the Bible we find these words: "God is not contentless is great gain. For we brought nothing into this world and we can't take a single penny with us when we die. If we have food and reflecting be content with these.
Sound like easy? Maybe that's why we never tried it. God's way. For God's way is to be content with what you have today. And not be anxious about tomorrow. God will take care of you tomorrow. That is if we trust Him and let Him.

Live one day at a time with bring content and thankful.

Louheed Rebekah Lodge

On the evening of March 17th 21 members of the Louheed Rebekah Lodge attended the 21st anniversary of the Rebekah and Oldfield Lodges and the Grand Encampment which was held at the Macdonald Hotel in Edmonton. The members had been invited by the incoming president Mrs. C. Clark and Phil Heizer, and took them out to Hardisty to visit their niece, Mrs. and Mr. Sherlock.
Under the capable direction of Sister Hazel Skoberg assisted by Sister Roberta Hildebrand with Sister Myrtle Haggan at the piano, the sisters presented a drill which showed a representation of Rebekah Lodge symbols. The sisters all wore floor-length gowns of green with their Rebekah collars of pink and green and a white daisy corsage. Those taking part were: Sisters Genevieve Beaton, Sandra Pope, Lorraine Frost, Ida Black, Carol Butcher, Verna Schultz, Sadie McClelland, Norma Probst, Rosemary Kammer, Margaret Benham, Mary Pope, Mabel Quast, Gwen Freeman, Sadie Marlow, Pauline Butcher and Allan Barton. Others attending were: Sisters Eileen Patterson, Verna Carlson, Clementine Horvath, Marie Neve, and Thelma Derrahg.

At the conclusion of the drill, the sisters formed a semi-circle in front of the President and sang an original song entitled "We'll Be Here, You A Daisy". Before the song ended, Sisters Skoberg and Hildebrand advanced to the front and presented Sister Neve with a vase of daisies and a golden key, these being her emblems during her term of office.
Sister Meers graciously thanked the Louheed sisters for the gifts and the impressive display of work. She remarked that, when she made her official visit to Louheed last year, she had enjoyed the hospitality and was greatly impressed with the ability shown in conducting the meeting and giving a demonstration of Lodge work.

Copies of the "Daisy" song had been passed out, and all in attendance, over 500, were asked to join in singing. The sisters then marched out to a generous round of applause.
It was an honor to be invited to take part in the Assembly program, and much credit for the successful performance must be given to the drill captain, the pianist, as well as the leaders in the drill.

AT ITS HEIGHT — This photo of the oil fire north of Killam was taken Thursday at the height of the fire. Even at a distance of over one mile (which was as close as The Press was allowed) the magnitude was evident. As we were unable to obtain any information, all we can go on is hearsay. The fire apparently started Thursday afternoon as the crews were cleaning up a pipe line break. The burning of the excess oil is one way of disposing of it, or it may have started from a steel striking a rock. We have heard both stories. The fire first resulted seriously burnt three employees, and we understand one has since died at Burns received.

Crews worked there Thursday, and the fire was finally extinguished Friday morning. Mopping up and repairs are continuing. The Press was denied access anywhere near the site for "our own protection" according to R.C.M.P. This seemed strange when the President of Interprovincial Pipeline Inc. was visiting by helicopter just a short distance from the fire. It was nice to know the editor is less susceptible than a president.

Galahad jr boys win county volleyball title

(Mrs. Wise, Galahad)

Saturday, March 13th at Sedgewick saw the County Schools gathering to compete for Volleyball Trophies. Galahad girls won their first match against Loughheed but lost to Sedgewick in the second game. The tournament was double elimination, which meant Galahad girls had another chance. They tried valiantly against Killam, but lost.

The Galahad boys had better luck, by defeating Hardisty, Reider and Sedgewick, the boys were winners on the Championship side. This tournament was set up such that the winners of the hour had a chance to win all by defeating the winners of the Championship side two times in a row. The finals saw Sedgewick defeat Galahad in a closely-fought match. This brought it down to the "best of three". Again, the teams played extremely well, with Galahad winning by a narrow margin to capture the County Trophy. Congratulations boys!

Miss Debbie Vogel accompanied Mr. Tim Odgaard of Forestburg to Red Deer where they spent the weekend with Mrs. Sarah Odgaard.

Mr. Jerome Herie of Chilliwack, B.C. visited Mr. and Mrs. A. Koster and family and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herie and family this week.

Mrs. Priscille Gamroth returned home after a week's visit with her son, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gamroth and family of Devon.

Mrs. Raymond Myers and Jane of Forestburg and Mrs. Roy Vitechuk of Edmonton were visitors at the home of Mr. Hugh Bonnes and Carry

Town of Killam
 March 15, 1966

Dear Sir:

Mayor G. C. Hilker wishes to make it clear that he did not make the statement quoted to him in the Edmonton Journal, Friday, March 12th, page 27, that "With 10 towns in our county every community is fighting against the other to survive."

Mr. Hilker apologizes to other towns in the county and other barbers for the Edmonton Journal's erroneous information and wishes to advise them that he has requested a printed correction in the Journal. He further wishes to thank the Community Press for quickly making available space in the Letters to the Editor column to make this statement.

Yours truly,
 Doris Wilson
 Acting Secretary-treasurer,
 Town of Killam.

Dear Sir:

I deplore the combative attitude exhibited by Mayor Hilker in the quotations attributed to him in the March 12 issue of the Journal "every community is fighting against the others to survive." That may be his barbers' attitude but I should be sorry to think that that sentiment would be a reflection of the attitude of the town which he represents. "Urdrada est Carthago" said Cato; and what that meant was "did it ultimately do us Rome?"

For one community to compete with others is commendable and honorable; to be ever carrying a chip on the shoulder, always antagonistically ready to "fight against the others" seems almost immoral, and surely militates against the furtherance of good inter-town relationships.

If small towns would concentrate on developing the natural advantages which they possess (and few enough they are in any case), would inter-communicate, and embrace a spirit of co-operation, instead of being belligerent and always in a state of belligerence, it would provide the strongest necessity of "every community fighting against the others to survive."

Art Falls.

Freezing meat should be done as quickly as possible to prevent bacteria build up and deterioration of meat. A competent meat plant can do this for you as they are set up for sharp freezing of your meat, in addition to all other meat processing to give you a quality product.

Even a poor crop of wild oats will steal a lot of moisture and soil nutrients, and substantially cut your yields of wheat, barley, flax or rape. That's why it's such a good idea to use Avadex BW liquid—the herbicide that controls wild oats before they emerge. Get Avadex from us now and grow a real crop . . .

"Owned by the Farmers We Serve"

Keeping in touch

Recently, the Honorable Ron Heister, Minister of Justice, made comments to the effect that he intends to spend the judicial process by streamlining the system. The effect should be to reduce the enormous backlog of people who are waiting to have their trials heard. This is a position that I strongly endorse in which the Minister every success in developing a system whereby justice can be made faster and at the same time a more efficient system is developed.

In my view, the problem is more than just devising a system that is efficient. I believe that the present system is at most totally non-effective in reshaping the abnormal behaviors of our society toward a more desirable norm. Even though most people have never studied psychology, the nevertheless intuitively know a lot more about the subject matter. Virtually, every person who has ever owned a pet knows that you do not catch the animal in an undesirable act and then punish it three days later. Most farm boys are well aware that you would not punish the family dog three days after he had stolen the eggs from the chicken coop. It is also widely understood by most people that if you caught your dog stealing eggs from the chicken coop that a long, continuous beating would not only have the positive effect of training the dog not to steal eggs, but also the negative effect whereby the pet would be resentful of its owner. Punishment and reward, to be effective, must follow the dictates of sensitive timing.

In recent decades, much of what has been known for generations by human beings in relation to the rearing of children or even pets has been verified by psychologists after repeated studies. Essentially, the principles are that in order for a behavior to be modified or shaped, the reward or punishment ought to occur as close as possible to the act that you are trying to effect. And so, in general, adults intuitively do not reward or punish their children or pets days, weeks or months after some specific behavior. However, when it comes to our legal system, all that we know about psychology and the behavioral modifications suddenly becomes overlooked. It is quite possible for a young offender to be caught red-handed in the act of robbing a corner grocery store during the middle of the night and be more than a year before his final court hearing and sentencing. After such a long time, the normal response in the delinquent person is likely to be one of resentment towards the system rather than recognition that the punishment he is receiving is the result of his worst deeds.

I have long been an advocate that if any system of punishment is to be effective, especially for young, first-time or minor offenders, it should be imposed very quickly, be short and harsh ("harsh" should not imply "inhuman"). I would uphold that the longer prison sentences ought to be reserved for those who have violent characteristics or who have committed repeated crimes. For the young offender, the role of our society ought to be one of education. In the same way that a parent intuitively recognizes he would not punish his child a week, month or year after the undesirable act, since that would only turn the child against his parents, the state Province recognize that young offenders should be dealt with in the courts very quickly, receive a short, but very uncomfortable prison sentence so that they can readily associate the punishment with the undesirable behavior. Hopefully, the punishment would commence within days of an offender being caught rather than months and years as is too often the present situation.

With the young offender, our role must be one of education, for our objectives are to ensure that our senior and juveniles and adults continue to keep in touch with the society in which they live.

Heisler District News

Keith Hahn attained an honor diploma from the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology in recognition of a weighted average for the past year of 82 per cent in Commercial Cooking.

The Heisler 14 and under Hockey team defeated Forestburg 18-7 on Sunday evening, March 14.

Little Kim Van-ek of Edmonton, spent a week with grandparents Mr. and Mrs. B. Brausen, while parents Ellen and John went skiing in Banff.

Heisler Grade 8 students have been holding a Cribbage Tournament during their regular mathematics option program to help them learn about sequences, combinations and permutations. They are enjoying the novel approach to math-learning as they play.

March 2nd was the day offered for Education day, a large number of Heisler folks attended the program at the Heisler school in the evening.

As a prelude to studying plays, the Junior High Language arts students had been writing and acting out their own television commercials. The advertisements included a number of topics from laundry soap to bread, cars and pencils. The purpose was to give the students an idea of how to write and speak clearly so that they can be understood clearly and gain confidence in speaking before an audience, also Heisler school has developed a unique way of combining the study of math, science and social studies through cooking. The grade 12 science option class is studying countries of the world through their food and the preparation of it. They have been efficient cooks, learning to follow directions exactly and browning good cooks in the process.

The Grade 1 class at Heisler had a glimpse of pioneer life when they brought several mailbags to class including a coffee grinder, several lamps, washboard, iron, a candy jar and a waffle iron. Particularly exciting were the butter churn and the ice cream maker as the children actually got to use them and taste the results. Parents, mainly members of the Heisler C.W.L., have undertaken the task of offering the Religious Instruction program for all students in grades 1 to 9. Their help offers the students education on a different pace and contributes greatly to their moral outlook on life.

CANADA FITNESS AWARD PROGRAM IN COUNTY SCHOOL

Heisler School has again participated in the Canada Fitness Award Program. Students are tested yearly, as a part of their Physical Education program, in the following six events: 50 yard sprint, 300 yard run, shuttle run, standing jump, one minute sit-ups and flexed arm hang. The results for each student are compared to national norms. Heisler has always had a large percentage of the student body win awards. This year 44 received bronze crests, 30 received silver crests, 20 received gold crests, and 2 received Crests of Excellence and Certificates of Excellence signed by Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau and the Minister of National Health and Welfare. The two who received the Crests of Excellence were Rose-Anne Hahn and Carol Walbeck.

4H leaders training session

The second 4-H Adult Leaders Training Seminar 1976 was held at Camp Yamnaka, Seebe, Alberta this past week, February 22-25th. There were 40 delegates and staff in attendance. The whole Province of Alberta was very well represented as there were delegates from most District Councils and also members of the Provincial Advisory Council in attendance. The program started out on Sunday evening, February 22 at 7:00 p.m. with the introduction to our resource staff, Mrs. Penny Haines, Supervisor of Leadership Development from the Alberta Recreation Council and Wildlife Service who was the co-ordinator for the weeks activities. Sunday evening also was the introduction to the Curriculum Workshop conducted by Diane Lauson and her team, consisting of Brian Wood, Debbie Payne, and Pat Bendis. We had four sessions on communication which proved very educational and outstandingly presented as I am sure we all will take something back to our club and council in this respect.

The afternoon of Tuesday was free with some going to Banff to site see, others to swim and a few went cross-country skiing. The free time was used to the fullest and enjoyed as the Tuesday evening was the introduction to Personal Effectiveness given by Glen March: Leadership Development, Alberta Agriculture. These sessions lasted until Wednesday afternoon followed by an evening of skits and song, Thursday morning Council Concerns were discussed and groups formed to work on some of these concerns.

Thursday evening was set aside for the banquet with Ted Yeack in attendance. Mr. Yeack brought greetings from the Dept. and Dorothy Rigney expressing greetings from the Advisory Council along with the reminder that next year 1977 is the 60th anniversary of 4-H. The rest of the program consisted of awards to outstanding participants of the past week, after which an enjoyable social evening took place. The week was one of study, recreation and fun which was presented in such a way that everyone will value it for a long time. The Dept. should be commended on the planning and presentation of the program and we as leaders should thank them for the opportunity of being able to attend such a learning experience. We as leaders hope to pass on what we have learned through meetings, workshops, and other learning devices to the adult leaders and the members of each individual club. This week was highly successful and each leader in attendance will go back to their clubs and councils with improved skills in the field of 4-H. It was a pleasure to attend such an interesting workshop.

Ball has many memories

by Shirley Fortner

I couldn't believe my eyes when I opened the envelope with the funny title crest on the flap of it. It said: "The Lieutenant Governor of Alberta and Mrs. Steinlemauer requests the pleasure of the company of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas E. Fortner at an informal country style dinner & dance on Friday, March 18th, 1976, at 1:00 p.m. at the Mayfair Golf and Country Club, Devon, Canada, Great Road, Edmonton, R.S.V.P. Phone — Collect."

I immediately thought of the previous summer when we had been given the Alberta Farmers Award and was quite thrilled by it all over again. This was no unexpected and was certainly something to look forward to, and to brighten up those dull February days.

I lost no time in phoning and advising we would be attending. The evening of the big event, I was so excited I had a pain in my tummy. Seems silly to admit it, but I'm sure I wasn't the only one.

The Lieutenant Governor met us when we went in. Both he and his wife were very welcoming guests. I overheard him introduce one young lady as his daughter. To my knowledge he has five offspring but I was uncertain as to whether or not there were more of his family with him on this particular night. He apparently has a party every year at this time for the M.L.A.'s. This year he wanted to include as his guests those that had been given the Alberta Farmers Award. There were also two guests who had been given the Order of Canada — a Dr. Otto Schaefer and a man who was an authority on Alberta's native peoples — Hugh Dempsey.

Drinks were served at 7:00 p.m. and the meal was served at 8:00 p.m. It was a buffet with roasts of beef, lamb and ham with accompanying dishes. The food was excellent. We were separated from our mates at supper and while I was at first seated at a table by myself — my husband was seated next to Peter Long head. What an opportunity to talk politics or talk on any subject for that matter with my premier.

After supper Horst Schmidt acted as Master of Ceremonies and introduced several of his fellow cabinet ministers to tell stories to the company present. Only one woman told a story — I, eh, chee... aren't we liberated yet.

Gordon Taylor called some round dances and generally got us all mixed up. The M.C. teasingly told us Gordon won-id later saw a woman in hall but Gordon advised he couldn't find his saw and that he needed two women. Not one volunteered.

Our neighbors to the east of us — Mr. and Mrs. Dany, Lew — is enjoyed the party as well. I looked over at Gert during one of the dances and she was dancing with our host. What a thing to be able to tell your grandchildren, eh!

At the end of the evening the Steinlemauers were placed inside the dancing circle and we sang — "For They are Jolly Good Fellows" and "Auld Lang Syne". It seemed to have ended too soon but it was a lovely evening and one that I shall remember for a long time. The Lieutenant Governor and his lady are fine people and we should all take great pride in them.

Rams win 2nd place in Provincials

On Thursday, March 11, 9 basketball players, 6 cheerleaders, their chaplains and coaches left for a long drive to the "AAA" Boys Provincials in Picture Butte. The Central Rams were going to represent our Zone in a 2 day, 5 tournament.

On Friday at noon, the Rams met with the Vermilion Marauders in a game Central won by a score of 45 to 31. This sent to the semifinals where they played the Bow Island Saints, winning again, 46 to 34.

In the final Saturday night, the Rams were matched against the Picture Butte Sugar Kings, defending champions of the trophy. This game started out bad for the Rams, with the score 20 to 13 for the Kings. However, the Rams began to show some of their winning ability to catch up a bit and end the game with a score of 41 to 41 for the Kings. This landed the team in 2nd place for the tournament.

After the trophies were handed out and cheering had settled down, the M.C. announced the All-Star team. Making it from the Rams were Bob Steadman (C) and Brian Lang (C). Other players on the Central team were Steve Murray, Dave Fitch, Murray Hampshire, Dewayne Barnes, James Leitch, Gary Fargnerson and Dan McCrae. Coaches were Valter Meier and Bill MacLean.

The weekend was a success for everyone and much enjoyed.

Provincial Treasurer Merv Leitch has turned in a deficit of $20 million 1975-76 budget surplus to participating a $75 to $100 million deficit and blinding that spending restraint may outlive the 1977-78 and inflation program.

The treasury is still healthy enough to sink away $1.5 billion in the heritage fund April 1 then more resource income in succeeding years, but the savings for long-term investments could involve sacrifices.

Provincial Auditor General Regner's also month financial statement for March through December, 1975 shows a starting, reducing trend for spending growth to outstrip revenue increases from oil and gas price and royalty income.

By Dec. 31, the province's overall cash surplus had dropped by $80.5 million to become a $102 million deficit compared to extra funds on hand of $239.4 million a year earlier.

In his post-election budget last May, Mr. Leitch expected the 1975-76 fiscal year to end with an overall shortfall of $218 million. He now says the total to reach $239 million.

But the worst news comes in to the operating and capital budgets. That excludes potential assets in the overall figures, such as housing mortgages, share and bond holdings and advances to business loan funds.

Mary Simons and her rink took top honors at the recent Sedgewick Ladies Roundup, President of the Ladies Curling Club.

Talking bad event, Simons was the Camrose foursome of Marion Ganske, Rosemary Jack (Sedgewick), Susan Shaw (Dayland) and Gay Dachen (Camrose).

A scotchier rink took top honors in the 2nd event with Joyce Lenevich, Lavina Larson, Garthorne MacFerson and Lillian Kierley. (Garthorne is a daughter of Mary Simons who was the 1st event).

The ladies enjoyed three days of good curling, topped off with a banquet and social Saturday evening.

Hardisty C. of C. plans park

The Hardisty District Chamber of Commerce will hold their regular meeting March 18, 1976 in the Park Cafe. A good attendance was recorded and L. Doudall, Vice-president, chaired the meeting.

Bob Lehman gave a report, after meeting with the Chamber of Commerce in terms, on improvement of Highway No. 81. Another meeting will be held with County Councillors to discuss the necessity of making this secondary highway into a main highway. A report on this will be made at our next meeting.

A hospital report was given and no further action has been made on this issue to date. Discussion to purchase a Greater for the various clubs to use and a letter written to this effect to all interested organized clubs.

A drawing was presented by Cecil Fremont on the proposed plan of a portable pocket park that could be made and grants received through the Devolution Institute to improve our main street. The committee appointed on this project are to submit to council on the progress of this park for their approval.

Brochures on the Town of Hardisty could possibly be ready for print by the end of this month, after proof reading is completed.

Leonard Brown, membership committee, asked for assistance to sell memberships. Mrs. L. Sydor has offered to help. Anyone wishing to obtain a membership may contact these people: $3. per person; $5. for family; $12. for a business.

Plans of CP Rail will be shown in the Elk's Hall in Hardisty on April 24th, at 8:00 p.m. This plan on Crow's Nest Pass Agreement will be about changes in grain transportation and freight rates which can be helpful to farmers and others in reaching a decision as to the kind of grain handling and transportation system that is wanted in Western Canada. A question period will follow and coffee.

Next meeting of the Chamber will be April 15th, at 8:30 p.m. in the Park Cafe. A welcome to anyone.

B. Blain, Secretary

Andrewson out-classed Sedgewick and Hylthe was one of the best and most exciting games of the tournament. The boys on the Andrewson team play a very good positional game and hit very hard.

Sedgewick represented their zone very well and should be proud of a third place finish in a tournament of this kind.

Province predicts deficit Pee Wees in Provincials

The Pee Wee team and a large number of parents and fans travelled to Foremost last Friday, March 26th to take part in the Provincial Play-offs. Teams from six zones in Alberta took part: Foremost, Hylthe, Redlily, Standard, Andrews and Sedgewick.

He refuses further comment. But he doesn't deny restraints could become a permanent or at least long-term fixture. He says only that he doesn't want to peer into his already somewhat flawed crystal ball too far in advance.

While Mr. Leitch emphasizes there could be new "dramatic" leaps in resource revenues as prices again rise, the 1975-76 nine month statement reflects moving income from oil and gas.

At $177 million, the nine-month gain in resource earnings was just slightly more than a third of the growth in overall payments. Last revenue collection will improve picture but a new deficit is clearly on the way.

objectives. The first is to earn a profit. The second is to have on hand sufficient funds to pay debts as they fall due.

How does a farm manager know whether he is making money or incurring losses? How does he know whether or not he will be able to pay off all debts as they become due? The answer to these questions is accounting. Accounting also provides information needed as a basis for making business decisions.

Stated simply, managing a farm is a matter of deciding what should be done, seeing to it that the resources are available, and getting these resources employed in the business of doing it. At every step in this process the farmer is faced with alternatives involving a choice. A successful farmer must make the right choice in at least a majority of cases. Some questions he might have to answer for example are: Should he expand a certain area of his business? Should he borrow money from the bank? Which crop is the most profitable for him to grow? Should he invest in new machinery? All of these questions can be answered more accurately when the manager is equipped with accounting records of his farm business.

CANPARKS VERSION III is a farm record system that can be used in farm management programs to aid in answering some of these questions.

Battle River Regional Planning Commission

REGIONAL PLAN

The Planning Act gives each Regional Planning Commission the duty of preparing a Preliminary Regional Plan to guide land use and development throughout the region.

The Battle River Planning Commission believes that before it can adopt a definite plan it must know how the people in the region feel about future development. There seem to be four alternatives. First, we can remain an agricultural area, and discourage all non-farm land uses. Second, we can go for a "mixed economy" with small-scale industry in the towns and cities, but still preserve the bulk of the land for agriculture. Third, we can keep the Black Soil Zone for agriculture and put industry east and west on poorer soils. Fourth, we can go for large-scale industrial development.

The Planning Commission has written out these four alternatives in a short report which can be discussed by any farm group, fish and game association, service club, co-op, or any other group or individual with an interest in land use.

These groups and individuals are invited to give the Commission their comments, criticisms, and suggested changes in the draft. Later in the year, when these options have been collected and discussed, the Commission will bring out a final version of the Plan, which will set out a preferred "development strategy" for the region. This Plan, once adopted, will be binding on the Commission itself and on municipalities in the region.

If you want to influence land use policies in your area, this is the time to do it. Copies of the Plan can be had from the County Office or by writing to the Planning Commission at 5014 - 48 Avenue, Wetaskiwin.

Women's World Day of Prayer was held at Strome United Church on Friday. Ladies were represented from St. Peter's, Spring Lake, Lady of Fatima and Baptist Churches. They had a short program and a delicious lunch was served by the U.C.W.

Please note that the Strome Treasury Branch Agency will have new hours effective immediately: Mon-Thurs 9 to 4:30, Friday 9 to 4:00. All day Saturday will be closed. Hardisty Happenings

Mrs. Bob Quast and Isabel Nelson motored to Hanna last Sunday to visit Mrs. Lydia Quast, who has been in the hospital for some time.

Stopped in Alliance on the way home and had dinner with Mrs. Quast's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John (Lisbert). It made a lovely outing for both of us, with such beautiful springtime weather, but didn't see any crows on our trip.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Bob Campbell and family also Hazel Meland on the sudden passing of Bob at home.

The Hardisty Figure Skating Club held a lovely bachelorette at the arena on Saturday. Everything from pies, cookies etc. to Lotas.

J.C. Cavanagh enjoyed supper at Killam Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson were down over the weekend.

Just put a glimpse of Max Leedholm. He must have been home for awhile to see his parents.

Galahad to host church conference

The 1976 Canada West District Conference of the Missionary Church will be held in the Galahad Missionary Church June 11th and 12th.

During the 1976 District Conference of the Missionary Church, approval was granted to Galahad to host the Missionary Church Conference in 1976. The dates were set for June 11th and 12th with the Sunday Service on June 12th open to all who are able to attend. Approximately eighty delegates from Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia plus several guests will be attending the Church business and worship sessions. Many of these delegates and guests will be invited into the homes of people in the community giving excellent opportunities to meet new friends.

In preparation for this important event the finishing work on the Missionary Church basement has been completed. Other small repairs and painting tasks are also being completed. Church hours are being contacted to arrange for accommodations. If you wish to be contacted and are not please advise the Church.

This will be the first attempt in the history of the Galahad Missionary Church to host an event of this size and importance. More plans will be forthcoming in the months to come.

Allen Henderson of Forestburg had the Reserve Junior Champion steer at the Canadian Western Stock Show and Sale held in Edmonton. There were approximately 50 steers shown in seven classes. The Junior Beef Calf Feeding Competition, his 1100 pound steer, an Angus Hereford cross, was purchased by Canada Safeway for 80 cents a pound. His steer Wendy had a breeders' steer which placed first in his class and sold to Canada Safeway for 81 cents a lb. Wendy and Allen also won showmanship in their classes with Allen being the second top showman of all Junior exhibitors. Together the two of them won almost $100.00 in prize money plus trophies with their steers.

In Hardisty on Saturday, a new business known as Hardisty Appliance & Furniture was officially opened by Mayor Fred Mitchell. The owners, Patricia (Pat) and Fran DeKock, left, and Fran's sister Orlina (Ollie) look on. The new business is located in the premises formerly occupied by the Town of Hardisty. They offer a nice line of furniture, appliances and wedding supplies. Services will be handled by Fred Cron, a long-time resident of Hardisty. The DeKocks would be pleased to show you around their premises.

Talk It Over — with Gordon

Lately my office has been almost swamped with calls from Senior Citizens who have not received their old age security and guaranteed income supplement plus the Alberta Assured Income plan. Some senior citizens have had to wait two or three months for their cheques. I raised the matter in the Assembly with the Honourable Helen Husky, Minister of Social Services and Community Health, and this was her answer as stated in Hansard, "Mr. Speaker, if he is referring to the old age security and the guaranteed income supplement, that's a federal matter. Of course, I certainly don't have any jurisdiction over that, although at a recent meeting, Mr. Speaker, I did mention informally to the Honourable Marc Lalonde the fact that my office accused to get a number of inquiries about that matter."

If it's a matter of the Alberta Assured Income plan, I believe those are running fairly regularly. We use the tapes from the federal government with which they pay guaranteed income supplements. As long as we get the tapes regularly and our own computer system is working, I believe our cheques are going out on time."

Anyway, I've written to M. P.'s Arnold Malone and Don Manankowski about the problem. It's a pretty sad state of affairs to those Albertans that rely on these cheques for their livelihood. I also asked the Honourable Al "Boomer" Adair if any expansion could be anticipated for Dig Kaile Provincial Park and his reply was that this was on the drawing board.

I also asked the Honourable Dave Russell, Minister of Environment, why the stop logs were removed last fall from the Dried Meat Lake Weir, and his excuse, which was too long for this column, was that they were removed to facilitate surveys and find the true level of the lake. I pointed out to him that the survey was finished before Christmas and the weir was there for a purpose and he had better get some water in the lake before the annual fish die off.

Last weekend, I was at the opening of the Hecate Trail Plant. The moon banquet at C.I.C. for the players of the Canadian College Championship playoffs which, by the way, the Department of Recreation contributed financially to the cost incurred in holding these games. And that evening with Mom babysitting, Arnold and I were at the second annual charter night of the Dayland Agricultural Society where I read a letter from the Minister of Agriculture to their full grant of $16,000 would be forwarded to them in a couple of weeks. The next night to Rosalia for a brief meeting with the Rosalia Recreation Association in regard to their proposed new Hockey Arena. During the week the Dayland and Forestburg High Schools visited the Assembly. Tuesday, in Calgary on Government Business. The last 2 weekends I have been trying to get time to deliver the following grants, Bashaw Recreation Board — $5,500.00; Bashaw Library Board — $20,000.00; City of Camrose Airport — $87,312.00; Forestburg Library — $423.00; Heiler Recreation Board — $667.00 and Buffalo Golden Age Club — $600.00.

I also asked the Honourable Dave Russell, Minister of Environment, why the stop logs were removed last fall from the Dried Meat Lake Weir, and his excuse, which was too long for this column, was that they were removed to facilitate surveys and find the true level of the lake. I pointed out to him that the survey was finished before Christmas and the weir was there for a purpose and he had better get some water in the lake before the annual fish die off.

In my attached copy of his letter to me I trust the necessary corrections are well made.

If I could assist you with anything in the future please be sure to call upon me. With kindest regards, I am, Arnold Malone.

We wrote Mr. Malone in December with regards to the slow and non-delivery of paper to one particular subscriber. Since that time a number of our readers have complained about not getting their paper on time or at all.

For our out-of-district readers a paragraph of the above mentioned letter may explain the reason why it has been late.

Regional officials reported that difficulties were experienced during the months of December and January due to the backlog which developed during the recent strike, and the Christmas volume of mail. In addition, changes were being inaugurated in the distribution and handling of second class mail in order that an improved service could be provided. The changes have now been effected and considerable improvement noted. Miss Probst is now satisfied with the service.

Can we help you get your business dream off the ground?

Raising money to turn a good business idea into a reality or expanding a present business is never an easy task. But when the regular financial institutions are not able to help, the ALBERTA OPPORTUNITY COMPANY is still available. We aren't easy either - but we do go further in loaning funds that can't be obtained elsewhere. The idea must be sound and marketable - and the people involved reliable; but with these requirements covered we're ready to listen seriously.

One reason the Alberta Opportunity Company was formed was to aid development in the province's smaller communities; and this remains an important objective. But most important, we believe that, given the opportunity, Albertans need not take a back seat to anyone for resourcefulness, talent, or imagination in the field of commercial enterprise.

Keeping in touch

It has been a long overcast winter in Ottawa. At the time of writing this column it is an exceptionally warm day with a clear blue sky. Needless to say, spring fever has set in and one year's spring let-out from the obligations of his desk. The facts, however, are that the mail is pouring in at the highest rate this office has ever received. In the last 3 weeks we have received about 1000 questionnaire responses and a large percentage with letters attached. I conclude that the reason for this influx is the continual nature of the legislation that is presently being the House of Commons and the very direct way in which it affects the citizens of Battle River.

I am fortunate, however, in that I have a group of students from the Alberta Debate and Speech Association who are presently in Ottawa on a scholarship. These students are assisting in my office by helping to tabulate the questionnaire results and researching on issues of importance to provide background information for debate. The tourist season appears to be emerging again and on occasions during recent days I have had the pleasure of visiting with constituents from the area of Battle River. I would have anyone who is in the Ottawa to stop by my office and, in particular, if you happen to have an issue you wish to share with me.

In that you might have some insight into my activities to the constituency during recent weeks, let me outline the following: March 31: A course for a go-camp of youths in the community of Foreburg.

March 31: Held in the first of the Jermaine Winter Carnival.

March 12th: Meeting with the executives of the Agricultural Society at Inuvik and opening of the newly renovated Inuvik Recreational Club.

March 15th: Guest Speaker at Civic Chamber of Commerce Dinner Meeting.

Over 1000 I am receiving a number of requests to speak at high school Graduation: this Spring and early next fall. I look forward to meeting with our enthusiastic and energetic young citizens who are about to embark on their first career.

My mail has been flooded with letters protesting the government's proposed Gun Control legislation. Most of them uphold that the new proposals would allow only the criminal to keep in touch. Amen!

2nd, was rather a special one. Besides the regular meeting which started at 7:30, speeches were heard from 8-9:45 members. In the meeting, a trip to the rodeo was discussed and it was decided that the interested members would attend on March 27th. Also proposed was a trip to the packing plant. The tour of our offices was tabled for the next meeting. The meeting was adjourned. Immediately following speeches began. The judges were: Mr. Song, Mrs. Rod and Mrs. Narber.

The eight speakers were: Junior: Murray Kitz, Barbara Ekelund and Jane Hirdlicka. Seniors: Bruce Zimmer, Annette Branson, Joe Toth, Vicki Ekelund and Brent Hirdlicka.

The winners were: First Junior — Murray Kitz speaking on Blurrage in today's world.

Second place — Barbara Ekelund speaking on cuts.

First place senior — Bruce Zimmer speaking on how to write a speech.

Second place — Annette Branson speaking on Friendship.

The speeches were enjoyed by all who attended.

SPRING CLEANING TIPS:
By Diane Bourne, D.H.E.
It's that time of year again. Isn't it? Here are some cleaning tips from Mary Galt, DHE at Rocky Mountain House. Alberta, you may find useful:
Fiberglass Draperies:

Fiberglass draperies can be machine washed or dry cleaned because the tumbling action may damage the fibres. Handwashing is recommended. Fill the bathtub with hot water and use a mild detergent. Gently squeeze the cloth to add then rinse twice. Never wring or twist fiberglass during the washing. Hang draperies over the shower curtain rod to remove excess water. Hang them back up while they are still damp. Straighten the hems. They will dry wrinkle free. Stone Fireplace:

To clean off smoke stains, wet the surface of the stone thoroughly and then use a scrubbing brush and any liquid household cleaner. In very stubborn cases, even cleaner has been found to work well. Automatic Dishwasher:

To remove lime deposits from the dishwasher interior use the following treatment: With the dishwasher empty put 1/2 cup bleach in the first wash. After it drains, add 2 cups vinegar and run the dishwasher through the rinse cycle. Stop before the drying cycle, however, and treat it for a full wash cycle, using a regular dishwasher detergent. You can wash of dishes in this last cycle. If you want to use this treatment only occasionally as too frequent use can damage the machine.

SPRING PLANTERS:
Does the first whiff of spring make you want to go out and buy a bunch of cut flowers? Here are some hints to keep them alive and well:
- trim stems on a slant, then soak flowers in water before arranging. This helps them get a maximum amount of water into their stems.
- trim all leaves growing below the water line, any excess leaves leave above.
- add sugar as a nutrient, and aspirin to delay bacterial growth. Or use a commercial flower preserver in the water.
- water flowers daily. In hot, dry seasons, spray often with an atomizer.
Upholstery Care:

Alberta Agriculture is sponsoring an Upholstery Course for Galtland and area. The course will be held at the Galtland School House. Economic Room. The preliminary meeting will be Monday, May 17th and the course itself is June 7 - 10. The cost of the course will be $15.00. To register, please contact Mrs. Genevieve Dine at 883-2223. Class limit is 12.

GALAHAD STUDENTS

STUDY FOOD WASTAGE

The Grade 5 & 6 Social Studies Class chose the topic pollution to study during their local interest part of the curriculum. One of the things learned was that Canadians are a wasteful and throw away society. To show the students that they too do this, the teacher along with two helpers designed and carried out a study of discarded lunch at the school. This took place over a four-day period from February 3 — 6.

The students retrieved unopened food from classroom waste baskets and grouped the material according to the type of food. The following food was discarded by approximately 30 students:

- Sandwiches 41, Cookies 11, Apples 25, Oranges 3, Bananas 2 (half eaten), Cheese 3.
- A total of 105 items were collected in only four days. The total weight was 17 lbs. 4 ounces. This is an average of 4 pounds 5 ounces per day. In one school year this would amount to 1 1/2 of a ton.

The worst offenders were the Grade 3 & 4 with the Grade 7 & 8 a close second. We do not think Galahad is unique in this regard but characteristic of other schools and perhaps of our society as a whole.

Students comments as a result of our survey:

1. very expensive
2. waste of good food
3. people are starving and we are throwing food away.
4. we eat candy instead of proper food
5. wasted effort on our mother's part

Tourist Association meets at Provost

While the business was being conducted representatives of each community in turn went into consultation with Leon D'Albertainson of Wainwright who is putting the final touches to a road map of the area, shortly to go to the printers. Flagstaff campaign objective set

The Alberta Division of the Canadian Cancer Society has a 1976 Campaign objective of $1,100,000 representing an increase of $80,816 over last year's actual campaign revenue. Nationally, the Canadian Cancer Society has an objective of $12,000,000.

"April is campaign month for the Canadian Cancer Society," said Mrs. French, Campaign Chairman for the Sedgewick Unit. "Without the generous donations of the Canadian public, our support of cancer research would not be possible. Near would the Society be able to continue its program of public education and service to cancer patients."

"Let's take a look at a few of the cold hard facts of the cost of cancer research," suggested Mrs. French. "An electronic microscope can cost between $45,000 and $75,000 — a thermography machine able to detect heat patterns in the body and used in search for early breast cancer, costs $40,000 — laboratory mice are priced from $2.00 each to $2.50 each, and remember this — a large laboratory needs about 20,000 mice at any given time — per mice and test tubes for one major laboratory have soared in cost from $35,000 a year to more than $75,000 — and radioactive material, once $25,000, now tops the $100,000 mark."

The objective for Flagstaff is $2,000.

FENTON RANCH LTD.

COME ALIVE ...

Blame yourself

"Don't blame me." "I have no part in my failure." "Blame it on the evil environment, the system, others, the church or even God — not me." These are comments from people who are living defeated lives. It appears that only a few conscientious souls are willing to accept responsibility for their failures. Folks who are honest with themselves and God are found in this category. These recognize their failure and it's cause, accept the blame, reject the idea of having to live with the guilt which invariably follows, take a positive step to God in prayer, and find renewed strength and hope to face the challenges of life.

"Passing the buck" began in the Garden of Eden with our first parents. Since the fall, many have been led to think that their failures are due to external influences, so releasing them of personal responsibility. External influences may contribute to one's failure; but everyone has the "right" to accept or reject those elements which would hinder spiritual growth. This "right" makes us responsible to God.

Failure begins from within, then makes it's presence known on the outside. It is not an instantaneous change from success, but a gradual drifting away. To fall is human. It is common to every person. Yet when it is left unsanctioned, and we are not willing to accept the blame for our failures, and do something about it, we suffer its consequences. Reader, if you have been failing yourself, others, and God, do something about it. NOW! Talk to God in prayer. Leave the past behind. Make a new start with Christ, and always remember that you were born to enjoy a full and successful life.

Avadex

for farmers who want to grow

wheat barley flax rape

instead of wild oats!

Legislature report

by Kevin Peterson

Hospital boards and civil servants are discovering the Longhead Government means business with its restraint program as the plan steadily takes on bleaker features with almost every legislative question period.

Alarmed at excess reliance on oil and gas revenues and the administration's route for slow spending growth, the opposition is calling for a second look at the anti-inflation budget and the province's entire tax structure.

The plan Provincial Treasurer Merv Leitch announced with 11% guidelines last fall may have turned out even tighter than the public service and health care administrators likely thought.

Mr. Leitch, under questioning by NDP leader Grant Notley, confirmed that a freeze has been slapped on all civil service pay rates due for job work, promotions and job formalizations.

Even though wage controls Alberta has agreed to let Ottawa administer here aren't understood to apply against promotions and reclassifications, the hold could last until the Civil Service Association signs a new contract.

The agreement expires on March 31. But negotiations normally take much longer. Mr. Notley calls the freeze "disgraceful" and "prevents" while also warning civil servants' incentive to improve performance is being wrecked.

Opposition leader Bob Clark, meanwhile, joined Mr. Notley to write equally severe are areas for health services out of Hospital Minister Gordon Minshy. All but a few hospitals with special services are subject to cost controls.

But Mr. Minshy now adds hospitals are being allowed only $4-per-cent increases in grants to offset inflated operating costs. Another two to three per cent covers "annualization" of the price of financing programs approved late last year for a full term in 1977.

The minister also put banks on notice in the legislature record that the government will not guarantee repayment of loans hospitals take out to try and finance services and staff which may be threatened due to the spending ceilings.

Both Mr. Clark and Mr. Notley warn that the battle of restraint spending is being fought on the backs of educators, local governments and health services.

Replying to the budget in the House, Mr. Clark said the province's bureaucracy appears to be growing at nearly twice the rate - about 22 per cent - that other authorities are allowed under the 11-per-cent rule.

Mr. Notley called for a provincial royal commission on taxation. Nodding Mr. Leitch's dramatic call for savings March 19th, the NDP leader said Conservatives are slipping into a "regressive" tax system.

Instead of looking for alternative revenue sources to the wealthy, from firms and the resource with "ability to pay," the government is letting restraint hit local property taxes and user fees such as medicine premiums and nursing home charges, he said.

Mr. Notley suggested a royal commission would make the government rethink its revenue-raising policy, which Mr. Leitch implicitly warned will become obsolete as oil and natural gas supplies run out.

4-H Club

BATTLE RIVER 4-H MULTI-CLUB

Nadim chairman, honorable judges, fellow 4-H'ers - the speeches rolled on very smoothly on Sunday afternoon, March 21 as the Battle River 4-H Multi Club had their 4-H Multi Club meeting.

The M.C. for the afternoon was Karen Steadman. Nine members spoke on their chosen topics and gave impressive speeches which were both very enjoyable. The judges for the afternoon were: Mrs. Gail Koblitzsch, Hardisty, Mrs. Carol Hepp of Galahad and Mr. Glen Miller of Hardisty. We would very much like to thank the judges for coming out Sunday afternoon. The results for the afternoon were as follows:

Junior - 1st place - Kathy Knudsen; 2nd place - Travis Knudsen.

Senior - 1st, Diane Barnes; 2nd, place - Karen Kerfer. The top Junior and senior member will be going to the District Speak-offs in Killam on April 4th and we all wish them good luck. An enjoyable lunch was served following the speaking before the speaking results were given.

Hardisty figure skaters delighted their audience March 28th with their programme, "Palpsport". The skaters, including everything from Indians to the popular Beatles. The solo numbers were skated to several popular songs and provided an enjoyable balance to the group numbers.

Civil servants are finally unionized

by Kevin Peterson

Alberta civil servants have at last won the right to call their bargaining organization a "union" but their long-standing campaign to get the right to strike has led only to what looks like complete failure.

The government has introduced legislation that dissolves the 57-year-old Civil Service Association and replaces it entirely with a new Alberta Union of Provincial Employees, incorporated under the Societies Act.

Civil service leaders will have to engineer a change in government, however, before they can have strike rights they insist on as a prerequisite for any authentic union.

Premier Peter Lougheed, concerned outside the Legislature and asked whether government and Crown agency employees will ever get the right to strike, said: "Not so far as we're concerned."

The new union remains subject to public service and Crown agencies employee relations statutes. They don't provide procedures for strikes and lock-outs the same way the Labour Act does for other unions.

In an open letter the CSA has made famous with an advertising campaign in their desire for strike rights, the premier in 1971 promised civil servants full collective bargaining privileges.

But Mr. Lougheed said that in 1976 and always the Conservative stand as a matter of government policy has never included strikes among civil service negotiating powers.

"When people are involved in providing essential services to the government and the people of Alberta they should not be able unilaterally to withdraw those services."

Les Young (P.C. - Edmonton Jasper Place), who introduced the bill for the administration, said it reflects "maturing" in recent years the civil service bargaining association.

Established March 19, 1919, the CSA began with about 300 members, who unlike founding social groups in other provinces, banded together from the start to overcome what they considered poor wages and working conditions.

The CSA has grown to have 22,000 members and continues to be viewed by the government as a vocal, aggressive bargainer on behalf of employees of government departments, Crown agencies and some institutions of the province finances.

Despite its long history of attempts to become a fully-recognized union with the right to strike, the CSA's only visible sign in demanding equal status with other unions is the Legislature is NDP leader Grant Notley.

Mr. Notley says the name "union" doesn't fit the association without strike rights and warns that its bargaining position is very seriously weakened without power to withdraw services against its employer.

But the link to the NDP, not likely to form a government in any near future anyway, appears tenuous. The CSA is a member of the Alberta Federation of Labor, which is tied to the NDP - but that's the extent of any visible link.

Slow decision is a sign

Uniform President Debonen says the Provincial Cabinet's apparent reluctance to reach a decision on the Doods-Roundhill thermal energy proposal may be taken as disregard for the relative social and environmental impact of the development.

Uniform recently urged Premier Lougheed and Members of the Cabinet to reject the Calgary Power-Can Pac proposal, and encourage relocation of the strip-mining development to the coal deposit in the Sheerness area or another site of less agricultural and social impact.

Failure to respond to the farm organizations request, says Mr. Leitch, has prompted Uniform to ask again for public hearings by the Environment Conservation Authority.

"Although we favor relocation without further question, it appears to be necessary to give the whole matter a public airing to convince some members of the Cabinet that the Doods-Roundhill site should be left alone," the Uniform President says.

Uniform also believes that scientific research should precede massive strip-mining invasions of agricultural lands to determine whether successful reclamation can, in fact, be accomplished. Such research, Uniform feels, should precede applications to the Energy Resources Conservation Board and provide sufficient lead time to prevent the proposed techniques before a siting-mining permit is approved. In the past, Uniform has requested that all other alternative sources of energy, including hydro, be thoroughly explored before disrupting the food producing capability of good agricultural lands. It is concerned that prime land, which is destined to be our most precious resource in the future, might be sacrificed to provide more energy for an already energy-wasteful society.

Uniform feels the environmental aspects of the proposal should be viewed in their broadest sense, and urges the government to recognize its responsibility to give all groups and individuals the opportunity of expressing their opinions before the proposed development is allowed to proceed.

On Friday, March 26th, Killam Public held an Open House program. Beginning at 1:00 p.m., the parents visited any classroom they wished.

Some special programs were also presented. Grade One had a reading party and then went to the gymnasium with the Grade Two class, where they put on a gymnastics display.

Grade Two also presented some language arts activities. Grade Three had some special features centering around language arts and math.

Grade Four put on two plays for their parents. The parents also got involved in a math puzzle contest with the students.

Grade Five used their time to write paragraphs and then read their composition out to the parents. They also presented some impromptu speeches on various topics.

Grade Six presented a debate to their parents and in addition, some impromptu speeches were also presented.

The program showed the progression from the basic introductory routine through vamping and into the highly demanding acrobatics.

It is hoped by the teachers and students that the parents who attended felt it worthwhile, and will plan to attend our next program. We appreciate very much the parent's interest and support in our school.

Hazelwood good deed club meet

and white birthday cake topped with pink roses, and a club picture was taken.

The Hazelwood Good Deed Club held their March meeting on March 31st at the home of Mrs. Adelaide McLennan. Ten of our fourteen members answered roll call. Our president, Mrs. Irene Cressy opened the meeting by welcoming all, and commented on the excellent weather, as everyone had remembered the "wearing of the green", roll call for March.

The business meeting was brief. Mrs. Eide Drager suggested that we purchase the material now for our next year's quilt and start the work of cutting out the blocks and leaving early, so that some of our best seamstresses who leave for B.C. and other places, after the New Year may be here for a few. After discussion, it was agreed to do so and that each one should bring fabric and material for one lot to the next meeting, as a beginning.

A motion was made in the consideration of Mrs. Sheila Sutter's thoughtfulness in attending meetings and assisting in numerous club projects through a non-member, that a suitable gift be purchased for her new baby.

Club President brought samples of unbleached material that the club had ordered for tea towels. After inspecting the bleached and unbleached specimens, it was unanimously agreed to order more. The least prize, a yellow bon basket, was won by Mrs. Gerry Metz, while a second name was drawn for a surprise package which went to Mrs. Inga Haugen.

April roll call will be to make and model an Easter bonnet, and the next meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Josephine McLennan.

After the meeting adjourned lunch was served and a chorus of Happy Birthday for Mrs.

Hardisty and District News

Karen and Lauren McKenzie flew to Kilmordun Ont. to visit their Dad's father and mother. Bet they will have a great time, they and Bradley being the only granddaughters.

Mrs. Shirley McKenzie and Bradley visited in Calgary with Shirley's sisters. Came home Friday night via bus.

Reina and Andy Farnace skated with Andy's sister and her husband Arnold and Clara Henry at Alta. Andy's brother Clarence and his Fay from Calgary were there also, so the three, two brothers and sister had a very enjoyable get together.

Mrs. Sharon Alhaur and Tracy of Stacey and Corporal Steven Stuart of Foremost spent the weekend at the parental home. Sharon visited her mother Mrs. Pearl Reeve.

J.C. Cavanaugh enjoyed the School Spring Break as he went to Yellowknife and took in the big celebration when tickets were drawn on the winning dog teams. No winner down this way this year.

It was 25 below and numerous dog teams from all over, one team coming from Billsville. The winner was from Ft. Nelson, B.C. and the teams raced on Great Lake 3 days in a row. There was only 2 minutes difference in time between the first and second winner.

Jim says there were so many activities going on in the town, 3 big tents were filled with different forms of entertainment. One was for Blago players and Tommy Cannon with a musical family from the States were really great. Jim certainly enjoyed himself and has lots of interesting stories to tell about such different events in what took place here. How many would like to enter a rabbit skinning contest?

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Vovos are home again after spending most of the winter at Mesa, Arizona.

Ruth Longman had been to Edmonton to see her very ill brother Bill Weyen.

Another very ill person we are sorry to say is Leonard Bennefeld. He is in the Dr. W. W. Cross hospital and has been for sometime. Leonard went to school here and grew up here also.

St. Marks Ladies Guild held their ball-a-thon Saturday in St. Marks Parish Hall and was enjoyed very much by the ballroom and audience as well. We are sure that they would make a nice sum of money and not too much effort expended. The lucky winner of the rug was Shirley McCrae. Congratulations Shirley.

Another astounded winner of a nice sum of money was Mrs. Louis Swanson. C.F.C.W. Camrose called her and asked her to name the song and to her surprise she was able to do so, and received the hidden jackpot as well, so Congratulations to Dora too.

Mrs. Elsie Parkin, Hilda and John Reason spent an enjoyable visit in Wainwright with their one time neighbors, Harold and Elsie Reeton.

Mrs. Annie Ripley of Breton was visiting her sister Neve Johnston and took in the Kilt-Thon as well.

We are sorry to report the passing of Mrs. Jack Gowler of Mirror recently. Mrs. Gowler was the former Helen McArthur and was brought up and went to school in Hardisty. Sympathy is extended to her sister, Mrs. Frances Locke of Quesnel, B.C.

Mr. Leonard Elmquist, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Elmquist of Camrose, passed away April 4th after being severely burned in an explosion in his home. He was a nephew of Mrs. Myrtle and Emilia Elmquist, cousin to the Mrs. Powells, Ivy May and Marjorie Madden.

He was born in Amisk and went to Morgan school and spent some time in the airforce during the Second World War. Sympathy is extended to the relatives.

Your reporter has in good authority that complaints are being made regarding no arena news. If no one is interested in writing up these various activities for the paper, there is NO way this reporter is going to walk up there for these events that are of little interest to her in the first place.

Some have been asked if they would send in news. We are all asked to support these various activities but no one seems willing to take the time out to send in these reports to the paper which is a state of affairs in your reporters estimation. People would like to know what goes on up there, so why doesn't each club have a press representative for hockey, curling, figure skating etc etc?

Mrs. Ethel Krueger of Outlook, Sask. has been working at the C.P.R. Station and assisting with Gladys Goodrich.

Dave Blackwell of Saskatoon spent the weekend with his parents the Rev. Blackwells and he brought along his friend Pat Stearns to visit with them as well.

We understand that people were really moving into new homes lately. Dr. and Mrs. Cahill moved into their home in that lovely location near the Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Sunjens are in their new home as are Mr. and Mrs. Gary Gillies.

Who were the Soaring Gliders out on the hill near Home Oil on Sunday? Sounds like a new sport for Hardisty.

The Powells came home with their "uth 8" children last night. event, which will come in handy for those quick lunches on the farm.

Seen visiting with Mother, June Dose, is Marcia Hagen and two children of Sedgewick.

Get well wishes to Hospital patients, especially Mrs. Grace Thorp who has been there some time.

A first-grader recently proved how "uth 8" children really are. He slipped on the stairs of his school and skinned his knee. His teacher hurried over to help him and said, "Remember Timmy, big boys don't cry."

Jim replying, "I'm not gonna cry. I'm gonna sue."

Hardisty couple celebrate 50 years

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moody celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary with a family dinner on Saturday, March 6th and an open house at the home of their daughter, Colleen Carson, on Sunday, March 7th from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. and 5:00 to 10:00 p.m.

The couple were married at St. Mark's Anglican Church on March 2nd, 1926 by Rev. Bosworth. Attendees were Wava Robbins and Edna Rose both of Hardisty. They resided in Hardisty and district until eleven years ago when they retired to their present home in Calgary.

Their family, Colleen, Carmen and two grandsons Colin and Craig honored their parents with a Polynesian dinner and entertainment at the Tiki Tiki. This happy occasion was highlighted by the attendance of sister-in-law Eleanor Moody and her family — Wayne, Alene and Harold, Mydan, Cliff and boys of Hardisty, Lillian and John of Drayton Valley, also dear friend Ruth Lowman and Elsie.

The open house was well attended by family, friends and neighbors.

It was a very enjoyable time of visiting and reminiscing. Beautiful and thoughtful gifts were presented, also lovely bouquets of flowers. Greetings were received from Esther's sister in Washington and nephew in Arizona. Congratulations messages from many other points including Hawaii.

Esther and Harry thanked everyone for their friendship throughout the years and for helping to make this, their 50th Wedding Anniversary a most happy and memorable day.

Cancer drive to start soon

The Cancer Canvass will be underway early in May, sponsored as usual by the Legion Auxiliary. Hardisty has always been most generous in giving to the cause making the Canvass a pleasure.

An incident in this regard may be of interest. Recently a Humboldt, Saskatchewan family had found a $5.00 bill on the ground. In order to find the owner, he was told it was his to do with as he pleased, and donated it to the Cancer Fund. Shows our youngsters are on the right track.

Don't Look Now

Readers will note a new heading on the center pages of this section. It is the start of a new weekly feature of this newspaper, and will focus on the local agricultural and home scene.

Columns by the local District Agriculturist, Glen Werner, and Home Economist, Diane Bourne, will appear regularly. In the future, in-depth reports and coming events of interest to farmers will be included. We also welcome local writers who would like to contribute, and if you are interested, please contact the editor, Monte Keith, as to what type of articles you would include in your column.

This change is but one of several that are planned for the coming months.

Ladies' knit-a-thon

Hardisty's first Knit-a-thon, sponsored by the Ladies Guild of St. Mark's Anglican Church, was an unqualified success. It was held in the Parish Hall on Saturday afternoon with 12 knitters taking part, with 10 knitters totaling over 2000. All were old fashioned darts and all had descriptive nicknames. Working in 10 stitch stiches in all colors of the rainbow, the needles started as early as 2:00 p.m. After the first hour there was a break for coffee, then another hour knitting. The prize for bringing in the most money, donated by Everett Goodrich, was won by Ida (Twighead) Orm while the prize for the most rows knit went to Marion (Venus Balls) Madden. It is planned to have this Knit-a-thon again next year.

At the end of the afternoon, a draw was made for a book of 1000, made and given by Harbe Mathews, this was won by Shirley MacCre.

It is planned to make this an annual affair, so watch for dates next spring. The ladies are most grateful to all who took part and all the sponsors. It is their aim to have washrooms installed in the Parish Hall and the Knit-a-thon has given a real boost in that direction.

Services held for Hardisty old-timer

Otto Frederick William Korth was born March 25, 1883 in the U.S.A. He came to Canada with his parents in 1912, and settled in the Hardisty district. After his father's death in 1927, Otto cared for his mother until the time of her passing in 1947. He was never married. About 1943 he bought a house in Hardisty. Living there until he was to Flanagan Auxiliary Hospital. Otto passed away in the Colonel Newman Hospital in Edmonton on Jan. 15, 1976. He leaves to mourn his passing two daughters, Edna and Edith, and a son, Marvin. He was a member of the Lutheran Church in Hardisty, with Rev. Jackson officiating. The hymns sung were "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Rock of Ages". He was laid to rest on Jan. 19, 1976. Pallbearers were Lester Galloway, Delbert Galloway, Marvin Lembo, Elvin O'Brien, Leo Markwart, Orlin Markwart, all nephews.

Following interment, lunch was served at the Loughheed Community Hall, by the Greta and Sons of Kilauea were in charge of arrangements.

CARD OF THANKS
We would like to express our heartfelt thanks to all the people who gave donations, and for the kind words of sympathy during our bereavement. Special thanks to Rev. Jackson, the Pallbearers, and the Ladies who served lunch. It was all deeply appreciated.

COME ALIVE...

Divorce can be prevented

The divorce rate in our society is quite alarming. Alberta has the highest rate in Canada. What has gone wrong with the family unit is "Free Living" taking over! There are a few suggestions to help your marriage alive:

1. For the husband:
A. Avoid late hours and being absent from home especially at night. The bar and such places are not more important than your family. Your wife needs your family and affection. Give her the same attention that you gave her before you were married. Maintain a healthy sex life. Special efforts from both partners are required.
2. Share an equal part of your salary with her, especially if she is not working. Remember she's got expenses of her own, apart from the house.
3. Be open and frank with your business affairs. You will be surprised how helpful she can be.
4. Don't be unduly familiar with other women.
5. Forcing your wife to get a job, without just cause, is as detrimental as trying to keep her tied-down at home. Help her make the best choice.
6. For the Wife:
A. It was your love, not just the money and the sex, that attracted your husband to you. Keep it up. Men love interest and respect for a lively, sunny woman.
7. Don't neglect your home and run the street. Try making it a practice; and be there, if possible, to greet your man when he returns from work.
8. Avoid being a spendthrift just to keep up with the fashions.
9. Don't be everlastingly nagging and hen-pecking him, especially when he is tired and having problems.
10. For both of you:
A. Keep private conversations away from the ears of your kids.
11. Avoid going to outside people with your personal home affairs.
12. Don't talk about your partner's faults to the opposite sex, or even before visitors.
13. Don't interfere when the other is correcting the kids.
14. In-laws should not meddle or have final say in your family matters.
15. Learn to "disagree agreeably."
16. A Christian home environment is the best for the family unit. Try to read (Eph. 5:23) "Let every one of you... love his wife as himself, and the wife see that she reverence her husband."
17. By Rev. Renny R. Tomlinson

Hardisty Happenings

In a figure skating test at the Hardisty rink on Monday night it seemed that your name had to be Nelson or Huxley to be lucky but things changed when the draw for the 10th Call was made and the name was Nelson. Congratulations to Nelson and his sister Jane who in Mrs. Brown and married a rather, really reminding a boat early days in Hardisty. She also saw John Rutten and family and Doreen and family.

For all you newcomers to town, Mrs. L. Rutten's husband sold his store to L. Harrison.

Didn't realize at the time that the April 1st trick was a local news from the Hardisty area, but with daughter Mary Brown and Mrs. McLean gone to Mesa, Arizona for ten days, the grandsons were glad to have a cook on your doorstep didn't get home till Monday night.

While in Camrose had a very enjoyable supper and evening with Mrs. L. Rutten. Also when Mary was at the flea market who should lap her on the shoulder and ask her if she were lost? It was Don Wilber and his mother was also there.

With such a mild winter, hardly any days were lost on the building of the Sealer Citizens apartments. Now with the roof on it really looks like it won't be too many weeks before the building will be livable.

Had a letter from Joyce Johnson and she was very pleased to receive the card with so many names on it and had phoned Andy for her birthday. Her daughter's are old enough now to make her a birthday cake and she had been on a picnic with John and Gail and enjoyed the outing very much. Hope to see us all soon.

Keeping in touch

A Bute over a month ago, I sent a questionnaire to each household in the Battle River Constituency. The purpose was to determine the general attitude of constituents on the moral and practical issues of Capital Punishment, Gun Control and Abortion. Four days after the questionnaire, were mailed in Ottawa, the returned forms were being received in my office. During the next two weeks, the daily mail arrived in shopping carts until we tidied nearly eight hundred responses. A group of three students spent two long days opening the letters and another group of students spent the better part of a week tabulating the results. A total of 25 per cent of the returns had an attached letter so we will be informed on the attitudes of constituents regarding these matters.

I was delighted by the unexpected fact that a large number of school teachers from various communities of the Constituency took the initiative to duplicate the questionnaire and then have their students discuss the issues and fill in the forms. We tabulated the student response separately and include them for your interest.

The results of this survey will be mailed to all Members of Parliament for their interest and study. The fact that nearly 40 per cent of the questionnaires returned and the results of the survey indicate since most Members who use this practice average about a 6 per cent return and a 10 to 15 per cent return is considered high. Level out those NATURAL GAS AMMUNITIES

To aid with their budgeting, some customers prefer to pay their gas bills under Northwestern's Payment Equalization Plan. It is available to all customers on a voluntary basis.

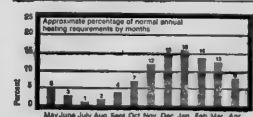

Here is how the plan works:

The company estimates what your annual gas consumption will be and bills you in twelve equal monthly payments at prevailing rates. Adjustment to actual consumption is made every twelve months.

When rates are changed or, if during the year, it becomes apparent from meter readings that your consumption will differ substantially from our estimate, your monthly payments are adjusted to ensure that at the end of the winter season you have no large unpaid balance.

Your meter is read bi-monthly and the estimated or actual consumption is recorded on your bill. Under the Payment Equalization Plan you pay only for the amount of gas used during the year. Payment Equalization Plan accounts start in May, so we invite you to contact us now if you wish to have your account billed in this manner.

The adjacent graph illustrates how gas consumption varies throughout the year. Budget plan customers avoid the higher bills of winter by spreading their total gas bill for the year over 12 equal monthly payments.

COME ALIVE...From Hosanna to Murder

When expectations are not met, hope becomes shattered, and cynicism and resentment is often the end result. In this case it was murder.

This fall was extraordinary. He left his home of splendour and glory and condescended to men of low estate. Love propelled him to take this course. The Good Book says, "He went about doing good."

He healed the sick, comforted the broken-hearted, raised the dead. Night was restored to the blind, the dumb spoke, demons were cast out, and even the deaf heard.

His interest in the spiritual welfare of humanity superseded the material, physical and natural needs. Saving souls from sin and hell was his primary mission. What sane person would want to hurt or kill such a good man? Yet he was murdered. Why? Not because of any grave evil or wrong he committed, but because he failed to meet their expectations. Israel had expected Jesus to establish an earthly kingdom and become their king. This was foretold on their minds as he entered Jerusalem on the first Palm Sunday. They cried, "Hosanna! Blessed is the King of Israel."

"When Jesus failed to meet their expectations, their cries changed from 'Hosanna' to 'Away with Him, Crucify him.'"

The cries for murder are still being heard on the lips of people today. Our world has wounded and murdered the reputation of many good people. Even God has become a total disappointment to many because he has failed to measure up to their standards.

Reader, don't expect "too much" from others lest you judge you more severely. Join with those who are quick to shout "Hosanna" in praise of God and the good of others. Avoid being a deadly critic who is bent on killing others just to stay alive and build his own ego.

School matters takes bulk of time at annual meeting

The annual meeting of the directors of the County of Flagstaff No. 29 was held in the Community Hall, Sedgewick, on Monday, March 22nd, 1976.

Approximately 120 representatives of the municipal and school portions were read by their respective administrators. They answered a number of inquiries and clarified some areas to the meeting.

In answer to a request, the meeting was told that in order to increase the limit of 3 mills for any recreation area, a plebiscite must be held in that area.

The reduction of teacher staff and pupil-teacher ratios showed the county ratio to be less than the grants allow for and the costs are born by the County. Teacher cuts can be expected at Hardisty, Lougheed, Sedgewick, Killam, Heister, Dayland and Galahad.

The provincial government of tightening of grants in the matter of schools and hospitals is a matter of grave concern. It was felt that the local M.L.A.'s should be asked to the next annual meeting.

Mr. Bunney said that they are having difficulty in getting Continued on page 20

New law for motorcyclists

Paul Vanderwende, County Police Officer brought in the following letter from the province. It is in regards to new regulations on motorcycles and reads as follows:

"The Highway Traffic Act, 1973 requires in Section 82 (2) that 'No motorcycle shall be in motion upon a highway at any time unless the lamp or lamps with which it is required to be equipped are alight'."

This requirement is new and therefore not well known. We will be starting an education campaign soon.

"You are likely aware that since January 14, 1975, all motor cycles imported into Canada or manufactured here are wired so that the lights are on when the ignition is turned on and the vehicle is started. That is as far as the federal government can go. It is up to the provinces to regulate rules of the road so that cyclists more visible to other motorists."

HARDISTY FIGURE SKATING CLUB ENDS YEAR

The Hardisty Figure Skating Club held their end of the year meeting with only 12 members present. An election of new officers was to be held, as well as a decision on hiring a pre-teacher and our junior teachers for next season. Due to poor attendance and unsuccessful parents the meeting closed with little decided. If there is no more interest and a bigger turnout for our re-organizational meeting early in the fall there will be no figure skating club next year.

Our queen chairman Marie Watkins gave a detailed account as to how our current contest was run this year, which was 60% on tickets sold and 40% on other abilities. It seemed accepted by all present.

MUSK ON VISITORS' DAY

A Musk Ox Visitors' Day will be held at Rancho Ganga, one mile East of Hargreaves, starting at 2:00 p.m., Saturday, April 1st. This is your opportunity to come and see the animals and talk about the prospects of a musk ox industry with your host, Clarence Barpee, and other members of the Musk Ox Association.

There will be a guided tour of the musk ox pastures, a 15 minute film showing musk ox activities at other seasons of the year, and a short talk about raising musk ox as a ranch animal.

For Horse Lovers: There will be someone on hand to show the Arabian horses and talk horse.

"ALL-RISK" CROP INSURANCE

Crop insurance protects against the bad year that you can't afford — especially if you are a good farmer with high inputs.

Without crop insurance, drought, hail, frost, snow, excessive moisture — or any other natural hazard can wipe out your investment, jeopardize your credit and reduce your income so it will take years to recover.

But with "All-Risk" Insurance, offered only in Alberta by the Alberta Hail and Crop Insurance Corporation, you get an overall guarantee for each crop. If your production falls below that level, you are paid for the shortage.

If this seems like a good deal to you, find out more. Contact your local District Office now for full details and information.

But remember, the deadline for this insurance is April 30.

WESTERN GRAIN STABILIZATION ACT

On February 23, 1976, the Western Grain Stabilization Act received Royal Assent, making it law in Canada. Since then, many people have been asking what all is involved in this new stabilization program.

1. The Western Grain Stabilization Plan works in many respects like an insurance policy. While it does not guarantee a specific income to each farmer, it will supplement individual income in years when price grain returns are low. In those years, farmers will receive a cash payment that could amount to several thousand dollars. In other years — the good years — there will be no payment and the insurance fund will build up.

2. The plan is funded jointly by grain farmers and the government of Canada. One-third of the money comes from producers and two-thirds from the government. In addition, the government assumes all administration costs for the stabilization plan.

3. The most a producer will pay in one calendar year is $300. Each participating producer pays 2% of his gross receipts from grain sales into the stabilization fund — up to that $300 maximum. In other words, you contribute on a maximum of $25,000 gross grain income (2% x $25,000 equals $500).

4. As mentioned above, the Government of Canada puts in double your total payment this means an annual government contribution of up to $1,000, per farmer.

5. Producer payments (levies) are automatically deducted by grain elevators, grain dealers, most feed mills and from Wheat Board Payments. At the end of the calendar year, if you have grain sales from which no levy has been automatically deducted — for example, sales to feed lots, seed plants and small feed mills — you may voluntarily remit the 2% levy directly to the plan up to that $500, annual maximum. If you prefer to remit the levy to the plan, it is tax deductible. In years when the fund makes a payment to producers, this payment will be considered taxable income.

6. Each producer has an individual account in the fund. The payments you receive back will be in proportion to what you have paid into the fund in the current three year period (the payment year the two years immediately preceding) as compared to other producers' contributions during that time. Thus, your participation in the Plan compared to the participation of other producers will determine your proportion of a stabilization payment.

Recently I have received a number of questions about applying out of the plan. A person may opt out only once, and re-enter the plan only once. To opt out one must write the W.G.S.P. administration and inform them of same. This can be done anytime before January 1st, 1976. At the time of withdrawal, you get back any levy you paid in that calendar year.

One final note — the W.G.S.P. is not to replace crop insurance. Rather it is a type of market insurance.

The crystal ball

This is the first of what we at the Agriculture Extension Office hope will become a more or less regular article on this page. We will endeavor to predict what we feel markets, programs, and policies will do in the near future, based on information made available to us.

Each year's prediction: what for 1976-1977 crop year looks real good. This may be one time when most western farmers would do well to follow Mr. Otto Lang's suggestion to grow more wheat.

The U.S. crop generally is less poorer than past years. Drought is greatly reducing their anticipated harvest starting next month in the deep south.

It also appears at the present time that world requirements and demands are high and some export commitments are not being filled. This year it's wheat!!!

GOLDBEY YOUTH CAMPS: In your teenage staying close to home have this summer? Why not encourage him or her to participate in a week of fun and learning at the Goldbey Center Cooperative Youth seminars. It's an opportunity for teens to interact with people from other parts of the province in a relaxing, refreshing atmosphere.

Any teen aged 14 - 18 years old can attend. For information or applications, contact Rural Education and Development Association at 803-106 Street, Edmonton, phone 428-1322.

A NUTRITIONAL BUY:

To get the most nutrition for your fresh produce budget, choose vegetables that have the darkest green coloring. Vegetables that are green throughout, such as peppers, broccoli, bell peppers and spinach, are richer in vitamin A than those with only green exteriors: like cucumbers or zucchini squash. Deep green cabbage, lettuce and celery have most vitamins and minerals low.

The deeper the yellow or red color of fruit or vegetables, the higher the vitamin content too. Vitamin A is best in carrots, peaches, yellow squash, apricots. Vitamin C in oranges, tomatoes, strawberries and raspberries.

LIVESTOCK: It is also a bargain nutritionally. Any kind of liver is rich in every nutrient; that's no reason Canada's Food Guide recommends it once a week. If your family doesn't like the liver pills, Spanish liver may taste better (see recipe of the week). Try sprinkling curly powder on it or serve it with milk gravy. Or cook sausage and liver instead of liver and bacon, or use the old stand-by liver and onions and celery. Other organ meats, eggs, cottage cheese, turkey fillets are all great best buys in MINIMUM FOOD ITEMS:

Like paper-products, cigarettes, magazines, houseplants etc. usually account for 1/3 (33%) of the grocery bill. So we may say "food is cooking money" but sometimes the extras are being counted as food when they shouldn't be. CANADA WORLD YOUTH: International living, personal involvement, challenge, adventure — that we all want and few of us ever get. But you can... if you're between 17 and 20 years old, willing to work hard and interested in learning about development through Canada World Youth (CWY).

Essentially, CWY is an educational program designed to promote the understanding and appreciation of international development while fostering a deeper awareness of the role and place of young people in the world community.

A total of 700 young people participate in the program each year. 350 of them are Canadian. Four months are spent in Canada, four months overseas. Programs begin in June, September and January. Applications however, are accepted year 'round.

In the past, exchange countries have included: Colombia, Cambodia, Haiti, Indonesia, Malaysia and Philippines. For more information or application forms contact Agriculture Extension Office, Canada Manpower, or student services office near you.

AND WE COMPLAIN: About food prices. In 1976 (January 1976) the price (in U.S. dollars) for one pound of sirloin steak was $13.75; a quart of milk was 85c. In Stockholm one pound of sirloin steak sold for $5.48. The median price of sirloin steak between 15 cities was $2.91 per pound. The price for one pound of sirloin steak in Ottawa was $2.19.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK: SPANISH LIVER: 3 slices bacon (bacon ends) 3 onions 1 green pepper 1/2 tsp. pepper 1 lb. liver (sliced thin) 2 cups canned tomatoes 2 tsp. salt

Dice bacon and fry until crisp. Dip the liver in flour and fry on both sides until delicately brown. Remove the liver from frying pan, add the sliced onions and pepper and let them brown slightly. Add the tomatoes and the liver. Cover closely; turn heat very low and allow to simmer for 15-20 minutes. Uncover, increase the heat under pan and cook until gravy is thick. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Hardisty and District News

Dick Drever is visiting his sister Jean at Nanower, B.C. The Chamber of Commerce sponsored a film by C.P. Hall on grain transportation, it was held in the Elks Hall on April 14th, with a very disappointed attendance.

C.P. Hall representative for this area was Buck Henderson accompanied by Adams Bergman with Ed Kreeger of Wilk operating the movie projector.

A great deal of statistics were quoted, also the estimated mileage of rails in the three provinces to be abandoned, grain's loss on which grain only is hauled.

They said though that they had no thought whatever of abandoning grain hauling, but it was these branch lines of 20 miles or so that were real money losers, which did sound quite reasonable.

They expected that about 2500 miles of track in Alberta would be abandoned, about 6500 miles in all for the three provinces.

Ray Herman Smith in Amisk and he tells your reporter that it is 63 years since they came to the homestead from near Spokane. He thinks that the transportation nowadays is so wonderful. Forget to ask him if he drove up from there, but many did at that time.

Your reporter just phoned Mrs. Frank Curtis in Edmonton to wish her a happy birthday on her over 80th birthday. She has lived alone since her husband passed on but will be moving in with her daughter, Mrs. Siela Charles soon. She sent best wishes to all in Hardisty.

We understand too that Ernie Guilan's sister, Mrs. Florence McConnel of Chilliwack passed away so sincere sympathy to Ernie and Margaret are sent by us all.

Isabel Nelson attended the funeral in Melrose on Thursday for the late Mrs. Palmer Kivh.

Well spring must have arrived! Our ravelling Hardistylites are home again after having a grand winter.

After leaving here they visited with a Todd family at Leeds Utah, people that they had met on a previous trip. They also met last year's friends at Lake Mead.

From there they the Pete Gaudreau went to Quartzville, Arizona for a week or two, the name sounds like a rock hounds paradise.

They also visited The Fountain of Youth at the Salton Sea, California. This is a Dead Sea being a perfect filled with water many years ago and is about 50 miles from the Arizona border. At New Years Annette came to visit them at Palm Springs, California and Paul flew to L.A. and he and Eldon Schloer were Christmas guests. Later Paul and Eldon rented a car and toured Mexico.

Then they attended the rock bands show at Quartzville with an enormous number to trailer people attending.

Then to Organ Pipe Cacti Monument Park and a days tour into Mexico.

Also visited old Tucson. It is here that many Western movies are made such as Bill Chapparel and many more. Were in the Yuma National forest, the setting for some of Zane Grey's books. Were also at Apache Junction which is a suburb of Phoenix and also at a Camille near the Superintendents office.

Buctril 'M' cleans up the real dirty fields.

Use Buctril M on your dirtiest fields — that's what it's for. It's for killing buckwheat, smartweed, lady's thumb, redroot pigweed, Russian thistle, lamb's quarters, and any of the mustards. It's for using on these hard-to-kill weeds in wheat, barley, oats or even flax — without risking crop damage.

If you have dirty work to do this year in your weed control program, we have the Buctril M for you to do it with.

Talk to us.

To aid with your budgeting, some customers prefer to pay their gas bills under Northwestern's Payment Equalization Plan. It is available to all customers on a voluntary basis.

Here is how the plan works:

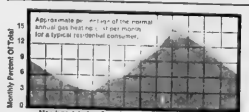

The company estimates what your annual gas consumption will be and bills you in twelve equal monthly payments at prevailing rates. Adjustment to actual consumption is made every twelve months.

When rates are changed or, if during the year, it becomes apparent from meter readings that your consumption will differ substantially from our estimate, your monthly payments are adjusted to ensure that at the end of the winter season you have no large unpaid balance.

Your meter is read bi-monthly and the estimated or actual consumption is recorded on your bill. Under the Payment Equalization Plan you pay only for the amount of gas used during the year. Payment Equalization Plan accounts start in May, so we invite you to contact us now so if you wish to have your account billed in this manner.

The adjacent graph illustrates how monthly heating bills vary throughout the year. Budget plan customers avoid the higher bills of winter by spreading their total gas bill for the year over 12 equal monthly payments.

A number of ratemakers showed concern over insects attacking spruce shelterbelts. A request was made to have the county assume spraying

Mr. A.P. Blatz, reeve, was called upon for his report. He mentioned one big change in the county, the retirement of Mr. C. B. Robertson, after many years of service. He asked Mr. Robertson to come to the front of the hall where a vote of thanks was extended to him. Mr. Robertson addressed the meeting briefly, saying it had been a pleasure to serve for as long as he had.

Reeve Blatz then returned to his report, touching on the ambulance service, the new county workshop and roadwork. He stated that a saving of 122 resulted from county-operated crews doing road work.

One ratemayer expressed his satisfaction of the manner by which the ambulance service was operated. He felt the public works and school system were good.

Agricultural fieldman B. Lee gave to his printed report. A asked for questions with re-number of questions were brought forward and discussed.

The matter of road bans and lack of minutes being printed in local newspapers was aired. The opinion was expressed that alling of roads was a waste. The county felt that alling saved the gravel from being pushed to the ditches and gave a better all-weather road.

Olaf Bernhardt Olsen (Grevel) was born in Halden, Norway, December 8, 1888, and passed peacefully to his rest March 28, 1976 in St. Joseph's Hospital, Galahad, Alberta.

Galahad man passes

As a young man, he lived on a farm but worked in a granite quarry near his home. In 1902 he was married. The first son died and after the birth of the second, he immigrated to Canada in the spring of 1902 and settled in the Camrose area where he worked as a carpenter. The large house on the Duggan farm, west of Camrose, he was which he helped to build because there were five Ole children in the area, he added: "name of the family farm in Norway, thus becoming Ole J.O. Grevel."

Later he took up a homestead on what is now the Charles Wieman place. Here, on his birthday, December 11, 1914, his beloved wife, Christine died in his arms, a victim of Tuberculosis. He was left with four young boys: Henry, Harold, Albert and Rudolf.

In 1916, he married Hannah Elsie Anderson and settled on the farm west of Galahad where he has lived ever since. Through the years he has farmed, done blacksmithing, run a threshing rig and drove the school van. After his retirement, he realized a life-long ambition of making violins, many of which he sold.

He was predeceased by two children, Harold and Emma, in 1924 and his wife Hannah in 1967. Besides 3 great-grandchildren, he is survived by his wife Hannah in 1967. Besides 3 great-grandchildren, he is survived by his wife Hannah in 1967.

of these trees. B. Lee said he felt crew could not handle this job and more money would be necessary for men and equipment. The meeting went on record as not extending this service to county residents.

children and 33 grandchildren, he leaves to mourn ten children: Henry, Doreen Valley, Albert, Killian, Rudolf, Edmonson, Martha, Maryland, U.S.A.; Ruth and Norma, California, U.S.A.; Left, Barbara; Bernard, Galahad; Sonja, Edmonton and Erling, Lacombe. He will be remembered as a fine father and grandfather and a kind and helpful neighbor.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. in the Merna S.D.A. church, March 31, with Pastor Gordon Miller officiating and Harry Anderson as soloist. Interment followed in the church cemetery with Holthe's Funeral Home in charge. The pallbearers were Albert By, Norbert Borgel, Heuben Polesen, Harold Johnson, Charlie Wiseman and Clements Kuefer.

Win Fish & Game trophies

The annual Iron Creek Fish and Game Banquet and Trophy night was held in the Loughheed Community Hall, April 3rd. At 7:00 p.m. a hall full of members enjoyed a lovely meal prepared by the Greta Goodwill Club.

M.C. Mr. C. Ingvaldsen introduced the head table guests, told a few tales and introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Paul Morck. Mr. Morck is the secretary-manager for the Alberta Fish and Game Association, who very ably spoke on the "Bill C 87" presently trying to be made into a law by our Federal Government. The Fish and Game very strongly opposes this bill and asks for the people help opposing this extreme form of anti-gun legislation. Mr. Morck also showed a very informative film.

President of the Iron Creek Fish and Game Association Mr. Elmer Waite spoke a few words on what our club has been doing.

Our entertainment for the evening consisted of Mrs. Ruth Polter who played several piano selections.

Winners of the door prize were: Ladies: Karen Kampen and Mear: Cliff Horricks.

Frances Borencamp was called for the trophy presentations. Winners were as follows: Walcott deer — Ernie Nygaard, Proughen Antelope — Vern Simpson, Mink Deer —

COME ALIVE...

Life after death??

Numerous funeral inscriptions have been collected from the ancient non-Christian Roman Empire. Some of the actual epitaphs recovered are: "I was a man and I do not care"; "What I have eaten and what I have drunk, that is all that belongs to me"; "When I die I lived, I drank willingly, I drank like you live"; "Eat, drink, play, come hither." Behind all these flippant words was a genuine disbelief in immortality. It is quite astonishing that people even to our day are clinging to such a belief.

Death is man's greatest enemy, yet it is not the ultimate culmination of life. There is life beyond the grave. The Bible offers this, Jesus by his resurrection confirms this fact. He appeared on eleven different occasions and was seen by at least 500 people. What hope he gave to the world when he said, "Blessed I live, you also live." Without this all life else.

New Johnny Cash film to be shown

The story is old, but the perspective is up-dated and brought into sharp focus by the film The Gospel Road to be shown on Sunday, April 25th at Killam Baptist Church. The showing will start at 7:30 p.m.

The Gospel Road, a Billy Graham production, was conceived and produced by Johnny Cash and his wife June Carter, whose desire it was to tell the story of Jesus Christ in a realistic and meaningful way.

The film is an unique blend of scripture-based narrative and an abundant supply of specially written songs.

You are there, waiting beside the Jordan and the Sea of Galilee; you are there, seeing Him in many human situations that establish a practical and personal rapport with every viewer.

You are there, being introduced to the disciples, and gaining insights into their varied personalities. You are there, experiencing the highly charged emotional impact of the trial before Pilate.

Adding to the effectiveness of the Gospel Road is its endeavor to convey reality for this day are the songs and background music of Johnny Cash and other outstanding musicians such as Kris Kristofferson, whose contemporary style is not out of keeping with the story — a story that reveals that His darkest day has become our brightest.

Hardisty and District News

Mervil Baron, our former 1st Technician was a weekend guest of Mrs. Gladys Friedrich. She also called on the Perry Powers too.

We are sorry to hear that Mike Flanagan of Lloydminster passed away recently. Mike used to work in Hardisty when the Roundhouse was here. Sympathy is extended to his family and friends.

Well Cur has done it again! Would that Hardisty take a pattern from them. A beautiful afternoon was spent at Clear Hall on Monday for an afternoon of dancing for Sr. Clitrus and spouses.

This idea originated by the late Mr. A.V. Thompson who treated his friends to an afternoon of dancing with lunch.

After Mr. Thompson's death in a car accident, Dean Porter, his nephew, with the help of the community, has decided to continue this idea in Mr. Thompson's memory.

On entering the hall we all stirred the guest book and were given a name tag. This tag varied as to age groups and with Leo Ireck making the draws, rinks were chosen and the risk winning the most points, would get their name on a plaque. The winning rink this year was the John Hancher rink.

Congratulations to Eddie Manning who won the lovely Easter lily at the Roost Women of Uniforms bazaar sale and tea last Thursday.

We are glad to see Mrs. Annie Whitehead home again after surgery in an Edmonton hospital. After coming home awhile, she went on to Drumheller to visit with daughter Wendy for awhile. Glad to hear that Rose Macare is home again after being hospitalized in the General Hospital in Edmonton for a while.

Congratulations to Paul Gensard who graduated from Canmore Lutheran College. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Gensard attended and enjoyed the graduation exercises, also the banquet, which took place last Saturday.

Well the Hardisties were very fortunate at the Longbeard Ham and Turkey Bingo April 12th. Those coming home with prizes were: Molly Little who won the door prize, hams and turkeys went to Ed Manning, Anna Hargra, Thelma Fisher, Jane Boer, Edna Welby, Doris and Perry Powell and Isabel Nolan.

Two Hardisty people tied with others but lost their 10 bucks so that was 10 people from here bringing in 20 games, half of them.

The Hardisty Hospital Auxiliary held their annual meeting at the Hotel Coffee Shop, with most members in attendance and a few guests. A very lovely meal was served by Lucy and her helpers before the meeting. It was nice to see two of our life members attending. Mrs. Walter Meis and Mrs. Myrtle Richardson of Alliance.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Matthews with Bill, attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Barbara Rose Matthews in Jim Fuller at Tronche last Saturday.

The Cyril Dreviers 50th wedding anniversary so much that they spent the next week visiting friends and browsing around Hardisty. Bud said it was just wonderful to renew old friendships. That is what happens when you live in a small town as you are an individual, and in the city you are often just a nobody.

Keeping in touch

Ann M. Mahan, M.P.

Last week I wrote on the issue of gun control. This week I will discuss the emotional and complex issue of capital punishment, even though the limited length of the column will leave more to discuss than I wish.

Since I came to Ottawa, no other subject area has so touched all my reasons and demanded such a full and comprehensive investigation. I have come to the conclusion that I will vote against the Government's proposal to abolish capital punishment. Reaching that conclusion, however, was by no means an easy task.

Naturally, I had to hear in mind the views of my constituents and as you will recall, as per cent of the survey favoured the retention of capital punishment. In truth, however, I was virtually divided to vote against the Bill prior to the completion of the survey. Now that my vote will reflect the views of the vast majority in Battle River, many would conclude that I feel satisfaction with the status of the issue. Such, however, is not the case. The mere focus on punishment after the crime is an afterthought that is far too shallow.

Whether we have capital punishment or an abolitionist state is not likely to have any significant effect on the rate of violent crimes. International data from around the world establishes that fact. The adoption or removal of capital punishment in other states and countries has had little or no effect on the rate of crime. Further, we can only justify the re-creation of the state taking life if we can reasonably demonstrate purpose and we must show in mind that revenge is the most useless of all causes. As an only reason, it is unacceptable. Of course, we might be repulsed by violent crimes, but the attitude of "let's get even" has little chance of achieving the principle objective, namely, the lowering of our crime rate and the increase of our sense of security.

What is really needed and the focus the Government should have adopted is to initiate a comprehensive set of policies that would have focused on prevention of crime.

There is now reasonable evidence that violence in television and movies does, in fact, have an effect towards igniting aggressive behaviors in the viewer. In the same vein, our governments should take a stronger and more definite stand against violence in sports. A person who would be charged with a criminal act and sentenced for assault for beating a person on a public street can often commit the same act in a public sports arena, televised to millions of people, with an insignificant demonstration of concern by legal authorities.

It has long been established that the crowding of animals increases the incidents of aggressive and violent behaviors. Likewise, it has been demonstrated that the rate of violent crimes in larger cities is about 10 times more frequent than in smaller cities. Recently, careful studies in this area have indicated that crime rates do correlate with the pressures that associate with crowding of human populations. Psychologists have also clearly demonstrated that as noise levels increase in intensity and amount, that students reflect a lower capacity for learning, their level of frustration increases and their patterns of dissatisfaction or aggression towards others also increases. Children who grow up used to busy streets often function at a lower level of capacity than those in tranquil and secluded suburban areas. Obviously, these facts should be considered in government policy.

Moreover, our society needs to take a more constructive view towards the alarming and rapidly growing problem of child abuse. The number of children that are tortured each year in Canada by parents and other adults is appalling. We do know that if from a litter of puppies you pet one and treat it with gentleness, while the restricting the food to another and beating it often that there will be no doubt which one will bite back in a year's time. Obviously the same kind of thinking has to be applied to the rearing of children.

Many studies have shown a relationship between inadequate nutrition and violence. Other studies have demonstrated that when pressure is placed on the amygdala, a part of the brain, in an experiment with numerous mice, that they behave in an uncontrollable violent manner. It should be interesting to know that Charles Williams, who climbed to the top of the clock tower at the University of Texas and shot and killed 15 people and wounded 31 others had a rapidly growing tumor near the amygdala.

I could enumerate at great length examples that affect the factors that great violent behavior is human. The reason I have decided to vote against abolition is because I fully believe that the Government of the day has the policies wrong. The first obligation ought to be to induce policy aimed at prevention. The public has a right to a sense of security; when the crime rate is lower, different attitudes will be reflected.

To propose an abolitionist stand at the very time when the rate of violent crimes is the highest it has ever been in history is no way to keep in touch with the concerns and sensitivities of the populations at large.

What is a truck driver?

Between the security of childhood and the insecurity of second childhood, we find a fascinating group of humanity called "Truck Drivers." They come in assorted sizes, shapes, and weights. They can be found anywhere — in bars, hotels, sleepers, cabs on the highways, and always in love.

Trucks tolerate them, girls love them, and their bosses support them. A truck driver is listless with a deck of cards, bravery with a tattered shirt, and a driver of the highways with a copy of Playboy or Vogue always with him.

They have the energy of a turtle, the slowness of a fox, the brains of an idiot, the theories of a sea captain, the security of a liar and the aspirations of Casanova. Some of their interests are: Cabs, Diners, Women, Females, and the opposite sex.

Their dislikes are: flat tires, overweight trailers, Sunday drivers, trailers and speed cars, house tractors, slow or cranky waitresses, cold coffee, and wretched aches.

No one else can cram into one pocket: a comb, a crushed pack of cigarettes, a church key, pictures of his wife and girlfriend, a little black book, pen, gun, liquor, and what's left of his life. He likes to spend his money on girls, liquor, and the rest foolishly.

A truck driver is a magical creature. You can lock him out of your home, but not out of your heart. You can scratch him off your mailing list, but not off your mind. He is your own and only good-for-nothing bundle of worries.

But, your shattered dreams become insignificant when he comes in with those big, bloodshot, bald eyes and says "Hi! Ya Homey, cup of mud and who's cooking?" —Contributed

The crystal ball

As I see it this year, rapeseed should not be used as the main crop in the farming rotation. The world supplies of oil and protein meals are also considerably higher than a year ago. Peru's soybean crop looks good. Brazil has a large supply of soybeans still not marketed, and palm oil is in very good supply. U.S. soybean crushing is up and exports are increased by 20%. In all, rapeseed will be of a moderate demand.

I would not put all my hopes on rapeseed this year — it will take some time to 20-25 rapeseed again. However, a field of 20 or 40 acres may be a good idea. There will always be some demand.

VEGETABLE GRANT AND LOAN PROGRAM

East-central Alberta has never been known to be a vegetable producing area of much consequence, however, with the increase in the cost of living, and the growing popularity of farmers' markets, large gardens will be planted. The average size garden would not apply to the vegetable grant program, however, a vegetable garden with a minimum size of two acres could qualify.

The assistance is in form of a development grant. This grant is available to market gardeners who qualify and is to be used for seed, fertilizer, equipment, etc. The grant payable is $200. For the minimum 2 acres required for eligibility, or $300, for 3 or more acres of vegetable and/or fruit production. A grower can only receive this form of assistance for a maximum of two years. A person having received one year grant assistance from the previous Vegetable Incentive Program will only be eligible for one year assistance under this program. Some specifics governing eligibility of producers are:

- gardeners must produce, harvest and sell all produce from a minimum of 2 acres of land
- vegetables include all vegetables grown in Alberta excluding potatoes
- all qualifying vegetables must be sold directly to consumer through farm gate sales, farmers' markets, or in a pick your own basis.

A license is not needed unless some portion of production is sold through commercial channels.

Growers must file an intent to claim by July 1, of the crop year. Growers may receive forms from the Horticulture Branch, Agriculture Building, Edmonton.

The vegetable producer's loan program is designed for vegetable growers who hold a license and are actively involved in a vegetable farming operation. The loan program is geared more for the south and likely no one in our area could qualify.

REMEMBER: Deadline for applications on the Federal Seed Stabilization Program is April 20th. This deadline applies to both slaughter pens and slaughter fat cattle for which a subsidy was announced.

AGRICULTURE ACTIVITIES

* Alberta Agriculture is sponsoring an Upchulsky Course for Cabbages and art. The course will be held at the Galahad School Home Economics Home and are actively involved in a vegetable farming operation. The loan program is geared more for the south and likely no one in our area could qualify.

Kaleidoscope

The following is an article written by Mary Gable, District House Economist at Rocky Mountain House.

There seems to be much confusion and controversy surrounding the two types of cleaning systems now available on electric ranges. Consumers are questioning the differences between the self clean (or pyrolytic) method and the continuous cleaning (or catalytic) system. How do the methods differ? This week I'll discuss the self clean system and next week (April 28) Kaleidoscope will deal with the continuous clean system.

SELF CLEAN OR PYROLYTIC SYSTEM

How does it work? Heat is the key word. The oven is heated to temperatures ranging from 450 degrees to 1000 degrees. Extra insulation prevents the oven exterior from becoming excessively hot during the cleaning cycle. The cleaning time ranges from 1½ to 2 hours including heat-up and cool-down periods. At the end of the cycle all that remains of food splatters and spatters is a powdery ash that is easily removed with a damp cloth. The oven is completely clean after each cycle.

What about its appearance? You'll notice that the walls of the oven are quite thick. (due to the extra insulation required, making the oven slightly smaller than normal). The enamel on self-cleaning ovens has a somewhat different color than that in a regular oven. It has a high level of durability which will withstand high temperatures.

Self-cleaning ranges are also equipped with a door lock, to prevent the accidental opening of the door while the oven is in its cleaning cycle. Additional control knobs are obviously a simple to operate but not as easy that you'll start the self-clean cycle by mistake.

What care does it need? There are a few things you must do before putting the oven through the self-clean cycle:

- * All manufacturers suggest the heavy splatters (for example, a pie running over) be wiped up as soon as possible. If even small amounts of food are left on the oven before cleaning there will be more smoke during the cleaning cycle.
- * Clean the oven door edge, outside of the gasket. The oven is not exposed to direct heat so it's self-clean cycle so it can't clean itself.

The exterior cabinet and window must also be cleaned by hand.

* Some manufacturers suggest leaving the oven racks in during cleaning but they will eventually become dull and change color. If you leave them in be cleaned, apply a few drops of salad oil to the rack supports after the cleaning cycle to allow them to slide in and out smoothly.

* Now you are ready to put the cleaning cycle on.

What about cost? The additional purchase cost of a self-cleaning oven is $100.00 to $150. Cost of operation at normal baking temperatures, however, is slightly less than for a regular oven due to the extra insulation. A self-cleaning oven would cost only 15% of the cost of operating either a regular or continuous clean oven. The cost of operating the self-cleaning cycle (in electricity) costs 3¢ per kilowatt hour would be about 1¢ to 1½¢ per cycle — which is probably less expensive than using a commercial oven cleaner. How often you use the cleaning cycle depends on you and your cooking habits. If you "bake" or "open-roast" meats frequently, you will use the cycle often than if you use your oven primarily for baking.

Kaleidoscope will provide information on the continuous clean system next week. RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Granola is a very popular cereal on the market. And for once, such a popular food is a valuable addition to our diet. It is a whole grain cereal, which means it is high in B-vitamins and different minerals. Granola also adds important dietary fibre to our diet. If granola is eaten with milk, you will have a good source of protein. Granola is easy to make and the variety of recipes is exceptional. Here is one of my favorites.

ADELE'S OLD FASHIONED CEREAL:

- 5 cups old fashioned oatmeal
- 1 cup cut almonds
- 1 cup unshredded sesame seeds
- 1 cup sunflower seeds
- 1 cup shredded coconut
- 1 cup soybean
- 1 cup powdered skim milk
- 1/2 - 1 cup of honey or molasses

Combine honey (or molasses) and oil, pour over dry part. Lightly toast on 2 cookie sheets at 200 degrees F, stirring occasionally. (Usually takes about 15-18 minutes.

Fast Forward

Between 400 and 500 people of all faiths gathered on Tuesday, April 26th to honour Father Martin McCarthy. It was 20 years ago that the Father was ordained to a priest and had served 47 of them in Killam. The two-hour program in his honour featured a large number of congratulatory messages from the Pope of Killam, the Ministerial Association and from the three parishes served by Father McCarthy. Vocal selections were sung by the students of Killam Separate School. Highlights of the evening was the presentation of a framed blessing from the Pope, presented by Archbishop J. McNeill, to mark this special occasion. The program rounded out this very special day for Father McCarthy. Special Masses were held during the day, and a banquet preceded the program, at which many clergy and other friends were present.

Tighter Heritage Fund controls

By Kevin Peterson Advocates of tighter legislation control over the multi-billion dollar Heritage Fund have won a concession from Premier Peter Lougheed after extensive criticism of his original plans. The premier will submit annual budget to the investment vehicle for resource revenues to house votes in a revised version of the Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund Act he has reintroduced. As originally proposed, the fund will have $1.5 billion in gross but deposits of 20 per cent of all non-renewable resource revenues each year. The 1976-77 contribution is estimated at $219 million. But a new clause will make the administration and its success submit new legislation every year to authorize the annual deposits, starting with 1977-78. They were to be authorized by cabinet power of advance approval for using most of the fund. Yet Mr. Lougheed said the annual appropriation will preserve the house's traditional control over distribution of the treasury. The fund's investment structure remains unchanged. While the house must approve use of a capital project, disburse in advance, at least 80 per cent in Canada and Alberta investment sections gets only cabinet prior scrutiny. Meanwhile, Albertans face "constant" budget restraint and possibly deficit financing to allow deposits of natural resource revenue every year to the fund. Mr. Lougheed told reporters. A tight grip on the purse strings will outlast this year's anti-inflation 11-per-cent ceiling on spending growth. Mr. Lougheed told a news conference. He sees borrowing to finance a budget short of resource revenue after fund deposits as conceivable. Resource income will inevitably decline "dramatically" and future governments eventually face the same. Mr. Lougheed said the annual appropriation will preserve

True Freedom

Just after the Emancipation Proclamation was read, Washington's mother embraced her children, and with tears of joy running down her cheeks she explained to them what it meant to be free. This was the day for which she and her people had longed, and she would never live to see it. At last the chains of slavery were broken, they were free.

Today, there is a clarion call for every segment of society for freedom of some sort. This is a sure indication that true freedom is man's desire.

All men are slaves. We are slaves to habits, both good and bad; slaves to the norms of society; slaves to the opinions and philosophies of others; slaves to desires and feelings; you name it. It appears that there is very little we can do in our present predicament. Maybe this is the way the Creator intended it to be. To attain true freedom from certain forms of slavery is impossible. Yet we take comfort in the fact that true freedom from sin — man's greatest enemy, is a possibility. This is what redemption in Christ is all about. We cannot be freed from the direct or indirect consequences of sin, or from human infirmities, but we can be freed from presumptions, conscious sinning by the grace of God, John 8:26 says, "If the Son therefore shall make you free, you shall be free indeed!"

When this freedom is experienced and realized, life takes on a new meaning. Now is when you really begin to live and enjoy life to its fullest. You wouldn't want to miss this new way of living for anything else, so get involved with Christ by faith.

R.R. Windfall, Alta April 13th, 1976
Mr. Monte Keith,
Editor - Community Press
Sedgewick, Alberta
Dear Sir:

Re your recent letter of explanation in the paper as to the reasons for the slow delivery of the paper - I thought you might be interested to know that unlike Mrs. Frost I am not now satisfied with the service. Today, April 23, I received March 11th issue of the paper. As to using the excuse of the backlog of mail in Drayton, that is a lot of crap! On Sat. April 16th we received the April 7th issue of the Enterprise and as yet have not received the Community Press. How can that be explained? It really is a sorry mess.

Yours truly,
M. Joan Patten

Dear Editor,
Regarding the "Hardisty Piggy Skating Club ends year" in the April 11th issue and the comment that if no more interest was shown than to have only 12 members present at their meeting, there would be no figure skating another year. I would like to make a few comments. The pro-teacher appeared to be very partial to just top skaters while the ones with less skating experience, but younger and just as anxious to learn were told to go home. This is a fine state of affairs when the fees are so high that everyone paying them should get the same kind

Also two more boys, Bart Stokke played with Wainwright Blues and Thayne Ull played with a Jasper team. Both have now returned home and back at school again.

Sambath is expected to Mrs. Ruth Lohren, Mrs. E. M. Moody and Art Wagon on the passing away of his brother Bill Wagon after a lengthy illness. Besides relatives attending the funeral were old friends, Fred Otto and Kerna Tait.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ken Whitwell were Mr. and Mrs. Havel of Saskatoon.

If you want to have some fun in the club next game day just throw your clothes in the dryer when someone else's clothes are there, and it is especially comical when the women's clothes already in there and then a man throws his in on top. Just imagine all the fun of sorting them out afterwards. "Hey that stinking doesn't belong to me!" "Well I'm sure these really don't belong to me!" It's really happened.

Mrs. Frieda McElroy held a Temperance party in her home last Friday.
The winner of the Mini-jackpot at the 1975 bingo last Friday was Mr. Bill Yakes of Sedgewick.
Mr. and Mrs. Norman Metts and baby daughter Jill have been visiting with Norman's parents Mr. and Mrs. Walter Metts, Norman and Pat live at McClelland now.
Daisy Metts, Pat and Jill visited with Pearl Reeve, Pearl and Daisy spent some time in the hospital together last year.
Saw in the local paper where Jack and Pat Fuder live in B.C. now and Jack was to undergo open heart surgery. We wish him success.

of attention. That arena has produced some lovely skaters in the past before this (Oligic's) attitude developed and there is no better way to kill a thing than to act that way. Next year it is very likely that figure skating or not, a number of Hardisty girls will be looking to take their figure skating lessons elsewhere.

COME ALIVE...

A flower for Mother

According to our calendar, as well as the church calendar, the second Sunday in May has been set as "Mother's Day." It is a good time to show appreciation for the mothers who are with us, and to show appreciation for the mothers who are no longer here.

From the Holy Bible, we learn that God regarded the honoring of parents important enough to make it the subject of one of the Ten Commandments. "Honor thy father and thy mother; that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee." He said to Moses at Sinai. Although we no longer live under the Mosaic Code of the Old Testament, Jesus gave His approval to this particular commandment when He rebuked the Pharisees for their disregard of the principle of this law. (See Matthew 15:3-6).

It is the right thing for us to honor our mothers, but how do we honor them? Undoubtedly, there are many ways of honoring mothers on Mother's Day. The most familiar of these are wearing red and white flowers, giving gifts, sending messages by mail, telephone or television, holding family reunions; or perhaps attending church together.

Generally, the mothers we can play to express our love and commercial, while most mothers would prefer some type of remembrance other than some hollow ritual, regardless of the size of its price tag.

Thoughtfulness on a year-round basis is perhaps the best means we could use to demonstrate our appreciation and affection for our mothers. This consideration could be expressed in many ways, none of which need to be either elaborate or expensive. Keeping in touch by visits, letters or telephone calls if we are separated; being with them and showing them that we are still at home; sharing our moments of joy and sorrow; seeking or offering counsel or guidance when such seems advisable; ministering to physical needs whenever required — these are but a few of many ways we can express our love and respect.

Another way to show respect for our mother is for us to be diligent citizens ourselves. Whether by, girl, man, or woman, we are reflections of our parents, and other people are able to see our mothers and fathers reflected in the attitudes and actions we put on display every day. When we strive to be God-fearing, church attending, solid citizens, this will say infinitely more about our mothers than any flowers, gifts, or sentimental gestures on Mother's Day.

Indeed, Mother's Day is a good time for the children to remember the mothers who respect, love, and honor to their mothers. However, it is also a good time for mothers to reconsider and review their responsibilities. What are mother's responsibilities? We have been thinking that far about the honor we owe our mothers, but the whole story would not be told unless we thought too of the other side of the coin — the duties of mothers to their children. Certainly if we are to honor and respect them, they need to be worthy of such honor and respect.

The first duty of a mother is to rear her children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. This she cannot do by allowing her children to decide for themselves whether or not they will attend and participate in the activities of the church. Nor can she accomplish the goal set for her in Paul's letter by simply sending the children off to the Sunday school or Sunday church.

The example set by the parents, speaks immeasurably louder and clearer to the children than any number of words. Consequently the surest way to bring children to a knowledge of God is through participation by all members of the household in the program of the church and the church schools, in family devotions, and in Christian living.

A mother owes her children physical protection. Food, clothing, and shelter must be provided; health must be watched over; injuries must be healed and illnesses cured; but feelings must be soothed; and right attitudes must be developed.

Another mother's responsibility is to be strong enough to afford exactly the right amount of security without being so strong that the child never learns to stand on his own two feet. They must be just strong enough so that the child is restricted to wholesome activities but not so short that he becomes afraid to venture out on his own when the proper time comes.

Lastly, a mother owes her child love and affection. Science has shown that a child who is deprived of the natural love of a mother stands a much greater chance of suffering from emotional disturbances than does a child who is reared under normal circumstances. A child has a need for maternal love in the same way that he has a need for physical food. It is every child's right to have this love, and every mother's obligation to see that he gets it.

And now we have at least a synopsis of the complete story — a brief look at the "why" and "how" for honoring Mother and a glimpse of the duties and responsibilities of motherhood. Let us remember to honor our mother if she still lives, by dedicating ourselves in Christian living; and if she has passed from this earth to a heavenly mansion, how could we better remember her memory than by dedicating to the way we live the kind of training she gave us.

GREEN ACRES The crystal ball

Glen Werner, D.A.

SLOUGHS AND DRAINAGE

The months of April and May are characterized by a large number of requests for information on drainage. Generally, the surface water we find in sloughs and water courses belongs to the crown, and is regulated by the Water Resources Act.

The Alberta Water Resources Act states that a person may obtain a license to divert water to control flooding or water erosion providing it does not interfere with the water rights of others. It may be further noted that technically drainage of any type is required to have a permit.

If someone is planning to undertake a drainage project he should follow the following procedure:

1. The landowner must submit a request in writing to the regional administrator of the water resources management division for technical assistance to construct a drainage system.

2. The regional administrator will send a fieldman to inspect the problem and to advise the applicant on whether or not a drainage project is correct; the situation should be investigated.

3. If a diversion project is feasible, the applicant must then get preliminary survey consent forms signed by other landowners who may be affected by the proposed project.

4. Upon receipt of these consent forms, the regional administrator of the water resources management division will arrange for a survey of the area and to have a design.

and cost estimate of the project prepared.

5. Next a meeting of all the landowners who will be affected must be called by the applicant to discuss the proposed project. This meeting will be attended by a representative of the water resources management division.

6. The applicant must obtain a written agreement from all the affected landowners giving him permission to go ahead with the project.

7. The applicant must then apply to the administrator of the water resources management division for permission to proceed with the construction of the project.

8. The water resources management division will send out engineers to carry out a construction survey, after which construction can proceed.

9. The applicant will be issued a license when construction is complete and the project has been inspected and approved by the water resources management division.

The applicant is required to pay for all construction costs related to the project unless the project involves a number of farmers and benefits the whole community. In such cases a cost-sharing agreement may be negotiated with the province.

Finally, if one or more individuals are interested in developing a drainage system, I would be willing to offer any assistance I can. It may be possible that with co-operation and interest from a group of people in a specific area, a complete drainage system could be worked out.

This could be beneficial to all.

Hardisty social club meets

The Hardisty Social Club held their meeting on Tuesday night. A great deal of work has been done in the building and it will soon be ready for painting inside. A lot of this work has been done with George Matthews as the building supervisor. There is a card party followed with a few tables but no one for crib.

The 1st prize winners were Doris and Perry Powell, Margaret Chermak and Isabel Nelson.

The low winners were Mr. and Mrs. C. Tinsdale, Mrs. Barbe Matthews and Mrs. H. Hays.

Mr. and Mrs. John Senger and family of Unity spent Easter at the Cyril Dreyer home. A number of us who know Mrs. Bob Wahlstrom from Hughtenden - Car were terribly saddened by her death due to an unfortunate accident.

Laurel Goodrich celebrated her birthday on there was a cake in her honor.

Marj Keith and Winale Goodrich was the hostess for the.

Shirley McKenzie's sister and her husband and family of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Dyke-mann spent the Easter week-end with the McKenzies. They also brought Karen home with them for the holiday too.

Mr. and Jim Bell and Mrs. Bell's sister left to spend another in Chilliwack.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Tinsdale spent Easter weekend in Saskatchewan visiting her sister and brother, one being at Thunder, Sask.

The Strong Ladies held their meeting at the home of Ruth Stoth.

It appears that a number of showers for future brides are on the program for most every month in the summer. The first one is for Tami Robinson. It was also decided that for helping out at wedding celebrations etc. there will be a small charge, as it is a great deal of work involved, especially in the kitchen.

On Monday, April 26th, Mrs. MacIntyre in the Slany Plain Lodge. Lawrence's mother, celebrated her 91st birthday. Many congratulations for more birthdays.

On April 26th Mrs. Lucille Alderidge of Coronation and Mrs. Iris Walbeck spent the day with their schoolpal, Mrs. Marj Keith.

Sympathy is extended to the George Stuart family in the sudden passing away of Mrs. Elsie Stuart.

While age Fred Drager was asked by Mrs. Penny if he would give the Grade 1 pupils a talk about the pioneer days in Hardisty. One thing they could hardly believe was that Fred's mother always roasted barley as a coffee substitute. This was as done in the Hungry 30's. Your reporter remembers people roasting parade as they were sweeter than some other things. Some grew sugar beets and used that syrup for sugarcane. People ate better in those days than they do now, as there were not the "junkies" food and soft drinks that there are now. It was plain food, but good, no additives either.

Mrs. Paul Drager was rushed to an Edmonton hospital on April 26th after having a stroke and has since passed away so our sincerest sympathy to Paul and family. Also the Bask families on the passing of their sister and to Mr. Ekland whose niece she was.

It is plain to see that we have a very modest father-in-law in town. While going through some back issues of the Edmonton paper what should I read but that G.T. (Gerry) Gilster had been appointed to the post of Assistant Regional Director of Renewable Resources and the Environment, with the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development in Yellowknife. Gerry graduated from the U. of A. with a B. Sc. in Biology in 1967. He also happens to be son-in-law to Jimmy Caranagh, Marlene's husband.

The Ray Lawrasen family of Car had their 40th wedding anniversary on April 26th and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Flinter, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Flinter of Blackfins were there. Mrs. Flinter was the former Edith Peterson brought up at Hardisty and Aunt to James and Cliff Walbeck.

Mr. Bill Wagar and son were visiting in Hardisty and with sister Doris Yankiv.

Word has been received that Mr. Harry Perkins of Victoria has passed on. They celebrated their 26th or 28th wedding anniversary not too long ago and had great expectations of visiting their old friends in the Hardisty area this summer. So we send sympathy to Mrs. Perkins and Gwyneth.

COME ALIVE...

A Christian

"He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath no life" (1 John 5:12). In the opinion of some people, a Christian is anyone who has the marks of a modern civilized man. Others people hold that a Christian is a model of perfection, a being of angelic disposition who lives out of touch with the realities of the world known to most of us. According to this last speaker, the number of real Christians is very, very small.

John says that everyone who has Christ has life. A Christian, a believer in Christ, a follower of His example and teachings, has life. He is in vital connection with the power of life — Jesus Christ. A real Christian is a person who has the life of God in his soul through faith in Jesus Christ. United to Christ, he has the power of a new life coursing through his being.

A real Christian is not merely a person of splendid character and upright life, one who honorably discharges his duties in the home, in the community, and in society in general. A high level of morality is the fruit of the Christian life, not its essence. The real Christian is not merely a person who has publicly professed faith in Christ and become a loyal member of the church. Attendance of services, working in a church, giving of one's substance, do not make one a Christian. A real Christian is not merely a person who refrains from doing such things as lying, stealing, cheating, swearing, drinking, smoking, salvation does not consist in leading oneself down with restrictions. A real Christian is not merely a person who subscribes to a creed, or set of doctrinal beliefs. Doctrines are not the source of life. A real Christian is not a person who is doing the best he can. One becomes a Christian by being born, not by working his way.

What is a real Christian? A real Christian is a person who has come to the realization that he has needs which Jesus Christ alone can meet. He trusts Christ with his whole soul. The basic human need is for pardon of sin and peace with God. The real Christian relies only on Christ for these, believing firmly that he is a saviour who saves unto the uttermost all who come to God by Him. The soul of the real Christian is united to Christ, not on the basis of emotions and feelings, though he may have these, but because he has given himself to Him who gave Himself to us in infinite love through His life, death, and resurrection.

If the Christ you believe is truly living, and He is, you should endeavor to relate to Him, truly, truly and practically. Ritual worship should be the natural and spontaneous expression of our inner faith and belief. Therefore your attendance of services, working in a church, and giving of your substance comes only naturally when you do mean what you believe. Your daily life, your relationship and attitudes to others in your witness of your faith. May God strengthen us so to live our lives the way which will be pleasing to Him.

Hardisty, Alberta
May 2, 1976

Community Press
Sedgewick, Alberta.

Dear Sir,

I am a member of the Hardisty Figure Skating Club. I take exception to the letter appearing in the April 24th edition of the Community Press. Since the writer of that letter didn't let it sign his or her name, I believe he or she knows the complaints stated are not based on fact, and does not want to defend his or her accusations. Brains were allowed for lunch and "warm-up" time.

As for her tracking ability, on March 17th, Test Day, held in Hardisty, even some of the skaters in their first year with this Pro succeeded in obtaining their first figures and dances.

Then, in Sedgewick on March 14th, Champions Day, our club, under her guidance, brought home ten medals, 5 gold, 3 silver and 2 bronze. I am happy to allow the press to apply for the club with the most points. Some of these were won by first year students. I imagine that compares favourably with the records of past Pros.

As for the "cliqueish attitude" perhaps the unnamed writer is referring to the few parents who do attend the club meetings. It may be the lack of parental concern, and the leaving of all the work and worry to the few dedicated members who choose to call it "Clique". The door has always been open to all interested and will remain so.

If you have complaints, the place to air them is at the club meetings and "NOT" in unsigned letters in the paper. Sincerely, Jean Crofton.

BATTLE RIVER 4-H MULTI

The evening of May 8th brought the Leather and Auto motive to an end as they displayed their finished projects. It was the achievement night for nine members who had completed another year. The leather judge for the evening was Mrs. Carl Arntsen from Sedgewick. We would like to thank Carl for coming out and judging for us. There was no business brought up other than camp etc. which we were all urged to attend. Communications brought many members becoming salaried in an important manner. Recreation gave us all a challenge of having a tug-of-war with leather strips between our teeth. The best achievement day and sale is on June 11 in Killam and everyone is welcome. We would also appreciate some local support.

Mrs. Stuart laid to rest at Hardisty Cemetery

Elsie Stuart (nee Heber) was born in Colwood, Minn. on September 21, 1891. She passed away suddenly April 28, 1976 at her home in Hardisty, Alta.

Elsie came with her parents to Laughlin in 1911. A few years later they moved to a homestead north of Hardisty. In 1919 she married George Stuart, who leaves to mourn her husband, George, 2 sons, Lloyd and Fred and 1 daughter, Mrs. Pearl Heve. All reside in Hardisty. There are 11 grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren.

Elsie was one of twelve children of Mr. and Mrs. William Heber. She was predeceased by her parents, one sister Mrs. Phoebe Stuart, and four brothers, Johnnie, Roy, Lou, and Tommy. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Dolly Lanning of Meadow Lake, Sask., and five brothers, Frank, Bob, Lee and Willie of Valleyview, Alta. and Clarence of Hardisty.

George and Elsie farmed north of Hardisty until 1972 when they moved into town and during the spring and summer they frequently returned to their home on the farm to spend the day. She had always loved gardening and was one of the favorite people with a green thumb.

Elsie took an active part in community projects as long as her health permitted. She was a good neighbor and many were happy to know her as a friend.

Hardisty couple celebrate 50th

Cyril and Marguerite (nee Rogers) were married on March 3rd, 1926 in Lumbly, B.C. coming back to Hardisty and farming here ever since.

A family dinner was held on Saturday night, March 6, with 48 present. Their 8 children were present for the occasion with their wives and husbands, also 19 grandchildren and one great grandson enjoyed the Chinese supper held at the Park Cafe, Hardisty.

Cyril and Marguerite were presented with a ticket to Toronto from the family and a set of luggage from their grandchildren. The presentation was made by their two grandsons Hugh Cooke and Danny Byrne of Vancouver. Marguerite and Cyril thanked them all.

On Sunday March 7th open house was held at the Elks Hall with 250 signing the guest book with Valerie Meland, granddaughter and Karen Kells, a friend of the family, in charge.

Seated at the head table with Cyril and Marguerite were Marguerite's sister Gerlie (Mrs. L. Chacey) who was her bridesmaid and brother-in-law Lon Chacey of Victoria, also their 8 children, Florence, Mrs. Don Byrne, Marlan, Mrs. Bill Cooke, Yvonne, Mrs. John Stinger, Marguerite, Mrs. Hugo Meland, Ken, Douglas, Jim and Roy.

The table was beautifully decorated with a gold cloth and lace cloth over top, and in the center was the lovely 3 tier cake baked by their daughter-in-law Iris and decorated by Brenda Tillman, friend of the family with white and yellow roses and green leaves and 3 gold bells.

Rev. Jackson told the blessing. A short program was provided by local talent. Mr. Gus Johnson acted as M.C. introducing the head table and told a short history of the Drifters. Telegrams were read from Premier Peter Lougheed, Rt. Hon. Pierre E. Trudeau, Gov. General and Madame Legov.

M.L.A. Arnold Malone, M.P. and Lt. Gov. Ralph Stelmach and several phone calls from Edmonton, Inuvik, Ft. McMurray, B.C., Kelowna B.C., Port Alberni B.C. and Nanaimo, B.C.

Carl Barker of Edmonton, a friend of the family made the presentation of a purse of money from the community.

Cyril and Marguerite then thanked everyone.

Marguerite chose a dark blue floor length crepe skirt with white flowered top and her corsage was of red roses, a gift to each other were gold wrist watches.

Out of town guests were from Edmonton, Wetaskiwin, Camrose, Killam, Sedgewick, Lacombe, Viking, Irma, Wainwright, Lloydminster, Alliance, Cassiar, Carmichael and Sherwood Park.

Lunch was served by the Sunshine Club Young Ladies and Anglican Ladies Guild as well as friends.

The anniversary cake was served by their four daughters. Cyril's youngest sister Jean from Noseday, later Bert and Jo Dwyer, Calgary.

Anna Lowmick and Joe Saraga were married in St. Joseph's Church, Hardisty on May 2nd, 1951 by Father McCarthy. As their 25th wedding anniversary came around, they entertained their relatives and friends to a lovely banquet at the Hardisty Elks Hall and later, to an open house and dinner, with music by the Sprinklers.

Joe went to school in Hardisty, as did his sisters Rose Korath, Helen Selover, Mary Pellett, Ann Holden, all of Edmonton. They, along with their husbands and families, attended the celebration. Other former Hardisty residents attending included: Kay Wilchey from New York with her brother George and wife Rose from Willingham; Mrs. Winkurk with son Mike and Sophie; Miss Elissa Church, a good family friend whose parents lived for some years where Joe and Anna now live; Mr. and Mrs. John Pryko of Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Quinlan with Marguerite's sister, Mrs. Ann Buckley and husband; Mrs. Edith (Elmquist) Wetzel and husband; Maxine and Bradley Bock of Wetaskiwin; Bernadette Salamon, Mills (Givens) Stelmach and husband; and Teresa (Bach) and husband.

Those from near included Mr. and Mrs. Sernauschuk, Wally and Kay, Ted and Helen Greenock and Bill.

The Hovith ladies were kept very busy serving the meal, doing dishes and taking care of the lunch for open house.

Many relatives and guests came from Dryden, Ontario, Red Deer, Wetaskiwin, Camrose, Stornoway, Park, Strathmore, New York, Willingham, Leduc, Vegreville, Lloydminster, Allamogosa, Calgary, Sedgewick, Lacombe and Crar.

We all join in wishing Joe and Anna many more years of happy married life.

Homecoming shaping up

by Doris Saunders
Leiters are arriving daily from former citizens. They are coming to our Homecoming from as far away as Hawaii, Southern U.S. and Eastern Canada.

Many are coming with campers or trailers but others are staying rooms. There are not enough hotel or motel rooms available. If you have not already offered to open your home to paying guests and you have room for anyone would you please get in touch with Mr. A.H. Saunders at 385-3909.

Boys and girls with bikes or bonanzas you can help too. Guides will be needed for our visitors to find their accommodations. All the members of the community are urged to offer their assistance.

Plan to attend a community meeting on June 9th to find out how you can help too and help entertain our many thousands of expected guests.

Higher oil prices certain

by Kevin Peterson

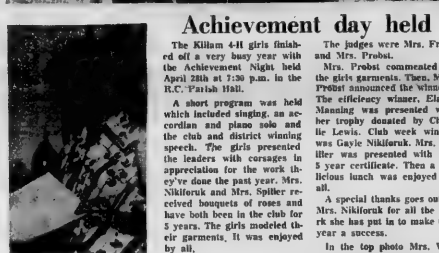

The Lougheed government has been going out of its way to keep Albertans from expecting too much when energy prices increase again July 1.

While Ottawa agrees to its recently announced strategy that rates should move closer to international levels, the target of "fair value" appears to be more elusive and ill-defined than ever.

At $8 a barrel, Canadian Crude remains priced about $1 below world rates. Without committing themselves, federal and provincial leaders talk of hikes to a $1 to $2 range.

Modest 12 to 25 per cent increases could leave Canadian prices no closer to international levels after further Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries hikes expected this year. Meanwhile, Alberta reserves will continue depleting.

Energy Minister Don Getty told the Legislature the ideal price for Canada could be sometimes higher, occasionally lower than the OPEC figure.

Achievement day held

The Killam 4-H girls finished off a very busy year with the Achievement Night held April 28th at 7:30 p.m. in the R.C. Parish Hall.

A short program was held which included singing, an accordion and piano solo and the club and district winning speech. The girls presented the leaders with corsages in appreciation for the work they've done the past year. Mrs. Nikiforuk and Mrs. Spiller received bouquets of roses and have both been in the club for 5 years. The girls modeled their garments. It was enjoyed by all.

The judges were Mrs. Frost and Mrs. Probst.

Mrs. Probst commented on the girls' garments. Then, Mrs. Probst announced the winners. The efficiency winner, Elaine Manning was presented with her trophy donated by Charles Lewis. Club week winner was Gayle Nikiforuk. Mrs. Spiller was presented with her 5 year certificate. Then a delicious lunch was enjoyed by all.

A special thanks goes out to Mrs. Nikiforuk for all the work she has put in to make this year a success.

Mrs. Theresa Spiller is shown admiring her certificate for her 5 years of working with the Killam 4-H Nimble Needle Clothing Club.

In the presence of a large congregation, the Sacrament of Confirmation was administered by the Rt. Rev. John A. Langness, Bishop of the Anglican Diocese of Edmonton, assisted by Rev. Richard Conrad, at St. John's Anglican Church, Sedgewick, on the morning of May 9th.

During the service, eight candidates were confirmed, having prepared themselves through eight months of study under the direction of Rev. Conrad. These confirmed were:

New matron at Hardisty

Mrs. Daphne Mulholland has taken over duty as Matron for the Hardisty General Hospital.

Mrs. Mulholland was born in British Columbia and spent most of her life in that province. She has three grown children.

Mrs. Mulholland took her training at Kamloops Hospital. She has just finished studying at Camosun College in Victoria.

LOUGHEED W.L. HONORS

MRS. L. SKOBERG

A most enjoyable evening was spent in the Legion Hut on April 7th when the "Mansions" as well as the "honors" of the Lougheed W.L. "Silent Sisters" contest paraded a delicious ham and scallops supper provided by the "honors". Former members, Miss F. Barton, Mrs. Frewing, Mrs. T. Chouinard, Mr. H. Pope, Mrs. G. Probst, and Mrs. W. Klugman were special guests. The honored guest of the evening was Mrs. L. Skoberg who is a Charter member and has been a very active member for 60 years.

During the supper hour the President, Mrs. E. Peterson, in a few words of sincere appreciation of her efficient and faithful service to the W.L., presented Mrs. Skoberg with a framed Golden Anniversary scroll. Mrs. Skoberg thanked the group, saying she had enjoyed every minute she had spent on W.L. work during the 60 years.

After supper Mrs. G. Marlow gave an interesting commentary as she showed slides of several places visited during holidays.

The happy evening closed with coffee and dainties.

Confirmation service held at St. John's by Brenda Martin and Debra Martin of Lougheed. Wendy Furek and Elaine Furek of Killam, Patricia Davidson of Hardisty, Kathy Keith, Helen Russell and Robert Conrad of Sedgewick, each was presented with a lapel pin to commemorate the occasion by St. John's Mission.

Following the service, a congregational dinner was held in the Parish Hall. At the conclusion of the meal, a special confirmation cake baked and decorated by Mrs. Dan Cookson, was cut and served.

HOUSING ALTERNATIVES
MOBILE HOUSING

Mobile homes usually bring thoughts of a "trailer" to most people's minds. However, the cramped trailer type of unit is a thing of the past. The vehicular concept has permeated as most units are permanently located and not moved around as they once were.

Construction of mobile homes on an assembly line basis in a factory allows a high degree of control over production. The unit is not subject to weathering while being built but the assembly line method of building does limit floor plans available. The homes are usually built in cycles. That is, one plan is made several times, then changed and so on. It could take two or three months to get a model that is out of stock.

Any mobile home made or sold in Alberta conforms to C.S.A. standards. Options such as extra insulation, larger capacity furnaces, etc. make some models more suitable than others for some families.

The reputation of the dealer is extremely important in buying a mobile home. He is responsible for seeing to it that the unit up, making sure everything is working and repairing any transportation damage. Don't be afraid to enquire of previous customers, consumer agencies, and the Better Business Bureau in making a decision about choosing a dealer. He is the one who will handle any problems you have.

Proper blocking is a major concern of mobile housing. It can be either accepted pile foundings and beams or a full basement foundation. Blocking has to provide a rigid foundation, a level floor so all utilities function properly and must prevent sagging which results in expensive repairs.

Construction of mobile homes varies with the manufacturer. All of them have warm floors and adequate structure using 2x4 or 2x6 or truss joist construction.

In the best regulated layout, more efficient air circulation is effected if there are branch ducts to enter walls rather than a single duct down the centre of the unit.

Wall studing requirements are 2x2 or 2x4. The narrower wall offers only insulation value of R5 or R7. Options are available to R12 insulation are available. In some models, some manufacturers use polystyrene vapour barrier, others use only the vapour barrier provided by the insulation.

Roof construction is usually pre-built but trusses with one piece galvanized roof on single sides or half trusses with asphalt shingles on double widths. Some manufacturers offer slung sides with gable roof construction.

Interior finishing is usually good quality and requires low maintenance. Furnishings offered are adequate quality and usually a choice of price ranges is available. Kitchen appliances and cupboards are good quality. Draperies are included in the furniture package.

Shipping another is important to get the best deal. Cost will depend to some extent on the dealers policy. Generally up to ten per cent savings can be made for cash deals with no trade-in.

Costs: Mobile housing break-down per square foot is as follows:
Foundation (full basement) $4.00; Utility hook-up: $2.50; Furniture: $1.00; Mobile section: $10.00 to $12.00. This makes for an approximate total cost of $22.50 to $28.50 per square foot. If site fees are included instead of a full basement used this cost is reduced to $21.50 to $27.50 per square foot. This cost will vary somewhat in different areas and situations.

Generally, the advantages to mobile housing are low cost per square foot, housing is available very quickly (no contractor needed), the product is uniform because it is built in a controlled environment; but some mobile housing has exterior and interior maintenance.

Some disadvantages: Entry area and doorways are small in single widths; interior finish is all wall paneling; shorter term financing is usually available; and floor plans are limited and unalterable. There is also a problem of matching roof and exterior with porches or any addition. A porch is often added to give extra storage space and a larger entry. Depreciation of a mobile home is a present concern but at the present time, not a disadvantage because the cost of housing is increasing at such a rate that resale value of mobile homes is generally as good or more than purchase price.

In new double-width, long narrow hallways are no longer a problem. Next week, we'll take a look at sectional or modular housing.

ALBERTA WOMEN'S WEEK

BAYSITTING SERVICES

Babysitting services will be provided for children up to 8 years of age. This service is limited to the first 30 out of town registrations.

A daily children's program is provided in addition to babysitting. Further information and registration forms are available from any office.

MINI-WILD OAT HERBICIDES

Growers would like to mix herbicides for three main reasons: reduce cost, extend the spray period for wild oats and get both wild oats and broad-leaved weeds.

Consequently, research has begun and the results show much promise. The combinations involving wild oat control are NOT registered for farm use yet. Federal authorities must be sure of safety especially from rodents, but some mixtures may receive an okay by next year.

However, it will be helpful to know what researchers have found out so far even if you cannot use them this year.

Lately the most important work has been done at the University of Alberta, financed by a grant from the province of Alberta and United Grain Growers Ltd.

Here is a summary of their results to date:
The interaction between (Carbyne), which is normally effective at the latest stage, was "synergistic", when used on wheat.

That means that the two together kill wild oats better than each alone and what's more, the mixture does it at a lower rate for each chemical.

The report adds that WL 2070, a close relative of carbyne but not registered yet, is even more synergistic.

The researchers tried a mixture of Carbyne and Avenge and described it as being "additive", not as active as synergistic. The mixture gave a standard kind of control, relative to other post-emergent herbicides, for wild oats in barley and wheat.

However, Carbyne did not work with Hoe-Grass, a new herbicide being introduced by Hoechst Chemicals that everyone seems to be talking about.

But Hoe-Grass and Avenge did work well together, and at a reduced rate, on barley and without causing injury to the barley.

So this mixture may be important since Hoe-Grass used alone at rates needed for wheat and barley would not control any injury barley.

The mixture of Hoe-Grass and Avenge is additive; it takes less of each to obtain a good kill of wild oats.

The researchers, Dr. P.A. O'Sullivan and Dr. H.W. Van der Horst, found out some other intriguing things too:

With the exception of (Avenge) these herbicides failed to control wild oats when mixed with "growth regulator" type, broadcast herbicides. This "antagonism", they say, has something to do with the male up of those types of broadcast herbicide formulations (2, 4-D, MCPA and Dicamba).

What's more, this antagonism works only in one direction: the mixture still gets the broad-leaved weeds but not the wild oats. That's not "it" yet, the wild oats. That's not "it" yet, the wild oats. That's not "it" yet, the wild oats.

The antagonism varied from most with dicamba formulations to least with MCPA formulations. However, the Grass is compatible with low rates of Burdick "M" or Avenge, which are non-hormone type herbicides.

Consequently, the researchers recommend that the search to find practical mixtures involving wild oat control, be focused on the non-growth hormone type materials.

We have been experiencing a considerable amount of IBR with new cattle arriving at our feedlot. There are very few in the area of research being done on this disease? H. L. Ford - Killam

In consultation with the Western Veterinary College of Saskatoon, IBR sometimes referred to as "Red Nose" or "Chlamydia", is caused by a specific virus which attacks the upper respiratory passages (trachea, mucosa membranes and larynx). The disease affects both beef and dairy cattle in the feedlot and has been diagnosed in many provinces and most of the parts of the United States.

IBR is characterized by excessive nasal discharge, elevated temperatures, coughing, increased respiration, depression and loss of appetite. The disease may resemble shipping fever. While mortality is not severe (3% to 8%) a very serious loss of weight results.

Usually the disease appears three or more weeks after animals are started on feed in the corral, when they are reaching full feed and starting to lose considerable flesh. Outbreaks may also appear in beef cattle in prime condition and almost ready for market.

Weight loss in these animals is very costly. This disease does not respond readily to treatment. Therefore, treatment is necessary only if secondary pneumonia develops and then only support, the animal is off feed and seriously ill and breathing heavily.

Vaccines against IBR are available but their efficacy has been difficult to evaluate. Some feedlot operators feel even these vaccines do not entirely prevent disease. It does help by reducing the effects of the disease.

It is always advisable to consult your local veterinarian for a proper diagnosis and treatment.

We have a very informative bulletin available in L.B.R. at the Feed Mill, can be obtained at the Mill at no cost.

Here is a crunchy, nutritious bread that utilizes whole grain flours in a most delicious combination.
COLONIAL BREAD
2 pkgs. dry granular yeast
1/2 cup warm water
1/2 cup cornmeal
1/2 cup brown sugar (part honey may be used)
1 tsp. salt
2 cups boiling water
1/4 cup vegetable oil

1/2 cup rye flour
4 1/2 cups of all-purpose flour
Dissolve yeast in warm water. Combine cornmeal, sugar, salt, boiling water and oil in large warm bowl. Cool to lukewarm, stir in yeast. Add the 2 flours gradually, enough to make a stiff dough. To give cup Good deed club elect new slate

The May meeting of the Hardisty Hospital Aux was called to order on the 12th at the Hospital with the Lord's Prayer.

The President gave a report received from the Hospital planning board concerning a new hospital and what it should include.

The President then reported that the bluffs had been very successful and thanked everyone who had helped.

A sweater set was donated by Mrs. Millie Hedman toward the showcase.

It was agreed that the Aux. would conduct a Heart Campaign in February.

Due to complications involved with sponsoring a New Year's baby contest, the Aux. decided instead to present the mother of each baby born in the hospital with a stainless steel cup engraved with the Auxiliary name.

Thirteen members and five guests met at the home of Oma Thorp in Hardisty on May 15th, where the Hardisty Good Deed Club held their annual meeting for the election of a new slate of officers. Visitors included Mrs. McClements, Sr., Val Johnson, Molly Ferry, Bonnie Matthews and Nadie McClements.

President Irene Crenay welcomed guests and members before asking for the minutes and various reports. Irene distributed the new shipment of tea towel material for hemming, and Adelaide McClements delivered the new material for the next year's quilt. Kate Drager handed in three lovely crib quilts, and displayed some attractive material she had purchased to make baby blankets for the club. Twelve books were handed in by several of our super saleswomen, and Nadie McClements presented the club with a cheque for $350.00, a gift from the former McBride Community Society. Irene expressed the club's gratitude for a most generous donation.

A lovely thank-you card was received from Gary, Sheila and Clinton for the baby gift, and Violet Metts gave an enthusiastic thank-you for the illustrated round-robin birthday letter she received.

Molly and Nadie joined in the project of each taking a set of tea-towels to hem, bleach and embroider; thanks you ladies!

Violet Metts was the hostess prize, and also the privilege of having the June meeting, with Gerry Metts as hostess. Birthday gifts were Alvin Parsons, Gram Thorp and Vi Copeland, who were treated to a most delicious rendition of Happy Birthday, and a luncheon lunch, with the assistance of all those attending. Later pictures were taken of the members and their belated but fabulous Easter bonnets, which were decorated with everything from lightbulbs to nosegays.

Nadie McClements and Bonnie Matthews officiated at the election of officers and at the next meeting our dignitaries will be President Kay Cox, Vice-President Violet Metts, Secretary Gram Thorp, Treasurer Jo McClements, Reporter - Kate Drager, Sick Committee Adelaide McClements and Gerry Metts, and Sewing Convener Doris Swanson.

Killam Sr. Citizens meet

President Marian Wilson called the meeting to order, reading a short article entitled "The Miracle of Spring".

Minutes were corrected and approved as reported. A list of collect newspapers, magazines and cardinals, Camille and Bircene were ready works on the project. Any Robinson, Chris Enghol and Ed North are heading the committee.

Clara Schuster read a letter from Horst Schmidt and Henry Krueger re the grant given our club.

We are renewed our membership in the "Albion" Council as "Angels" magazine. Several visits were made to the W or shut-ins. Happy Birthday was sung to members having a birthday in May.

Karen Enghol and Janice Friedrich volunteered to be the sponsoring committee. We will serve the Pancake Supper at the Killam Hotel on June 10th. We desire to have a float in the Homecoming Parade in August.

Everyone enjoyed a lovely lunch after adjournment. What will be played on May 25th at 8:30 p.m. Everyone welcome.

for all the comforts of home.

Have you ever stopped to think of what single common household item and your family less than 50¢ a day? Every day?

You might say milk - providing your family uses less than a quart a day, priced anywhere from 5¢ to 57¢. But in general, a family with two or more children requires more than a quart daily - for cooking, baking and as a beverage.

If you drive a car, you might say gasoline. This could be true if you used less than a gallon a day. But how far will three-quarters of a gallon of gas take you? And you can't buy a gallon of gas for 50¢.

You might have come up with several answers. But if you said electricity, you were right on!

During the past few years everything has risen in price. Electricity is no exception. In 1975 the average residential customer on the Calgary Power system paid $138.47 - or 30¢ a day. In January, 1976 the Public Utilities Board granted an interim rate increase of approximately 14%. This means that residential customers now pay on the average 44¢ a day - a rise of only 6¢.

That's about that for a minute. For only 44¢ a day, you can give your entire family an joy light, cooking, refrigeration plus radio and television entertainment - not to mention the other electrical conveniences you may own. We think 44¢ is a very nice price for all the comforts of home. Don't you?

An instruction booklet accompanies the Population and Housing Questionnaire, and, in most cases, a pre-paid addressed envelope will be included in the census package as well. Householders who receive this envelope will use it to mail back their completed questionnaires; households who do not receive one will have their questionnaires picked up by the Census representatives between June 2 and June 18.

As in the 1971 Census, households will complete their questionnaire in the privacy of their homes using either the pencil provided by the Census, or any other suitably sized pencil.

Census representatives began delivering questionnaires to every household in Canada in preparation for the Tuesday, June 1st national census. Officials said that most urban households can expect to receive a questionnaire between May 25 and 28. Farmers and those living in rural areas will receive them between May 31 and 2.

Killam Devcon "Main Street" project continued this week with a new park being grassed. The park is situated on the north end of main street and has been landscaped and grassed with sod.

The project is under the supervision of Danny Dammann and he was assisted by school students as shown by these photos.

Another park on Killam's main street is also underway under the project. Situated on the south end of main street, it is planned for the lot adjacent to the town office.

B.R.T.A. wins award

The Battle River Tourist Association has won the Travel Industry Association of Canada "Awards Promotes Award For Calgary Area" year round tourism promotion in an area with a population under 100,000.

News of the award with congratulations, was received early enough to arrange for President John Gust of Battle River to be on hand to receive the recognition on behalf of the local association. Mr. Gust accompanied by his wife, was present at the Annual Dinner of the Annual meeting of the Travel Industry Association of Canada being held in Quebec City Tuesday, May 18, 1976.

The Quebec is taking place the Tuesday. May 18, 1976. The Association of Canada is a national organization in Canada and the annual meeting of the Battle River Tourist Association has been won the "Grey Line Award" emblematic of having the best tourism promotion in Alberta for the year 1960 and 1975. However, this is the first time that it has ever received any award in a national competition.

MLA's leave business unfinished

Even though the price hikes $1.75 to $3.75 to $15.25 to 25 cents to $1. for gas in Canada - won't fully be in effect until Jan. 1, 1977, the overall deal including the U.S. rate will swell the government's yearly income by about $42 million.

While the administration works out energy arrangements, gaps in the year's program promised in March's throne speech are expected to be filled over the summer and by the time a house fall sitting, starting Oct. 13, winds up.

A new planning act, in the works more than two years now, was once again delayed but will be released in the form of a statement this summer, then possibly passed in the fall after more time to gather public reaction.

An overall policy for coal development still awaits the winds. Energy Minister Don Getty expects to unveil it by early summer.

Controversial liquor law revisited over a new agreement, alleged disparities in the conservative caucus. Solicitor-General Ray Barran will attempt licensing reforms by cabinet regulation over the summer and the idea of new legislation may be dropped.

Question:
How stable is Vitamin "A" in supplements and pelleted commercial feeds, how long can feeds be stored prior to feeding the Vitamin "A" potency? Ed Blasier - Killam Answer:

A three-year study of vitamin A stability in commercial feeds by South Dakota Department of Agriculture indicated that the vitamin coverage of premix and formulations did not appear to be adequate to offset the losses due to processing and storage. The experiments involved 1,232 commercial feeds randomly sampled and analyzed during 1971 to 1974. The researchers said the loss of vitamin A was more than 80% in a one-year time. The vitamin A loss

Carr, Mrs. Eva Smith, Mrs. Sophie Adams, Mrs. Dolly Johnson, Mr. Wilfred Cressy, Mr. Ernest Vincent, Mr. Chris Ponto, Mr. Ervin Ponto, Mr. Fred Blett, Mr. Carroll Savary, Mrs. Elizabeth Bower, Mr. Paul DeWitt, Mr. David McGowan, Mrs. Jean McGowan, Mr. Bert Lewis, Mrs. Ethel Less, Mr. Ernest Ferguson, Mrs. Adeline Fletcher, Mr. Ray Granger, Mrs. Maudie Jackson, Mr. Gary Wilks, Mr. George Hobbs, Mrs. Lydia Blumhage.

In commercial was evident even if the commercial feeds contained stabilized vitamin A supplements.

The results of these experiments led the researchers to recommend that Vitamin A supplements not be stored for a prolonged period prior to feedings. The shortage of vitamin A is always a potential danger for cattle raised on range and during prolonged dry periods. Supplementation of Vitamin A appears to be the best method to provide insurance against possible vitamin A deficiency. The tests showed that vitamin A does not appear to be very stable in commercial feeds.

The researchers selected and studied four commercial feeds in each year of their study: two stock blocks and two beef supplements. The feeds were stored in a warehouse under normal storage conditions and sampled every month for one year. Of the 1,232 feeds analyzed, 11,426 were found deficient in vitamin A (300% less than label guarantee) and not passed in 1972-73; 11,567 were found deficient in 1973-74 and 21,176 were found deficient in 1974-75.

Crude protein, crude fat and crude fibre contents of the commercial feeds analyzed did not change with one year's storage.

SECTIONAL HOUSING

Last week we talked about the pros and cons of mobile homes. This week we're going to look at sectional housing. It's a type of housing that is not complete, that is, without foundation, but water heater or cupboards, for less than a complete package if he desires.

Almost every option available to the site-built home-owner, such as fireplace, kitchen, living room, third garage, up-level, level, etc., can be incorporated into a sectional home.

Site preparation is important for sectional housing. The homeowner must be ready when the home arrives or the home must be held on the truck which is very expensive. The owner must also be ready for the truck to unload the home - a level area, 10 feet at the foundation and about 20 feet at the rear end of the foundation.

Transportation and setup is a major cost factor in sectional housing - $1.00 to $1.50 per square foot should be allowed. The interior finishing cost can cost about $1.50 per square foot. The section home itself may cost about $17.00 - $20.00 per square foot. (These costs are only an approximation.) This gives a total cost of $20.00 to $25.00 a square foot.

Manufacturers generally require 15% of the cost to start construction 15% when complete and 15% when complete.

built homes. Sections are built on the trailer because they are supported by steel axles - as in site built houses.

It is possible for a buyer to purchase a home that is not complete, that is, without foundation, but water heater or cupboards, for less than a complete package if he desires.

etc. Of course you should also have some feedback on the construction of the home is completely satisfactory.

Advantages to sectional homes are: speed of erection (hours can usually be completed in 4-6 weeks from start of construction); there is little chance for weather to influence construction and therefore the product is uniform; they are over-built to withstand handling; unlimited selection of floorplans; and the appearance of the house inside and outside is no different from site-built home.

Disadvantages are: high transportation costs; importance of site preparation; high initial down payment required; possible problem of transportation to outlying area regarding roads and bridges.

Next week we'll talk about prefabricated package housing.

REMINISCES

RECIPE BOX

Homemade yogurt is easy and fun to make. You don't need an electric yogurt maker if you have one - go ahead and try it. Yogurt has been around for centuries but electricity hasn't.

Once the yogurt culture has been added, try to keep a constant temperature (100-105 degrees F.), and extremes in temperature could cause a failure. Once yogurt does begin to be jelled while it's growing. Your finished yogurt should be rich, mild and creamy (commercial yogurt often has gelatin added, which gives it a very firm consistency).

If you don't enjoy plain yogurt, mix it with sliced fresh fruit or with canned fruit (including the syrup).

YOGURT

- 1 c. boiling water
 - 4 c. skim milk powder
 - 2 tsp. yogurt (plain yogurt from the store)
 - 2 cups lukewarm water
 - 1 can (10 oz.) evaporated milk
- Stir skim milk gradually into boiling water. Add lukewarm water, then yogurt. Add evaporated milk. Beat out any lumps with rotary beater. Pour into jars of about the same size. Put jar into a pot, fill with warm water to the neck of the jar. Cover and let sit until thick. Keep the water at a warm temperature by changing it 2-4 times (takes 4-6 hours to thicken).

Learning options

As coordinator of Flagstaff Further Education, I would like to encourage adults young and old to participate in the many courses which are available through our council. These courses present a pleasant atmosphere for learning, as well as making one aware of their many capabilities. We must never underestimate ourselves. Come fall, we hope to offer good courses for every age group.

Most of the communities in the County are conducting a survey of fall needs for courses. If you have not completed one of these forms, please feel free to contact me at (284-3831) or (284-3555). We do have contact persons in most of the urban centres, however, you may not be acquainted with your area contact. In this case, inquire of me or other people within your area. We must find out the wants of the people in every area, in order that we can start setting up fall courses. We are also interested in resource personnel, as well as people who know how to use special talents and would be willing to assist our Further Education Council in the field of learning.

Join and achieve. Get into the swing of further education. No need for one to be bored today.

John Johnson, Coordinator, Flagstaff Further Education Council.

Services held for Sedgewick resident

Stuart Gately was born March 18, 1911 in Perth Scotland, coming with his parents to Sedgewick in 1921, where he settled on the family farm. Stuart took over the farm when his parents moved to Sedgewick in 1951.

He was a quiet, thoughtful husband and father, making a happy home for his family. Stuart was a kind and helpful neighbor. Music was part of his life. At an early age he began playing in the Fairgrove district orchestra and later formed a close association with the Killam Orchestra.

Through this association he derived much pleasure and fond memories. He was an active member of the Sedgewick United Church, serving on the board of Stewards for many years and enjoyed his affiliation with the church choir. Carling was another of the activities he enjoyed and spent many happy times at the Curling Club with his many friends.

He is sadly missed by his loving wife Betty, daughter Pat (Mrs. Dale Erickson), son David and youngest daughter Margaret. Three grandchildren: Stephanie, Christopher and Danielle. One brother Ron of Vancouver, close and dear relatives and a host of friends.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Robert Chappell in the Sedgewick United Church April 29, 1976. Pallbearers were: Willie Hallum.

Better Need Control

Why Banvel is a good buy this year

Buckwheat, Cow Cockle, Smartweed, Horn Nettle and Canada Thistle are increasing in severity because they are not controlled by 2,4-D or MCPA. This year a "tank-mix" of Banvel plus 2,4-D or MCPA will kill just about all the bad "broadleaved" weeds in your cereal crop for less than $2.00 per acre.

Killam reunion for '76

by Doris Saunders

The highest point of our homecoming '76 will be an inter-denominational Church Service at 11 a.m. on Sunday, August 8th. Regular services in all Killam Churches will be cancelled so that everyone can be there. The clergymen of the respective churches will take part. The guest speaker will be our own much loved and respected Sister Mary Lourdes who will be here to celebrate with us. Her topic will be, "Christ in Our Homecoming."

We hope to have an inter-denominational choir. If these interested please offer their services and contact Doris M. Saunders at 385-3885 or we may have a good choir with many voices. Watch for practice dates in July.

Immediately after the service the Lieutenant-Governor, Ralph Steinhilber, will make a presentation to those citizens who have resided here continuously for seventy years.

Premier Lougheed will be on hand to bring greetings from the province.

Mark your calendar for Aug. 8th, 1976 and let's all celebrate together at the Killam Centennial Park!

Walk your fields.

The only sure way to hunt out wild oats.

The only way you can be sure you have wild oats is to walk your fields. To help you check your wild oats, we offer you the Carbyne... "Wild Oat Counter", shown below. Take it to your fields. Put it on the ground and count the wild oats in the square foot. This will give you a good idea of what these wild oats will cost you... when you consider that just one wild oat per square foot cuts per acre yields of wheat 3.2 bushels. See us about your supply of Carbyne.

Too many people or too few facilities?

The Big Knife Provincial Park at Foreburg were left an impression as a result of camping May 25th, weekend. The top photo shows four sites, 9 to 12, of the 51 sites at the park. Usually this accommodates 4 units and not eight shows here. There were 3 over-erflow areas for the over 200 units registered and 296 people, along with a host of pic- nickers besides that. It would seem to me that a great deal of expansion of fac- ilities are needed. The funds, an estimated $100,000 could at least provide the basics such as tables, stoves and bathroom facilities. There is a need for even the rustic of sanitary facilities when a check shows only 8 double toilets for the over 1000 people there last weekend.

This may be good use for the government's "Heritage Fund" since my heritage did not happen to be roughing it in the early 1900's. Further observations revealed that there were only three park people on duty to try and look after the needs of all the people. They were responsible for such things as registering cars and campers and people, checking on firewood and water and cleaning the toilets. They also had to patrol the whole park area as well. It is certainly a great deal to ask of a staff.

Come Alive ...

STOP! Have you forgotten something? What is important in our thoughts as we go about our busy daily schedules? Dr. Kenneth McFarland, educational consultant at the University of Alberta, wrote recently in the Chicago Daily News: "We have educated our heads, but we have not educated our hearts. Now, the need seems to be for an educated heart. Never before have we had so much wealth per capita. Never have we been so physically comfortable. Yet, never have we lived under such strain. Never have so many of our people occupied beds for the mentally ill. Never have we felt so insecure. Never have we felt so close to a general failure of the human spirit; never so close to moral bankruptcy! One does not need to be a theologian to know that the person who would keep in the glare of the sun under the extreme stress of modern living must enjoy an active partnership with a Power that is higher than himself. The question then is, Do we enjoy this active partnership? In the glare of earthly pleasures, in the fight for earthly treasures, 'mid your blessing without measure, have you forgotten God? God indispensable as in II Corinthians 4:18: "Look not at the things which are seen, but at the things that are not seen; for the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal."

Better Weed Control

Why Banvel is a good buy this year

Buckwheat, Cow Chick, Smartweed, Hemp Nettle, and Canada Thistle are increasing in severity because they are not controlled by 2,4-D or MCPA. This year a "ban-mix" of Banvel plus 2,4-D or MCPA will kill just about all the bad "broadleaved" weeds in your cereal crop for less than $2.00 per acre.

See your Banvel service agent dealer for the full story on Banvel.

Commended for bravery

On April 7th, 1976, Superintendent S.M. Ramnag, Officer Commanding R.C.M. Police, Red Deer Sub-division presented the Commissioner's Commendation Plaque to Cst. J.A.R. Byrne of Killam Detachment for bravery and courage displayed in the apprehension of an extremely dangerous and armed person while on duty. Cst. Byrne was stationed at Cadogan, Alberta on November 25th, 1972. Brief circumstances of this incident reveal that a Police vehicle was fired upon by a person using a .203 calibre rifle from a distance of approximately 50 yards. The Police vehicle was struck three times by bullets and one of the shots struck one of the Police personnel on the left shoulder causing a minor flesh wound. Cst. Byrne proceeded to the scene and confronted the suspect, ordered the suspect to drop the rifle. The suspect refused, aimed the rifle at Cst. Byrne and pulled the trigger. The rifle failed to fire and was subsequently taken from the suspect by Cst. Byrne. Tests of the rifle revealed that same mis-fired on every (10) shot. The suspect was charged with several counts of Attempted Murder and was convicted.

First cavalcade successful

Over the long weekend, May 29, 30 and 31 the Battle River Tourist Association conducted the first "cavalcade" in this tourist town. The event attracted forty units and about 125 people. Participants came from Neustadt, Camrose, and other towns in the area. The cavalcade proceeded to Pigeon Lake, where it was held in the evening. The cavalcade was a success and many enjoyed the trip. The event was held in the evening and many enjoyed the trip. The cavalcade was a success and many enjoyed the trip.

A ball game and a camp fire provided entertainment during the evening. On Sunday, the cavalcade split. A large group went to visit the Brazeau Dam, and the other went north to Tomahawk and back across the N. Saskatchewan on the Berryman Ferry. Participants were delighted to learn about the things that can be done at the Brazeau Dam site. Besides the educational aspect of a visit to the site, there is lots of camping, canoeing, boating, fishing, hiking, driftwood and miles of sandy beaches. The ferry trip was also a delight, as this is one of the last remaining ferries in operation in Alberta, and even this one is being phased out at the end of this season.

Mr. Henry Krogger gave advice on gov't. grants. Then a meeting was held on a program for the establishment of campgrounds in the Lougheed area.

Next a meeting is to be held pertaining to a Work Bee for the campgrounds. Two of the chartered members, Mr. Tom Barton and Mr. Tom Clouston received a plaque from the Lions Club, a certificate of membership which was presented by the President, Mr. Peter Senthum.

Lougheed held their Graduation night last Friday evening in the Community Hall in which a large crowd attended. The banquet was held for the Graduates Gr. IX and parents and school staff and also the guest speaker, Mr. George from Central High, Sedgewick. His wife also attended and it was also meeting up people. We wish the new people in the County Trailer (see Don's Hill, Irma District), whom a lot of us know, the best. They are taking over from Mrs. Jean Burden, a position on the teaching staff. Mrs. Burden is going to be away for the term. We wish her all the best of luck.

The Lougheed District was addressed last Sunday when they received the shocking news of the death of Todd Greaves who was in an accident around 11:30. It happened between Mr. Al Marbles place and his home, a head on collision, car and motor bike accident. Our deepest sympathy goes out to his parents and grandparents and all the rest of the family.

The Lougheed Rockies final game was against Edmonton but lost. The hardball final, Hugenaden and Amisk. A service was held at Trinity last Sunday. Rev. Larson from Viking took a shift for Pastor Olsen. After his main service he spoke on the interesting Lake Bible Camp. Films were shown which brought back many pleasant and happy memories for 1939-40.

We extend our deepest sympathy to Mrs. T. New and Odd in the death of her nephew, Mr. Harold Galtch, known to us as Harold. He was 35 years old and was killed as he used to spend his holidays with his aunt.

Kindegarten has tours

On May 27th, the Dayland Kindergarten toured Nabel's Bakery and the coal mine at Foreburg. The children were delighted when Mr. Nabel showed them how to make bread and let them make their own loaf to take home.

Mr. Nabel then based the children to the mine, where they saw coal being loaded into the huge coal hoppers. Lunch was then enjoyed at Big Knit Park. A special thanks to Mr. Nabel for taking his boys and a thank you to the mothers for helping supervise.

On May 28th, the Dayland Kindergarten held their Kindergarten Graduation. Mrs. June Rittmeyer was M.C. for the occasion. The children presented a delightful program in an ever-welcoming and joyous of approximately one hundred guests.

The program included a Puppet Show of Old MacDonald's Farm, a rhythm band selection and two French songs Mr. Shank taught them. A lot of hard work and patience went into the program on behalf of the students and teachers and we commend them highly.

Mr. Gillespie then presented each child with a diploma and Miss Parves gave each child a free pass to the Crown Show and a package of seeds to plant for the Fair.

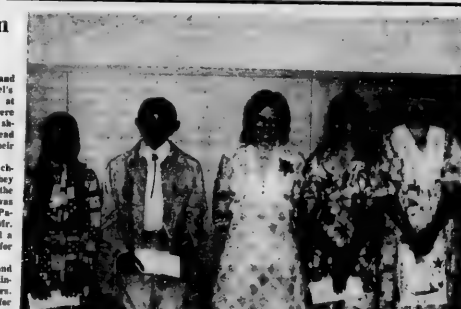

The Kindergarten president, Mrs. Ellen Spiller, expressed the Kindergarten thanks to the parents and to the community for helping make Kindergarten operate more efficiently for the Kindergarten.

Mrs. Rittmeyer presented Mrs. Clara Lehar with a bouquet of flowers and expressed our appreciation for a job well done. The children benefited greatly from their Kindergarten year and they'll treasure the memories and friends they have made forever. Lunch was then served to round out an eventful night for eighteen pre-schoolers.

On May 28th, the Dayland Kindergarten motored to Camrose and then boarded the train for New Sarepta. This was the first train ride for most of the children, so it will always be something to remember. The trip was short, but they all had a great time, and some of the children were allowed to sit on the Engineer's lap and pull the whistle. From New Sarepta, the kindergarten toured the Camrose Historic Colony. The children were given a tour of the historic site and were given a chance to see the old buildings and the old mill.

This Kindergarten year is over, but the children will never forget the things they have seen.

COME ALIVE ...

A true friend

Are you and I really true friends? Someone has defined a friend as one to whom we may pour out the contents of our hearts, chat and grieve together, knowing that the greatest of hands will aid us, keep us from being hurt, and with a breath of kindness blow the rest away. In order to be a true friend, then, we must always look at the good points of a person, and forget about their weaknesses. When we look positively, our friendship becomes a privileged possession. F. Stansbury Hildner has described this so beautifully in his poem, "Friendship". The kind of friend you have is to be, in the type of friend I would be to thee; Your faithful spirit, your radiant face, has added just a touch of grace; When trouble came and things looked drear, 'twas then that your helpfulness would cheer; Never a murmur, always a smile, I lead the life that are sure worth while; So gladly a friend I would be to thee.

Id be to thee, yes, the kind of a friend you have been to me. True friendship and true love goes still deeper than this, showing a concern for the spiritual welfare of our dear friend. It comes from a heart filled with love of God, showing the presence of the living Christ. Eleanor Taylor Hildner describes this in her poem, "Because You Passed My Way". My leads a little lighter now, because you passed my way, The sun's a little brighter, and the clouds have passed away. I've found my sailor's nover, and each day He grows still dearer. And I'm on my way to glory, because you passed my way, I was lost and one weaved to care, until you passed my way.

because you passed my way. Jesus is a friend that sticks closer than a brother; only He can make us really true friends.

The Legion has taken on a new look lately with the addition of membership of associate and affiliate members. This means that many young folk have joined, giving the Legion a much needed "shot in the arm". It was these youngsters who planned the barbecue at short notice and they are to be commended for it.

Musk ox visitors' day by Torry Lee Degehard, B.Sc. M.Sc.

Yesterday, May 1st was Musk Ox Day at Rancho Ganga, Hopedale, Alberta. It was hosted by the Barpee family.

An executive meeting of the Musk Ox Association was held at the ranch in the morning.

In the afternoon over 100 guests from scattered parts of Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia came to learn more about musk oxen.

They were shown Mr. Barpee's animals and he explained how they are handled.

Sturdy, the bull, liked all the attention and many people were able to have the thrill of petting a musk ox for the first time.

The heifer, Kitty, the younger of the pair was less confident and watched the crowd from a little distance.

Sandy was beginning to shy at his quail which made him look very shaggy.

Visitors were able to grab a handful of quail from among the long guard hairs. They marvelled at its fine soft texture and were intrigued to learn they were holding the finest natural fibre in the world.

After seeing the musk oxen, the visitors were shown where the animals had been browsing in their paddock. All the lower leaves and underbark had been eliminated.

A popular bluff that had been too tall to walk through, trees to two or three inches in diameter had been pushed over and the leaves eaten off. It was easy to see how musk oxen could be an effective means of controlling scrub brush on pasture land.

While coffee and cookies were served, a home movie, taken by Rod Barpee was shown. In addition to some footage taken at the Musk Ox Farm at Fairbanks, Alaska, it showed some events that have taken place with the musk oxen at Rancho Ganga, including the arrival of the first heifer, debarking, and Sandy "walking the plank".

The tour ended with a trip out to the new musk ox pasture where a quarter section of saline prairie, willows, poplars, buck-brush, rose bushes and silver-willow has been encircled. Even in this large area there were indications of the musk oxen's preference for browse.

However, musk oxen were not the only thing to interest the visitors. The grasshopper came in for their share of admiration. While the near perfection of the station, Klen impressed the laymen.

Richard returned to Toronto on May 28th and the Church mission board have sent him on an eight week course in linguistics.

Ordained at Killam

Before a large congregation representative of the community and including clergy and friends from a wide area, the Presbytery of Edmonton of the Presbyterian Church in Canada ordained the Reverend Richard W. Fee, B.A., M.Div. in an impressive ceremony on Friday evening, May 28th.

The service, held in St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Killam through the kind co-operation of Reverend Fr. McKenzie, was conducted by the Reverend L. K. Lin, Minister of the Narration.

Killam young people enjoy christian weekend

On the weekend of May 29th and 30th we were privileged to attend the Alberta Youth Mini Conference at Parkdale United Church in Calgary. The weekend involved shareing our Christian faith through discussions and the fellowship of song. The theme for the conference was "We Are One in the Spirit". Saturday evening we were joined by thirteen young people from Kamla who are visiting Alberta in conjunction with the 1968 Anniversary Youth Exchange. It was very exciting to share our faith and our culture with them. Saturday evening involved a "Cultural Extravaganza". We taught the Kamla to square dance and they in turn taught us some Zambian dances and songs.

On Saturday morning we held the Alberta Conference Worship Service at the University of Calgary. Later it was back to Parkdale for dinner and more discussions and singing. The conference was very successful and there is talk of making it into a yearly affair. It was very uplifting to join other young Christian people and share with them.

More Canadians at 'U'

by Kevin Peterson
Renewed reports that Canadian Universities ignore studies of their own country have triggered a call for Alberta's to remedy deficiencies in-
He suggests a "higher degree of Canadian content" in an ongoing letter to University of Alberta President H.E. Gunning in Edmonton. Similar requests are going to the Universities of Calgary and Lethbridge.

Meanwhile, Advanced Education Minister Bert Hood has been requested to prepare an evaluation of Canadian content in the province's colleges as well as universities. Relations between the government and universities are often sensitive, sometimes strained. Educators stake extensive claims to independence and autonomy for advanced training.

The government has been reluctant to interfere with academic traditions and this year dropped plans for an education act which was seen as excessive intrusion in some circles. But the most recent findings of neglect for Canadian content opened the door wide for the administration to seek improvement. The complaint comes from within the academic community.

Mr. Longhead says the government has "read with concern" a report by the Commission of Canadian Studies, set up by the respected national Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada.

The report, published recently in Toronto, was highly critical of educators across the country. Universities were found to be still reluctant after years of nationalist revival and cries for "Canadian identity" to consider their best country a fit subject for study.

Mr. Longhead hopes the U of A, and other post-secondary schools, will respond. He invites academics to a "dialogue" with the government over the report's implications for Alberta and ways to fill gaps. The premier's position reflects both intentions to restrain growth in spending and concern expressed with increasing frequency this year over foreign involvement in advanced education.

To boost Canadian content, the premier wants the universities to concentrate "not on adding programs, but adjusting or replacing existing programs."

At the same time, he makes a pointed reference in his letter to numerous references by the commission "to the extent of non-Canadian professors in various faculties and the implications for Canadian studies."

The government already plans to hike fees for foreign students by the fall of 1977 and a policy on importing teaching staff could be in the offing.

Mr. Longhead steers clear of making specific demands, but expects the universities to show autonomy - but warns that the government, which pays the bills, must take an interest.

Bergum-Walkins exchange vows

On March 5th, at 2:00 p.m. a pretty wedding took place in Sedgewick United Church during marriage vows were exchanged between Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bergum of Sedgewick and Thomas Bergum-Walkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Walkins of Hardisty. Rev. Robert Chapell officiated at the double ceremony.

The church was decorated with red and white carnations. The bride, Miss Bergum, was accompanied at the organ by his wife Fredella sang "And I Love You So" and during the signing of the register "Love May Abide".

Her headpiece matched the trim on her wedding gown held a waist length veil of fine net with matching rhinestones, the carried a bouquet of red roses. The maid of honor was Miss Lou Ann Arnsperger, a friend of the bride. COME ALIVE...

Preparation for the unexpected

Life is filled with uncertainty and many unexpected things happen in our lives every day. Just how do we prepare ourselves for the unexpected? Nothing will prepare us better than a greater trust in God through faith in Christ. The words of the following poem express this in vividly.

I know not what may come to-day, some needy soul may cry to me; Lord, give me words of cheer, I pray, to meet the unexpected.

Perhaps some loss may come to me, some care, or some perplexity. Then He my strength and stay shall be, to face the unexpected.

How oft within the trivial round, so many trying things are found; But He can make all grace abound, for all the unexpected. No matter what the call may be, or changes that may come to me;

His hand of love in all I see, from sources unexpected.

The hymn writer, Ira Shoup

it expands this life of faith and trust. I don't know about tomorrow, I just live from day to day. I don't borrow from the sunshine, for its smiles may turn to gray.

I don't worry 'er the future, for I know what Jesus said, and today I'll walk beside him, for He knows what is ahead.

I don't know about tomorrow, I may have the lead of cheer, But the one who leads the sparrow, is the One who stands by me;

And the path that he my portion, may be through the fire or flood. But His presence goes before me, and I'm covered with his blood.

Many things about tomorrow, I don't seem to understand.

But I know Who holds tomorrow, and I know Who holds my hand.

Do we have this great comfort as we face the unexpected?

Most important of all, are we prepared for that great coming event of history, the coming of the Lord? The Bible says in Luke 12:40, "Be ye therefore ready also; for the Son of man cometh at an hour which ye think not. As ye think not, so ye are prepared to this unexpected event."

It's interesting to take a new look at these food prices from 1962. And we think it's just as interesting to look at what has happened to your Calgary Power bill during the same period.

In 1962, the average Calgary Power residential customer used 3230 KWH in the year at an average cost of 2.56¢ per KWH.

In 1975 the same family used about twice as much power but the cost per KWH was 2.30¢.

Although the overall bill is larger, the "unit cost" of electricity is slightly lower.

It's worth thinking about.

 Ten members of the clergy of the South-East Region of Anglican Diocese of Edmonton gathered at St. John's Anglican Church in Sedgewick on June 3rd. To begin the proceedings, Holy Communion was celebrated by the Rt. Rev. John Langstone, Bishop of Edmonton.

Most of the day was devoted by the ministers to discussion on such topics as the role of the rural ministry, the importance of Christian marriage in civil society, the role of bishops in the Church and the role of laymen in Confirmation as sacraments in the Church.

A delicious noon meal was served by St. John's Anglican Church Women of Sedgewick. During the afternoon, the

SALARY INCREASES FOR COUNTY STAFF

Salary adjustments, due to the increasing cost of living, have recently been made by the County of Flagstaff.

The increases were made in line with federal guidelines of "all salaries can increase by the basic protection factor of 6%."

Maintenance men in the County received an average increase of 8.12%.

Caretakers also received an average increase of 8.12%.

Assistant caretakers received a similar increase, while caretaker contractors were increased 8.37%.

County bus drivers' wages were increased from $7.50 per day plus 10¢ per mile to $8.15 per day plus 10¢ per mile, which represents an 8% increase. Contract bus operators also received an increase.

Office staff were granted an increase of $6.00 per month, as was the Deputy Superintendent's salary.

The Superintendent of Schools salary was increased by $70.00. The latter two will also receive a car allowance.

Per diem rates for Councilors and School Committee members was recommended to be increased to $18.00 per day.

Volunteer action group formed

Volunteerism — that special "something" that makes people want to help others. This was the topic of discussion at a recent Preventive Social Services Board Meeting attended by Mr. Don Roberts of the Volunteer Service Unit. The needs are varied —

Visiting a sick person or two a week; Putting storm windows etc. on for an elderly couple; Working in a volunteer insulating program one or two hours a week; Doctor people shopping or to the doctor; Staying with a handicapped person while those who usually care for them have an evening or afternoon out; "Adopt a Grandparent" and "Big Brother" Programs; Planning programs with teenagers; Helping in emergency home situations. The list could go on and on. An active care group of ten or twelve volunteers in each of our communities could provide these much needed services. Referrals for these services coming from the Ministers, public health nurses and doctors.

"Helping Others" is a rewarding experience to everybody wins.

Food For The Hungry

It's a hungry world; but Food for the Hungry is trying to help. More important, however, is that citizens from the Battle River Constituency — especially those near the Community of Camrose — will have an excellent opportunity to share in the rewarding task of providing food for hungry people.

On Saturday, June 26th, the Food for the Hungry Organization will be holding a public auction of donated goods at the Camrose Auction Mart, commencing at 1:00 p.m. The citizens of Camrose can help in two ways: (a) by donating items of value to the auction or (b) by bidding on the auctioned items.

There are two principal reasons why I, like a number of other Members of Parliament, have personally associated myself with this organization. The first is that Food for the Hungry has a very low administration cost (less than 10 per cent), and, secondly, the foodstuffs purchased have an excellent record of getting into the stomachs of hungry people. Most of us are aware that there are other support organizations that have high administration costs or that the vital supplies are collected only to spoil on the docks or are consumed by the well-to-do rather than the needy. Such is not the case with Food for the Hungry.

Amongst the many Members of Parliament from all parties who support this program is the Honorable Eugene Whelan, Minister of Agriculture, who has stated, "I have studied these programs carefully and this is one of the most efficient — I have heard only good comments."

Last year, I attended a very successful auction sale in Waterville, where a co-operative community raised several thousands of dollars for direct food aid programs. It was great to witness the vivid and strong community spirit that was evident in the local support.

In just over four years, Food for the Hungry has channelled upwards to $6 million worth of emergency aid into Honduras, Bangladesh, India, West Africa, Ethiopia, Haiti, Vietnam and Nicaragua. In addition to assisting Third World countries with direct food supplies, this organization has also a commendable job in providing long-range, off-the-shelf, food-development projects. Much of the money from the Waterville auction have gone to assist in the development of an irrigation project.

Arnold Malone, M.P.
Battle River Constituency

The need for food aid in the world should be obvious to most of us. Presently, four-fifths of the world's population suffers from malnutrition and the age of 5 die of starvation. I have also noted that the citizens of free-lance have more money on pet food than their government does on foreign aid. I suspect Canada is in a similar position.

Recently, I talked to a friend of mine who just returned from an agricultural project in India. He told of witnessing numerous people dying from exposure to 35 degrees F. The fact is that the food intake for these people is so low that they do not have enough energy to provide proper body heat even in moderate temperatures. Most of the world consumes about one-fifth of the volume of food that we do in North America and the ratio of protein to carbohydrate is much lower in most of the world's foodstuffs.

I look forward to participating in the Food for the Hungry Auction at Camrose on June 26th and trust that this worthy cause will assist us to keep in touch with our world's most obvious problem.

Writers ramblings by Flagstaff writers

What do you like to read? Novelists? Short stories? Mystery? I'm bringing you the results of our efforts in this column every week from now on. We promise you variety, entertainment and a chance to see the world around you through our eyes. But perhaps we should introduce ourselves first.

We are the Flagstaff Writers - members of the largest association of free-lance writers in the province. Our group includes men and women of all ages from pre-teens to grandparents, with a broad range of backgrounds and interests. We have been working together for four years now, making our group one of the longest, continuously operating workshops in Alberta.

That does not mean that our membership has remained static. On the contrary, each year we have welcomed new members and reluctantly said good-bye to those who had to leave because of job transfers or heavy involvement in other responsibilities. Yet we have remained a warm, supportive group with genuine pride in each member's achievement.

And our members do achieve. All of the original writers in the group have been published and many of our newer ones, too. We invite you to share our work. Look for this column each time you get your Community Press.

Grandma's house

by Molly Shier

Warm dusk invaded the still hallway. The golden light spread across it, her fingers radiating dancing streams through the glass windows in the heavy sash door. I pushed it open and instantly caught the fragrances that permeated this house to me: old carpets, brittle wallpaper; cinnamon; the faint hint of cigar smoke; and, as I walked towards the kitchen, the heart of this house, I could smell my grandmother's homemade soup bubbling on the stove. The hall floor sighed with anticipation as I walked across it. I smiled as the kitchen's expanse of shining blue linoleum greeted me. Images of myself as a child, playing solitaire, or painting pictures on the squeaky kitchen table, laughed before me. This room, this house, always wraps me in a glow of warm protection. My hurrying footsteps would cease. I would settle into a kitchen chair wanting to remain and revert to any day of childhood when grandmother's world would hold out comforting arms to her favorite grandchild.

Warm dusk invaded the still hallway. The golden light spread across it, her fingers radiating dancing streams through the glass windows in the heavy sash door. I

More oil sands research

Kevin Peterson
High hopes of a breakthrough in all sands development are being placed in a new $120 million set of industry experiments for which the provincial government will foot half the bill.

The projects are aimed at unlocking about 80 per cent of the massive northern Alberta deposits for commercial production. Mining operations such as Great Canadian Oil Sands and Syncrude Canada Ltd. barely scratch the surface.

At least one of five programs in the package is "certain" of success, predicts Glen Bowman, chairman of the Alberta Oil Sands Technology and Research Authority.

He was "uncertain" which was the best but described the work confidently as "an all-out cooperative government industry attack on the natural restraints and technological barriers to all sands development."

Stakes are high in the gamble. The five firms involved stand to gain favored positions for going into production plus lucrative earnings off successful methods they find.

The authority, a Crown agent, will own all patents but the companies will have free use of their discoveries and get a 50 per cent cut of all licensing fees other corporations will have to pay to use their findings.

Meanwhile, the government's commitment could grow. The $120-million covers only the projects' first phases. If all show promise, their total price will be about $250 million or $125 million for the authority.

The schemes are fruits of a long selection process that opened with establishment of the agency in 1971. With the package, $61.5 million of its total $100 million is committed.

The authority is still reviewing about 70 other applications. Energy Minister Don Getty this spring described the work as "absolutely vital" and promised extra money will be available if needed.

The new processes are to be "in situ" methods to pull productive material out of the

Shell Canada Ltd., for more than $25 million, will try a small-scale pilot plant that could produce up to 3,500 barrels a day and recover oil at a rate of about 65 per cent efficiency. Steam is used to separate out productive material.

Amoco Canada Petroleum Ltd. will for $46 million run a similar operation using combustion underground. B.P. Canada Ltd. will attempt a smaller $17 million test combining steam and combustion.

Smaller programs will try finding safe ways to use steam in shallow deposits and improved methods of linking up large numbers of wells used for a site work. Projects are to be jointly managed by the authority and the companies.

Dr. Bowman said continued work on improved mining techniques aren't being ruled out but there have been warnings that Syncrude's plant, which nearly foundered due to high costs, could be the last of its type.

R.E.D.A. CAMPS AT GOLD-EYE LAKE CENTRE
Who's R.E.D.A.? Where's

Gabley Lake? What is involved in the camps? These are the usual questions get asked when I mentioned the R.E.D.A.
D.A. Camps. R.E.D.A. stands for the Rural Education and Development Association. They are involved in many areas such as development and intervention. Programs for rural people: Co-op education Programs and Youth Programs.
The camps at Gabley Lake
Centre are part of the R.E.D.A.
A's Youth Program. The camp has been located at Gold-eye Lake which is about 18 miles west of Norderge on the David Thompson highway. There are three levels of campers camp for ages 14-21; youth re-miners for ages 16-18, and the adult seminar for ages 19-21 (16 to attend the grad seminar, the campers must have attended a previous youth seminar). Each level offers more in depth information and experiences.
Areas that the campers spend time in lectures and activities include leadership and communication skill, community building, understanding and experience, co-operatives plus cuisine to outdoor education and nature.

The staff for these camps are supplied by organizations who support R.E.D.A. These organizations include Alberta
Agriculture, Alberta Wheat Pool, Calgary Co-operative Association Ltd., Co-operative Activities Branch, Credit Union Federation of Alberta, Federated Co-operatives Ltd., U.F.A.
Uniform, and U.G.G.
Each camper will be able to make new friends from all over Alberta. A chance to really get it.

I'm excited about these camps. As a representative of Alberta Agriculture participating in the R.E.D.A. camps, I feel that what these camps have to offer will be a fun and worthwhile experience. For more information or application forms, please contact me at Alberta Agriculture, Sedgewick (phone

WORM'S EYE VIEW

Seems like lots of parents get to expecting other folks to help raise their kids.
Kinda takes the load off at home. Let the school teachers do it or maybe even send 'em to Sunday School and hope somebody will take 'em in happily and teach 'em how to get along with other kids and how to do what other folks tell 'em.
Some even figure sports in the holidays and let them coaches si-rrectly out the problems.
Seems like maybe folks could really find out how all these organizations are raising their kids. Only one way to find out and that's the grilling right in there and see how things are going.

Maybe spend a day once in a while in school to take a job of coaching a team or leading Cubs or C.G.I.T.

Surprising how much them kids could find out about their own kids and also about the work other folks are doing for them everyday. M-h, just see how much they can match they could help too. Lots of folks just think they aren't able to do any of these things. Sure find out there is a lot of talent not even put to use. Figure it out a lot of path to help kids going the right way and trideed to get along with other kids. One thing, those kids loving 'em over sometimes straighten 'em out.

GARDEN PESTS:

Thanks to technology and in-secticides, gardens and ornamental plants may now be grown successfully with a limited amount of effort. However, in-secticides should be handled with care. Not only can they be poisonous to insects and livestock, but to humans as well. Proper precaution must be observed at all times when using pesticides.

It is very important to read and thoroughly understand the cautions and instructions of any pesticide used, including the antidote. Because pesticides are poisonous, they should be kept in their original labelled container, out of reach of children and livestock.

It is also very important to use the insecticide that you use can be used only for the control of pests on plants listed on the label and according to instructions given. Do not spray for the sake of spraying or because the plants don't look healthy. Determine the cause of the problem before you apply an insecticide. Remember, insecticides kill the beneficial insects like lady-bugs, as well as the insects causing harm.

Also, insecticides control insects, but do not cure plants of disease often caused by viruses or fungi.

If insects are causing a problem, control may be necessary to save the garden or ornamental.

Insecticide treatments for some garden pests have been summarized by Ross Gould, F.R.S. Stettler and are listed below:

Aphids:

Use diazinon, dimethoate, malathion. If the crop is near harvest the less toxic rotenone or pyrethrin should be used because of lesser residue problems.

Colorado Potato Beetle:
carbaryl, diazinon, methoxychlor, rotenone.

Cutworms: chlordane, diazinon. These products are broadcast on the soil and worked in.
Carrots should not be planted in soil treated the previous year with chlordane.

Flea beetles: carbaryl, diazinon, malathion, rotenone.

Grasshoppers: carbaryl, mal-athion.

Cabbage Worms: diametho-late, malathion, rotenone.

Cabbages: carbaryl, diazi-
non, malathion, rotenone.

Onion maggot: diazinon.

Cabbages and turnip root maggots: diazinon.

Slugs: metaldehyde. This product may become stable so read the label for instructions of longevity of the insecticide.

Wireworms in potatoes: use chlordane at 1 lb./1,000 sq. ft.
broadcast, and worked into the top 4-6 inches of the soil no more than once every four years.

Current fruit flies in currants and gooseberries: malathion or methoxychlor. Apply when most of the petals have fallen, then again in 10 days. Mala-thion can be applied within three days of methoxychlor within 14 days of harvest.

Leaf rollers in strawberries and raspberries: use mala-thion at the first sign of damage but not within three days of harvest.

Mites: dicofol, malathion or tetradifon. Observe the period before harvest for each applicable crop as listed on label.

Raspberries: rose hater: diazinon is applied to the crown in October or in early spring when the shoots are four inches high.

Strawberry root weevil: Bronecast chlordane when the insects are in the grub stage and work the chlordane into the top 2-6 inches of soil before planting. Do not apply more than once every four years.

For adult root weevils apply with malathion except when the plants are flowering or fruiting.

If you require help identifying a problem, or would like a chemical recommendation, feel free to contact our office at 384-3727.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,
Re - Census

The Census taker was here today, again. I say again, but it was really a different Lady, wearing a blonde beanie and a lot more cool than the last one. (I will not use the word arrogance, although it did tempt me for a moment). The Senior member of this fact finding team explained her duty to me while the junior member quivered in the car. I guess, as she did not even have the courtesy to come to the door and introduce her superior. This Lady however let it be known that if we filled out the "Agricultural Form" quietly and with repentance for making her job so much harder, we would be doing almost as great of service to our country as she was. True to tradition the man is Master of the property, therefore the form was in his name and she must speak to him, so she would have to come back when he was home. I explained that it might be late, but come hell or high water (or even rain) she was determined to see him so I calmly closed the door and threw a FTI. I had virtually no say in regard to my own property or belongings. I have worked as hard, spent as many years and given as much emotionally and physically as my husband, (he is the first one to admit this), so why couldn't I fill out or not fill out said form as I desired. If consequences were to be suffered I was willing to suffer them. However, this is not the way our great democracy works, and she would be waiting for him to return.

Refusing to fill out the Agricultural Form, in my humble opinion, is my democratic right and if I have any say about it we will not fill it out. The Freedom that we talk so mightily about and pretend we have are non-existent if we are bullied into filling out forms and curtailing free enterprise to meet whims of a government that has neither the policy nor ability to meet the needs and wants of it's people. Judging by the political and financial state of our country I don't think anyone really knows or cares what happens to anyone else, as long as the hand he is holding out is kept full. Our government fairly reeks of socialism and the difference between us and the communist countries is simply that we are paying to have these policies shoved down our throats while those countries get it for free.

In 1980, I took 1,000 people one way to prepare census takers findings for tabulation (Newsweek), not including the time and cost of the individual census taker. The average adult could I presume fill out this form if they received it in the mail and could possibly even mail it back to Ottawa, provided, the envelope was pre-addressed and the stamp licked.

I would not be so against the Agricultural Form either if it were really confidential (we all know how confidential the government is, especially if it's something we should know about, but human nature is in strict conflict with such a process, especially if it's a host your neighbor, and that's who your FRIENDLY CENSUS PERSON is, I'll bet you either know your census taker personally or know something juicy about their right?

If the business people in every town had to answer the questions about their business, i.e. how many new toilet did the plumber sell last year, and how many does he expect to sell this year. Or if the grocer had to account for every wetter that went over his counter in the last year, and did the amount of wetter beans collected with the amount of wetter, then maybe the questions on the Agricultural Form wouldn't sound so outrageous. I know of many farmers that filled them in under protest. One farmer even told me that he always reads back these monthly question sheets he receives in the mail. I asked him if he really took time out in the spring and fall to fill them in and he blushing replied: "Well, I really shouldn't say I do them, but my daughter is in grade three and likes filling in all those little spaces so I told her to write anything she wanted in them. They always go through even if some of the answers are pretty wierd."

So much for our Government!!!!

Typical of our country the word census is not derived from our language, but from the Latin word census or cense, to appraise, used in Roman times to determine taxation rates. We haven't progressed too far, have we?

By the way, I wrote the rough outline of this with that nice white pencil.

Walk your fields. The only sure way to hunt out wild oats.

The only way you can be sure you have wild oats is to walk your fields.

To help you check your wild oats, we offer you the Carbyne—"Wild Oat Counter", shown below. Take it to your fields. Put it on the ground and count the wild oats in the square foot. This will give you a good idea of what these wild oats will cost you... when you consider that just one wild oat per square foot cuts per-acre yields of wheat 3.2 bushels. See us about your supply of Carbyne.

Adult courses planned for fall and winter

The adult courses conducted under the Flagstaff Further Education Council concluded this week with a Canoe Course on the Battle River with Al Bernackoff of Alliance as instructor.

During the fall season we were able to offer thirty two courses with a total enrollment of 277 students. Since Christmas we have offered thirty eight courses with a total enrollment of 603 students. In this area, the Lakeland College conducted eleven courses since January 1st, with a total enrollment of 129 students. These figures indicate enthusiastic response.

Adults were offered a variety of courses with classes taught by local resource people as well as instructors brought in from surrounding points, Canmore, Watrouville and others.

Classes could be classified as hobby, trade, physical fitness, home improvement, academic and health. The hobby classes proved to be very popular, including ceramics, macramé, and others.

RATES EFFECTIVE

Regarding the article re: salary increases of County staff, the article was taken from the minutes of a County meeting, but did not state that the rates were, in fact, effective January 1976. Sorry boys, if you thought a raise was on the way!

rans, quilting, Photography, Art, Woodwork, and cake decorating. The difficulty for many people was in what to choose since many were offered. Some people finished one course and then registered in another one that started at a later date. Others looked ahead to another season and phoned in their requests. A survey has been completed in this area, in which we hope most people had a chance to participate in the choosing of their instructor. Jean Johnson, Coordinator

Rural housing for the future?

The province's housing industry is booming and rural Albertans continue to have the best opportunities to buy reasonably priced new homes.

Lougheed government led programs are seeing the major increases in the countryside. But Housing Minister Bill Yurko predicts better performance in the cities, where he says "the market is coming down".

More than two-thirds of construction starts on-site urban centres were homes in the first quarter of 1976. Nearly half all the rural projects were cheap enough to qualify for low-cost Alberta Housing Corporation financing.

The Crown company backed 44 per cent of 1,212 rural starts - 71 per cent of them housing - from Jan. 1 to March 31, according to statistics from Mr. Yurko.

Provincial money stood behind only eight per cent of 5,847 starts - 51 per cent homes - in Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Red Deer and Grande Prairie at any price.

Total urban and rural work climbed 151 per cent over first quarter 1975 with construction began on 4,800 units to beat Alberta's previous record for the three months, set in 1969, by more than 1,000.

Construction in the countryside nearly doubled from 650 starts. While city work more than doubled, from 2,171 projects in 1975, last year's performance had been down badly.

High land and building costs are being blamed for the trend, which leaves urban residents, especially in Calgary and Edmonton, in rental accommodation more often than rural Albertans.

Apartment construction jumped 1,000 per cent in the six cities but outside Calgary and Edmonton only Red Deer saw more starts on rental units than houses.

However, Mr. Yurko expects the picture to change and include more houses at good prices in the cities as massive feeding programs, to be run through the new Alberta Home Mortgage Corporation, take hold.

He detects growing buyer resistance to inflated home prices. The province's investment - total direct lending for homes and rental suites of $24.5 million this year - adds a strong new element of competition.

Mr. Yurko insists there is "no way" out of the mortgage crunch. He says the government mortgages, $46,000 for direct lending and $42,000 in the Starter Home Ownership Program, will rise.

"If anything, the whole housing industry has got to come down to our price levels," Bayes increasingly recognize "they don't have to pay at least at any price."

Meanwhile, the striking provincial involvement in rural housing is also seen as prime evidence of success for the government's "balanced growth" idea.

Urbanites continue relying almost entirely on private developers. In the countryside, there is a greater tendency to use government home money because the province also includes considerable land banking and lot servicing there.

God and my holidays

Soon school will be out and it will be vacation time again. Have you included God in your holiday plans this year? Most of us look at holidays as being a temporary release from the pressures of modern day living. The high volume of sales of holiday equipment bears out the fact that we must find some relief from the tensions of our day. But is moving out on busy highways and congested campsites really the answer? It provides a change, but we are still caught in the same rat-race. But when we invite God along on our holidays and see Him in all His lovely creation around us, a deep settled peace sweeps over our souls providing true relief on the tensions of life. Florence Jansson expresses this thought so beautifully in her poem, "God's Glory".

The heavens declare God's glory, the wonders of the sky, repeat each day the message, that He is ever alive.

The earth takes up the chorus, the mountains, hills and plains, stand forth in testimony, that

He forever reigns. The rivers, forest and valleys, bear witness of His power. He speaks through every forest tree, and smiles through every flower. Elizabeth Browning expands on this as she tells of the relief to be found in seeing God in this way. The little cars that fretted me, I lost them all yesterday. Among the fields, above the sea, among the winds at play: Among the loving of the herds, the rustling of the trees; Among the singing of the birds, the humming of the bees. The foolish fears of what may happen, I cast them all away. Among the clover-scented grass, among the new-mown hay; Among the rustling of the corn, where drowsy poppies nod, Where lilacs thoughts die and go, or in the fields wild with thistle. In Psalm 18:1 we read that the heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament sheweth His handiwork. May you have the most blessed holiday ever as you include God in your plans and see Him in all His wonderful creation. Mel Dietrich

NOTES & BOLTS

On my return to the constituency last weekend, I stopped over in Winnipeg for a couple of days to address the National Student Debating Federation. This year's national seminar centered on studies and debates on the issue of the regional disparity. I participated in a symposium with an NISF MLA from Manitoba and a Professor of Economics from the University of Manitoba. The collection of selected young people from the 19 provinces and the Territories was a tremendous tribute to the calibre of Canadian youth.

Depending on the nature of these business that will be before Parliament, it is my hope to be in the constituency on Monday and Tuesday of June 14th and 15th to participate in the Rail Committee Hearings on Railway Life Ahead.

Presently, it is hot and sultry in Ottawa, both in and outside the House of Commons. It is not apparent that the many letters and telegrams that have been received from all parts of Canada have been successful in delaying Bill C-43, commonly known as the Gas Control legislation. We now have assurance that this Bill will not be completed in all stages prior to the fall of 1976. It is hoped that significant amendments can be made in the interim to improve the quality of this dubious intent that may even be that this Bill will have meaningful community involvement and, in general, a higher percentage of people on welfare and unemployment insurance.

Our small communities are not, therefore, merely an economic question, but rather a social and cultural question to which it is important that our communities give full consideration. It ought to be recognized that the people living in the heart of our rural communities have chosen to live there because of the lifestyle these communities offer. In view of the fact that we spend over $100 million on the protection of French culture, there surely some consideration ought to be given to the preservation of the Prairie community system. This can only be done when there is an adequate and efficient system of transportation and communication.

Daysland and District News

Mrs. Margaret Graham and Mrs. Erma McCarroll went on a bus tour to Prince Rupert, there they took the ferry on the "Inside Passage" where there is quiet water and beautiful mountains on both sides as far as Skagway, Alaska. There they took the narrow gauge railway from Skagway to Whitehorse through some of the wildest scenery imaginable. We visited the old gold rush town of Dawson City, Yukon, and saw some historic buildings, like the cable of Robert Service, and the renovated Palace Grand Theatre where there is a variety show like the days of 40.

In Fairbanks Alaska there were 22 hours 57 minutes of daylight. The whole town went and "whooped it up at the Iditarod School" near Fairbanks. The Alaska Highway was the route home, and there were many interesting things to see. A very enjoyable trip was taken with the Fairfinders Tours.

The Friendship Club held their annual picnic June 18th at the Daysland Campsite. There were five car loads of ladies that went. While we waited for the coffee to boil on the camp stove, we took turns at playing lawn darts. The food was set out and all helped themselves to a very lovely meal, but we had to hurry up and finish as it started to sprinkle of rain and get cold. There will be no meeting now till September 21st, so we hope everyone has a nice holiday. Sister Carmel Killen of Moosecroft, Sask. spent a week's holiday with her friends in Daysland.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Harshman were in Red Deer, Alta. last weekend attending the Alberta Fire Chiefs Convention. We were sorry to hear of the passing of Mrs. Sarah Brown last week. Sympathy is extended to family and relatives.

Young people wanted!

Courageous Alberta youngsters will receive public recognition Sept. 17 when Lieutenant-Governor Ralph Steinhilber presents them with 1976 Junior Citizens awards.

This year's ceremony, the 15th in the history of the Junior Citizens program, will be held at Edmonton's Macdonald Hotel. Presentations will coincide with the annual luncheon of the Alberta Weekly Newspapers' Association.

Junior Citizens, sponsored by the independent electric utilities of Alberta, are selected by a panel of A.W.N.A. editors each summer.

The program has been endorsed by each people at HRII Prince Philip, former governor-general, and the late Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau, Senator Ernest Manning, former Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and Premier Peter Lougheed.

Lt. Gov. Steinhilber will also present the Grant MacEwan Conservation Award.

The award was developed by Calgary Power Ltd. in 1975 to commemorate the 10th anniversary of the Alberta Wildlife Act.

Any young Albertan, or group, between the ages of six and 18 can qualify for a Junior Citizen of the Year award.

Boys and girls may be nominated for any act of achievement which involves courage, initiative or selflessness performed during the 12-month period, August 1, 1975 to July 31, 1976.

Of those who have received awards during the past 14 years, some have performed acts of physical heroism, often endangering their own lives.

Others have overcome crippling physical handicaps to match or exceed the performance of their fellows. Some have shown exceptional leadership in community projects.

Nominations may be forwarded to the editor of this newspaper, or directly to your electric utility.

Each Junior Citizen, and the MacEwan Award winner, receive a certificate of recognition and $200 in Canada Savings Bonds.

Here's your spoon kid, eat it!

by Sharlene M. Chevrus

I'm writing for the day they invent edible dishes.

There is no task I dislike as much, or put off as long, as washing dishes. Even the advent of dishwasher hasn't solved my problem. They need to be longer and wider; the dishes, scraped, rinsed, paper products might have been the answer, but they cause pollution. Not what I need in edible dishes.

This idea isn't so fantastic. We've had ice cream cones for ages and they're eatable. Why not plates, glasses, cups and saucers? Why not knives, forks and spoons? There must be a way to make attractive bowls and serving dishes that can become part of the meal.

They could be colorful too. Ice cream cones come in several attractive shades.

Imagine a table set with, let's say, blue plates, glasses, cups and saucers. The cutlery could be a matching white perhaps, or a deep chocolate brown. But they wouldn't always be the same colors. They could change from day to day, adding zest to ordinary meals.

And there's an extra plus for the conscientious housewife. Experience is what you get when you were expecting something else.

Remember those home-made rules about never serving white things together because they make the meal too colorless? Well, a bright white or red plate could be the answer when potatoes, parsnips and whitefish just have to make up the menu.

Edible dishes could help out on the floor, as well. Just think! I could serve potatoes on chili-flavored plates, chicken with curried forks, round steak and wine dipped knives, or chocolate milk with marshmallow glasses. Why I could become a gourmet cook with no trouble at all.

Anyways, once I get edible dishes, I can cook less. My family will be able to fill up on the dishes when they run out of other food. And when my son starts clamoring for dessert after his vegetables are gone, I will just be able to point at his cutlery and say, "Here's your spoon, kid. Eat it!"

That way, Mom won't have to wash a dish.

Experience is what you get when you were expecting something else.

Yellow-Headed Spruce Sawfly Control:

Many younger deciduous spruce trees are severely damaged every year in Alberta by yellow-headed, spruce sawfly larvae. The County of Flagstaff is no exception.

According to Hugh Philip, entomologist with Alberta Agriculture's plant industry laboratory, most species of spruce, including Colorado blue spruce, are susceptible to sawfly larvae damage. Ornamentals and shelterbelt trees that are less than 10 years old are particularly vulnerable.

"The first sign of damage," says Mr. Philip, "appears in early June and is caused by the small larvae eating portions of developing needles." As the larvae increase in size during the next 30 days they eat entire new needles and eventually attack the old needles as well.

By mid-July heavily infested trees start to become ragged looking, especially near the top, and take on a yellowish-brown color which is visible for a long distance. In extreme cases, the trees may be completely stripped.

Mr. Philip says continuing infestation reduces in trees' annual growth, leaving them susceptible to attack by other insects and making them unsuitable for ornamental use without adverse weather conditions. In fact, two or three consecutive years of moderate defoliation is enough to kill a tree.

CONTROL:

Picking the larvae off when they first appear by hand and destroying them is effective in controlling sawfly larvae on a few small trees. Another effective method is to hose the larvae off with a garden hose. Chemical control is recommended for large trees and for a large number of trees. Malathion is the only insecticide that is presently approved for controlling sawfly larvae on spruce. However, it should not be applied when the temperature is below 28 degrees C.

With a hand pump sprayer, spray trees thoroughly (without actually drenching them) with a solution made up of 1 tablespoon of 50 per cent malathion emulsifiable concentrate in eight gallons of water (8 millilitres per 5 litres).

Infested trees should be sprayed before damage becomes noticeable from a distance which is usually about mid-June. If the first spraying is done after this date most of the current year's damage will probably have already occurred.

If larvae are still present after the first chemical application, the trees may be sprayed again in two or three weeks.

It's a good practice to check your trees weekly, especially young trees. If there appears to be a problem - try and determine it's cause. Try to spray or take the necessary action required. Remember, pesticides are poisons - Don't spray indiscriminately.

Submitted by: Steve Malachuk Killam Feed and Farm Supply Question: How much of an improvement in performance can one expect from feeding M.G.A. to a fattening heifer? L. George - Killam.
Answer: Feedlot heifers coming late heat during the feeding period are subject to added stress and, consequently, reduced daily gains and poorer feed conversion. You will be interested in results Dr. B. Howell of the University of Saskatchewan obtained on a 10-day feeding trial with heifers. Number of heifers, Control treated 25, M.G.A.-40 days, 12, M.G.A. - 70 days 12. Daily gains 2.34, 2.83, 2.38. Daily feed, lbs. 25.3, 25.5, 25.8. Feed Conversion 10.8, 9.7 and 11.4.

These results show that a 29 pound per day increase in average gain was obtained. Results in the 7-day trial were not as good as the control as the heifers completed cycle and came into heat before the end of the feeding period.

The feeding period should be at least 90 days and preferably 120 days. The drug will be withdrawn until 48 hours before slaughter. It is available in a 25 or a 50 per cent beef protein supplement at costs of about one cent plus per head per day at the 0.25 mg level. Heifers which have been fed a ration containing M.G.A. should not be retained for breeding purposes.

The ration used for fattening heifers on pasture must be formulated to ensure that the heifers receive the proper level of M.G.A. daily to suppress heat effectively.

JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH

You know... many Canadians consume much less milk than is recommended for good health.

Our milk consumption over the past 15 years has declined at about the same rate our oil and drink consumption has increased.

skim milk powder costs less than fluid milk (by about half) - the taste of powdered milk is not detectable in baking.

ICE CREAM:

Ice cream's smooth, creamy texture and delicate flavors make it a favorite snack or dessert.

According to the "Food and Drug Regulations" ice cream must contain at least 10 per cent milk fat and 20 per cent milk solids. Ice milk is also available in Canada; it must contain between 3 and 5 per cent milk fat, and not less than 23 percent milk solids. Sherbert contains not more than 4 percent milk solids and milk combined. However, sherbert contains more calories than ice milk because of the higher sugar content of sherbert.

For optimum quality, store ice cream in the freezer at 0 degrees F. and use within 4 weeks of purchase. A small piece of foil, wax paper or plastic wrap pressed against the surface of the ice cream will prevent a gummy layer from forming after some has been taken from the container.

Fresh Vegetables: Alberta grown vegetables available 182 months in the stores and at farmer's markets include broccoli, lettuce, radishes, and summer squash. "Fresh Canadian Vegetables" is a pamphlet available free from my office (phone or write). The booklet includes buying, storage and preparation tips. It also gives ideas for different cooking methods, various ways to serve, and recipes for the many fresh vegetables that are available to us.

Guides: camp forms and Alberta Women's Week applications are available from my office. For more information on these magazines please call me at 385-3737.

Celebrate 40th anniversary

Sunday, June 26th was the scene of a happy occasion in the Lougheed Community Hall where relatives gathered together to celebrate the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Archibald of Alliance.

The bride looked lovely in a floor length gown of pale green polyester colored the hall on the arm of her husband who was handsome in a beige safari suit. Both were courageous as archde.

They were seated at the head table with their children

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Archibald. One daughter, Mrs. Bill Hart of Dauphin, Man. was unable to attend.

The table was tastefully decorated with a hand woven and embroidered tablecloth centered by a beautifully decorated cake, made by the ladies niece Pat MacKinnon. It was flanked by roses and yellow lilies. Bouquets of lovely garden flowers and rose and white streamers made an appropriate setting for this fine reception.

Miss Cathy Van De Wark attended the guest book. Mr. Bud Peterson gave the blessing after which the guests sat down to a sumptuous smorgasbord.

Mrs. Ellen Peterson in her toast to the bride and groom reminded on their early years of marriage in Turner Valley. This was ably responded to by Ted and Verge.

Following the opening of gifts "Happy Birthday" was sung to Uncle Bud and a decorated cake presented to him from Pat, also a cake to all the fathers present.

A very enjoyable afternoon was spent visiting during which the guests enjoyed Peggy Simpson at the piano.

Coffee and cake brought the day to a pleasant ending. Out of town guests were from Edmonton, Leduc, Alliance Red Deer and Sedgewick.

Blood: It's vital to give Annual clinics for blood donations are sponsored alternately by the local Red Cross branches or the communities of Killam and Sedgewick. The clinics were held on Monday, July 12th, 1976 in the gymnasium of the Central Hill School in Sedgewick and the clinic hours will be from 8:00 to 9:00 p.m. The goal for the Red Cross in Northern Alberta for 1976 is 80,000 units of blood, 1,000 more than were obtained in 1975. In the past two years, the number of donations has risen steadily in Killam/Sedgewick from 94 units (Sedgewick) in 1974 to 187 units (Killam) in 1975, and it is hoped that even more donors will turn out this year. For more information please call Mrs. Teas Mackenzie at 364-3548 in Sedgewick.

meet at Killam

Sheila Child, the president, called the meeting to order with the reading of the purpose. She was also in charge of the devotional. The bible reading was taken from Hebrews Chapter 11, verses 1 to 16, concerning faith.
 All songs are made by God. We should trust God as Noah and Abraham did when they launched projects which others laughed at. They had faith in God. All things work together for good to them that love the Lord.
 'My Faith Looks Up to Thee' was sung and a prayer closed the devotional.
 It was reported that the group had called to the Hall Board meeting. A request for money was to be held at Saturday Lake. All were invited to attend.
 Mrs. Florence Lawrence, in charge of the musical, read of love and faith. Love is not love if it is given away.
 Rev. Larry Lin, our special guest, spoke of some of his personal experiences which convinced him that God meant him to continue His work.
 Lunch was served by Ruth Gougeon and Marion Wilson. Contributed by Doris Saunders

Your fuel tanks should occupy a place by themselves.

Your UFA agent wants your farm to be a safe place to work as much as you do. And he has a lot of ideas and experience that will help put safety first. All of your fuel tanks, for example, should be grounded in a place by themselves. On high, well drained ground. They should be equipped with proper catwalks and ladders. And they should all have a product identification label. But there's a lot more ideas where these came from. And they all came from your UFA agent. So if you have some concerns about farm safety, give him a call.

UFA Your letters of recommendation.

Killam junior high go camping

Grades 7, 8, & 9 students, their teachers and parent supervisors recently enjoyed three days and nights of outdoor fun. The campsite was the celebration of activities in the Killam junior high school. Goose Lake (Belthill Lake) was the site of all activities.

The students were grouped into four camps and each spent time in four activity areas. Every student spent time working in social studies, arts, science, geography, language arts, and mathematics. The Pythagorean theorem, for example, gained real meaning as the students used knotted rope to help lay the corner legs of the cabin.

A crafts area was also used and one of the supervisors, Mr. H. Tarleton, suggested the construction of a mud house. As a result a mud house was constructed complete with roof and a well was also dug and soon filled with water. All parents were given a tour of the homelike by the proud students.

Camping was a featured activity and enjoyed by all the students. Some of the supervisors experienced their first canoe outing, Mr. Tiffin, graciously provided an opportunity to demonstrate water rescue techniques.

Miss Farrell led each of the groups on a hike of several miles to study various geological formations and the results of erosion. Many interesting specimens were collected by the students.

The successful outing was the result of the enthusiasm and cooperation of many parents and thanks are extended to everyone who assisted the program. A special thanks to Mr. A. Marlow and Mr. K. Marlow for the use of their facilities.

A Canadian

by Doris M. Saunders

What is a Canadian? He's a citizen of many people. Native, English, French, Ukrainian, Japanese, and many others. His background is so diverse he is like no other people.

He's friendly, good natured and hospitable to those running along from oppression hoping for a better way of life. He is often opinionated and not too ready to embrace new concepts, but agriculturalists so they may be added in helping themselves to a better way of life.

A Canadian is interested in the finer things of life. A small population is supporting art galleries, symphonies, theatre and ballet companies. He has taken his place in the world of entertainment. It's hard work mind you, but what Canadian is afraid of hard work?

A Canadian is sports minded. He has been an Olympic winner in many fields such as riding, swimming, skiing, and skating. What is more Canadian than hockey? Canadians taught the rest of the world to play and win the game.

When tragedy strikes other parts of the world our Canadian citizens are the first to help with supplies for the homeless and needy. A Canadian is also a Red Cross Blood donor, giving blood for, to the ill and injured.

As a Canadian church member he is sending help to the underdeveloped countries in the form of teachers, doctors, nurses, and agriculturalists so they may be added in helping themselves to a better way of life.

Canadian Youth are not out of the world. They are not down on University campus. They are out helping others in C.I.S.O. and many other like projects, paying their own way and working for a bare subsistence.

As a Canadian, he has lent himself to peace keeping in foreign fields always putting his best foot forward so that the Canadian Maple Leaf is highly regarded in all parts of the world.

He is loyal to his ideals of freedom as was shown during 2 world wars when thousands gave their lives to this cause.

A Canadian honors the R.C.M.P. for a job well done. What other country would celebrate for a year the work done by their police force which is known and respected in all countries?

A Canadian can be tolerant of others who do not think as he does. How many American draft dodgers do we have in our country making their homes and raising their children? Countless thousands, that's how many! What are we going to do with them? We're going to mix them up with all the rest of us and make them into Canadians too. That's what we're going to do.

Walk your fields. The only sure way to hunt out wild oats.

The only way you can be sure you have wild oats is to walk your fields. To help you check your wild oats, we offer you the Carbyne—"Wild Oat Counter", shown below. Take it to your fields. Put it on the ground and count the wild oats in the square foot. This will give you a good idea of what these wild oats will cost you... when you consider that just one wild oat per square foot cuts per/acre yields of wheat 3.2 bushels. See us about your supply of Carbyne.

Killam lady bowlers win

The ladies afternoon bowling league once again had a most successful year with its teams entered. President Edna Fee presented the trophies and pins to the winners.

Most consistent bowlers for the season, Vicki Gordash, Donna Cole and Margaret Weibach.

Irene Fossan held the most games with 58. They ended the season with a most enjoyable fun bowling afternoon. Winners for the afternoon were Mrs. Bruce High and Mary Caselman, low.

They enjoyed a most delicious turkey supper in the United Church with the U.C.W. catering. A most enjoyable program followed with hilarious readings and poems. A Birthday cake baked and decorated by Irene Fossan was presented to Dorothy Stubbie and we all enjoyed singing Happy Birthday to her. We ended with a sing song and it was a pleasure to play for such a group of good players. We hope our next season will be as successful.

COME ALIVE...

Looking unto Jesus

"Wherever seeing we also are accompanied about with the great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us. Looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him, endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God." Hebrews 12: 1 and 2.

These are tremendous words and we do well to pause and take a close look at them with Eternalists value in mind. I want you to consider the words, "Looking unto Jesus".

You may say, "but why must I waste my time with this when there are so many things I could be doing". Taking a close look at Jesus, you can see Him hanging on the cross of Calvary and shedding His precious blood. Seeing Him there could cause you to ask the question, "Why did He go to Calvary and die such a death?" My friend, I was Love that sent Him to the cross, and He did it willingly for you.

In John 3:14-15, we read the words, "and as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up: that whosoever believeth in Him shall not perish but have eternal life." This speaks of the children of Israel in the wilderness slinging against God, they were bitten of serpents. God's judgement came upon them. They were dying but God in mercy provided a way of deliverance, and healing, and Life. All who would look to the provision, the serpent on the pole, lived. All who refused, died. This may have seemed foolish to many, but God's ways are foolish to the natural man.

Today if you will turn from

Morgan clan re-unite at Big Knife

A family reunion of the descendants of Bob and Adelaide Morgan was held at the Big Knife Provincial Park on the July 1st holiday weekend. Thirty in all gathered for a very enjoyable campout, ball games, lawn darts, horse shoe and sing song of all the old songs that were favorite of bygone years were all a part of the three day gathering, in that the family will long time remember. One of the highlights was Ken Watkins singing "Old Broadway", as he did long ago when men and dad were still with us.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Morgan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dettler and Bob, all of Strom, Mrs. Gerlie Watkins, Kilham, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Watkins and Robbie, Mr. and Mrs. G. Keith and family, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Stark and family, all of Sherrard Park and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sherrard and family of Edmonton.

your sin, and look unto Jesus, the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world, you will be saved. Look unto Jesus and Live.

The Great Outdoors
Camping has become a favorite holiday for many people. Some people prefer to sleep under the stars but many of us still prefer some shelter while roughing it. Tents are still one of the more popular and versatile shelters. There are various types of tents available on today's market.

Umbrella Tents
These have a centre post from which ribs extend like an umbrella. This type of tent is suitable for a small family who wants to camp in open only. Because the tent is suspended from the frame, it is easier to pitch and it reduces the inside space. It is easy to get up though.

Cabin Tents
Families usually require larger styles with straight walls. Cabin or wall tents look like a small house. These can be quite elaborate, some with an additional room. The pole supporting the roof peak is usually inserted into a "sleeve". This should be enclosed to offer the best support and sturdy enough so it will not tear easily.

Pay Tents
These are the popular choice for backpackers. They are designed to sleep 1 or 2 people. The inside varies just as much as their styles and shapes. Inexpensive ones will probably last about two years. The more expensive ones (and they can get very expensive) are usually better quality. They have rubber coated floors, lighter weight for added water repellency, and better quality zippers on doors and windows.

Realizes coming in all sorts of shapes, tents come in all sorts of colors. Dark colors don't show dirt, but is pretty dreary on a cloudy day. Orange and yellow are bright and cheery and appear sunny beside even on cloudy days. However, the first ray of sunlight makes the tent as bright as high noon - a distinct disadvantage when you have young children and shadows at night from a light inside the tent show up more on light colored tents.

Blue and green are pretty good intermediate colors. They are not too prone to shadows and are fairly bright.

Nylon tents let in more light than canvas ones.

Most tents have a waterproof finish but very few have a flame retardant treatment. This can be applied at home with a product like "Flamcoat" which you can get from Safety Supply Companies. It needs to be reapplied each season. Even with such a treatment a tent is fabric which still will burn. Campers should be especially careful of campfires, lanterns, lighter fluids, and electrical cords.

Waxes make up a large part of the waterproof finish. It's a good idea to pre-treat your tent before you use it the first time. Set it up in the backyard (this is hell if it's a good exercise for first-time campers) and soak it with a fine spray of water. This will prevent it and you can detect any leaks. Be sure the guy ropes and poles are not too tight. Leaks from needle holes can occur but should stop after a couple of soakings. If not, return the tent to the seller.

Pamphlets
Two pamphlets available free from Alberta Agric. are "Camping and Backpacking Recipes" and "Helpful Hints for Camping".

My Time Here

by Mally Shier
The sun outside my door is still, so still. Its warmth, surrounding me, caresses, in the distance the sky's blanket edge is muted fire. A bonfire glow melts and flows, gliding the sky, the ground, the buildings with molten warmth. A single, fine, clear call, and arounds later the bird's mate echoes with the reassurance that it is there.

The sounds, the vibrations: lovely, ancient as the earth, cause me to stand frozen to the spot. My back tingles. I experience the desire to reach out and hold this moment for all eternity but I know with ultimate frustration: I am unable to do so. It slips through my fingers, my mind, even by memory like a dream that I try, with the greatest effort, to remember.

Moments like this give me the country that I came in search of. But then they are gone, leaving me full of regrets. I have taken my life here so far granted, I have fallen into the patterns of my city existence, hardly taking time to also between excursions of necessity to look and feel and see.

I still own, the poignant moment gone, thinking of the few weeks hence when I will be gone from this place. Ah yes, there will be other opportunities. Always. But will they be like this one - squandered?

Two years I have known this place. And what do I remember...

There are the people: the many friendly faces, warm hellos and invitations. Kindness and laughter. Some so wonderful that the realization of them brought (and still brings) stinging tears. Friends so easily made, the friendships grown richer with the time.

The open sky, the stars! The stars! I'd never seen stars before like this I remember being in the mountains last, entranced by their dazzling clarity.

This content, nearly disorienting of building that I found that day. I explored it, wondering so intensely about its beguiling walls with molten warmth.

My times alone here. Some carried sadness, true. But many were deliciously close and warm, torching my mind with contentment.

The daytime sounds outside my window. The cattle just across the field, their plaintive moaning echoing through the quiet morning. Three new-born, starlings chirping loudly at their exhausted and delighted parents. Children playing boisterously, yodeling, laughing, running in the spring wind.

At night, lying wrapped in a warm quilt with my small dog curled around my side, his head resting on my stomach, I'd listen to the night sounds: coyotes in the fields, howling with dedication at the moon. The wind, jostling the leaves of the tree that waves at me taking time to also between excursions of necessity to look and feel and see.

My dog, tired of my silliness whines and scratches my leg. It's bedtime now. My present. My laughter rings through the calm air. Squandered? Look where my memory has been. It has dug up so many precious stories from its treasure chest that I did not know was there.

With a light and comforting gladness I open my door and walk into my welcoming home.

Indeed, it was an unusual strike. For eight days the air-planes were silent on the tarmac. For much of that time, 20,000 people were laid off in their jobs. The innocent third parties - those who were laid off and those whose travel plans had gone awry - by and large supported the pilots and the air traffic controllers. That was the first unique aspect of the strike: another was that those on strike were not asking for self-serving increases in pay or decrease in work hours. However, the most unusual aspect of the strike was that the government's word was no longer acceptable.

The Prime Minister went on national TV and delivered an entirely reasonable statement. The tone was conciliatory. He told Canadians clearly that, "No other goal of public policy has ever or will ever take precedence over the goal of preserving and improving public safety in the air." He added firmly that, "there will be no requirement for English-speaking pilots to learn French in order to fly anywhere in Canada." He further promised that, "until procedures which will be acceptable to all have been approved from an air safety point of view, no new policy will be put into practice."

So there it was, the Prime Minister of the Nation telling Canadians that he was promising exactly and clearly what those on strike were demanding. Yet the strike ensued. In my view, this was a strike with a difference. Perhaps even more important than the question of bilingualism was the question of a major organized group of Canadians being the government but could not accept the assurance that was given. Bluntly stated they did not believe the Prime Minister and his Cabinet. Thus while the Prime Minister assured "safety first" the pilots and air controllers believed that the real question the government held respecting bilingualism in air traffic was "how and when".

This state of affairs reflects an issue more important than the surface content of "safety". It demonstrates that a significant group of Canadians do not trust the word of the government - the practice of the past have earned a vote of non-confidence. In effect, words alone are no longer a good enough insurance of trust in government; and that is a bigger issue than what the strike appeared to be about. The issue of confidence encompasses each and every concern that faces Canadians.

Keeping in touch is more than saying the right words with the right tone; one's history must document believability. Without trust in leadership, every issue is suspect.

Question: Why do cattle lick up their urine? John J. Tschetter, Princeton, N.J.

Answer: Deprived appetites can be caused by several things. Protein, vitamins, minerals and vitamins. Boredom may also contribute. Is there adequate water facilities? Is there clean water? Is water heated with a tank heater?

If protein and roughage levels are adequate, you should consider the quality of the mineral and the proportion of calcium to phosphorus, also adequate levels of vitamins A and D, and whether their intake is adequate. If you are feeding proper amounts of supplements, you may consider feedstuffs poor (moldy) and salt. Is salt licked? If so, you should consider putting out horse stock salt in a feed bin.

Steve Mikaloff

Question: How should we handle cattle affected with acute indigestion/dysentery related to grain overload? John J. Tschetter, Camrose, Alberta

Answer: You require the services of a professional veterinarian to guide you in your feedlot management operation. Strange as it may seem to most owners, this is a very difficult problem to handle satisfactorily.

Animals so affected are afflicted with an acute acidosis. Not only is the pH of the rumen acid but also is there a general acidosis. Rumen movements stop. The animal goes down much as a cow with milk fever. Temperature is normal to subnormal. Without help, such animals often die.

Magnesium hydroxide (milk of magnesia) given according to manufacturer's direction is the present product of choice because it is antacid, laxative, and stops much gas formation in the rumen. However, additional anti-fermentatives may be necessary if gas to be used for the new shop; agreed that crews should be laid off in bad weather rather than taken into the shop; agreed that the cost of maintenance with the graders be increased to $25,000 per division; a basic $10,000 per division was suggested to be used in planning the road program.

County Council in brief

The gravel transfer of Kretsch Transport for a gravel haul similar to that of 1975, was accepted for 1976, approximately 70,000 yds. at the per yard mile and six per yard loading time.

The reclamation project at the Forestburg coal mines is progressing, with land being levelled and seeded. The project has been slightly over-budget. A fish pond has been proposed for the site.

The old Chichester school site was sold to G. A. Johnson. A Naasna photo copier was approved for the office, at a cost of $4,250.00 plus trade-in of the present copier.

1976 road programs were examined and discussed at length and it was noted there would be approximately 24 miles of construction to be done this year. The 1976 program will amount to $300,000. As Mr. Robert, Campbell of Sedgewick has been appointed a part-time Social Worker for the Dept. of Social Services, Council agreed to give him the use of an office on a part-time basis.

Girl Guide to Switzerland

On July 1st, Kathy Keith left by Air Canada for Zurich, Switzerland for a 25 day holiday with twelve Girl Guides from Canada. Kathy is the only Alberta Guide and she was to meet 9 other Guides and 2 leaders at Toronto. Their tour will include 11 days at the Girl Guide's Chateau at Adelboden plus tours to other spots in Switzerland and Germany.

To see Kathy off at Leduc were her folks, Nancy and Bill and Donna and Ken. By the time we got home to Sedgewick, Kathy would have been in Toronto, and by 8:30 that night, she would be in Zurich. Mr. and Mrs. Keith received news that daughter Donna has completed her first year of nursing. She is working at the Red Deer General Hospital for the summer and starts her second and final year in September.

New Alta. coal policy

Kevin Peterson
The Longueve government's long-awaited coal policy has finally arrived, bringing with it dramatically increased royalties, surprisingly tough environmental restrictions and the expected demand for more Alberta participation in the industry.

Energy Minister Don Getty's new guidelines are expected to increase the provincial take from the industry to $23 million from the current $900,000. The province's present 10 cent a ton royalty has been under criticism as ludicrously low for years — the new scale applies a sliding formula that will hike the royalty to as high as 50 per cent of profits from lucrative mines.

Mr. Getty said his new policy is "restrictive" — but coal operators found some of the restrictions far tougher than they had expected.

Particularly surprising was the announcement that strip mining would be banned in the foothills and Rocky Mountains. While provincial environmental agencies had made such suggestions in the past it would be widely expected that the development advocates would win out in the end.

Other prohibitions areas include national and provincial parks, wilderness and natural areas, watershed research study areas and recreation and historic sites.

Both underground and strip mines will be tolerated as an agricultural land (with the important condition that the land be reclaimed), in northern forests and along the eastern edge of the foothills.

All firms will be required to design and pay for carrying out reclamation on their sites.

Girl Guides and Brownies attend rally

Saturday, June 5, 1976 dawned as a beautiful sunny day, so 8 Brownies and 7 Guides from Killam enjoyed meeting with the other Brownies and Guides from the Flaxstaff District in Holden for their yearly rally.

Tellie, Hilden, Sedgewick, Holden and Killam participated in the mock sports day which included such sports as skipping, braiding, papermaking first-aid and physical fitness. After lunch hour the "House of Horrors" which was an original idea of the Holden Guides, entertained all who attended. Each group then put on a short program which varied from songs, to skits, and was very well received by the entire audience.

Elaine Keith from Sedgewick then led the whole group in a sing-song. By then it was soon time to head for home so everyone enjoyed a slide cup over their good-byes. The sky was starting to darken so we headed for home.

Mrs. Battershaw and Mrs. Cavanaugh drove the Killam Brownies up to Holden and Mrs. Felgate also attended, to help out with the girls.

Brownies Irene Strehg

On Saturday, June 12, two Guides, Amy Lee Miller and Kathy Keith attended an Over-18 Guide Rally at Miquelon Lake, Golden from Manitou area, comprising of Camrose, Killam, New Serrata, Viking, Holden and Tellie camped out and enjoyed a "day in the rain" on Sunday.

Galahad family holds annual reunion

The annual gathering of the Nicolls family took place this weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Allan of Galahad. Present for the occasion were David Gamroth and Margaret Nicolls, their daughter Helene Nicolls of Saskatoon and granddaughter Jelle. Their son Bob Nicolls of Moosehead and his wife Sharon and their two sons Danny and Michael.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nicolls and their son Boyd Nicolls and his wife Lyndee and their children David, Donna and Darren of Regina.

Clarence and Edith King of Tacoma Washington were also present for the reunion.

Our Lions don't fear - They turn the clock back. Yes they did that yesterday, turned the clock back thirty or forty years.

When we arrived on the beautiful grounds, everyone was busy enjoying themselves getting things prepared for the Big Day. Made all this activity soon you heard children's voices raised in laughter and cheers, the races had started.

We who are too old for such activity were soon there to cheer the wee ones in their many different events.

From another corner comes laughter, cheers and hooting, the mothers playing ball against their sons, the angler not only does his job behind the plate but is also busy coaching ball teams. He is enjoying himself too. This kind of good sportsmanship prevailed from every corner of the grounds.

Also there were games of skill - like fishpond, throwing balls at bottles and merry-go-rounds. You ask games of skill? You try riding a Merry-go-round for an afternoon - that's skill!

Then came the supper hour. Who says men can't cook. Our Lions can. It was a super meal boys - even the seconds were delicious. You of the community who didn't come missed the best sports around. No professional teams, using that term lightly, just your sons, daughters, grandchildren and your neighbors. Big and small, young and old each doing their thing and enjoying themselves immensely.

Yes folks, this happened in Galahad and our Sheroes Thora Lines, a Job Well Done.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Are You Concerned?

Every night years a redistribution commission is set up to determine the number of seats in the Legislature and the ratio of urban and rural voters. At present there are 75 seats made up of 27 rural and 48 urban, population wise this makes a voting ratio of approximately 1 to 1.

When the redistribution commission was set up they were instructed to bring the voting ratio down to 2 to 1, having three more urban seats in each of the 2 major cities and removing one from the rural.

It has recently been announced by the commission of their recommendation that there will be 75 seats in the Legislature, 36 rural and 39 urban, approximately a voting ratio of 2 to 1. The rural seat to be removed? You guessed it, Sedgewick/Coronation, a truly agricultural constituency with no major urban center. If you do not believe me, ask our present M.L.A. Henry Kreuger, our former M.L.A. Hagen Sorenson or any of the candidates that tried to cover our constituency. If this is not so, New this vote work load is to be divided between 5 other M.L.A.'s who have already more than sufficient work to do.

If you do not fight this proposal and it comes to pass, what will happen further down the road (if we have a road) to other rural constituencies as the population increases in the urban areas, perhaps 4, 5 or 6 seats will be removed.

In October of this year, hearings will be held in the Sedgewick/Coronation constituency and we must be concerned now, not in 2 or 3 years from now when it comes to our right to vote and we find that we are to vote for someone in Camrose, Stettler, Vermilion, Wainwright or Hanna/Oyen as well as may be the case.

I urge you to think very strongly of this situation and be concerned as a citizen of Alberta. We have had many Grants and Government Assistance in the projects of this area, who will fight for these rights? Don't let us lose our representation. Urge your Town Council, Chamber of Commerce, Uniform or other organizations and you as an individual to take a strong stand in this unfair proposal. Send your strong argumentative letters or letters to your Premier, The Hon. Peter Lougheed and to your M.L.A. Mr. Henry Kreuger.

Believe and be saved

In the Acts of the Apostles, the simplest chapter, we have the account of Paul and Silas in prison. They had been committed, but for the preaching of the Gospel. They were good men and their lives manifested the life and love of the Lord Jesus Christ. People knew that they had been with Jesus. Just look for a moment at these men in prison. Their clothes had been torn off, and they were cruelly beaten. Beaten and bleeding, they were thrown into prison with their feet in stocks. This was not a very pleasant reward for services rendered to Jesus. We must note that these lovers of Jesus had no bitterness in their hearts, but they had a love for the souls of men. There was also a joy in their hearts which only comes from the Lord.

In Acts 16:25, the word says that they prayed and sang praises to God, and were heard by the rest in prison, also they were heard by the jailer. They were not ashamed of their Lord. How is it with you, my friend? It matters a great deal how you live and what you say, when you call yourself a Christian. These men in prison were rewarded for their faith and love to Christ, and were released by the power of God. The Philippian jailer saw and heard things that made him realize God was alive and real, and that he was a sinner and needed to get right with God. May it be that you who do not have Christ as your personal Saviour, will see that Jesus Christ is the Saviour of the world, and that you need to ask Him to come into your heart.

The jailer cried out, "What must I do to be saved?" Please note they did not say, "join a church, or give to the church," etc. But Jesus said, "This my friend is what you must do, you will have eternal life. Jesus said, I am the way, the truth, and the life, no one comes to the Father but by Me".

Bloat costs cattlemen $$$$

Glen Werner, D.A.

Deaths from bloat continue to cost Canadian cattlemen millions of dollars every year despite the millions that have been spent on research.

Each year brings new scientific breakthroughs by chemists and new hope for farmers. But each year finds us back at square one with no significant reduction in the incidence of bloat.

Legumes, such as alfalfa and clover, are the major cause of bloat and certain strains have a greater potential for causing bloat than others. Hence, the greatest promise of benefit from research would seem to lie in the development of relatively bloat-free strains of legumes, to present such strains like alfalfa have proved disappointing in use.

Bloat often occurs when cattle are abruptly transferred from a dry pasture to a new pasture with lush growth. It is caused by the fermentation of forages and the production of more gas in the rumen than the animal is able to expel. Belching, the belly of the animal becomes greatly distended and unless aided it dies quickly. It may die of asphyxiation.

Dr. Frank Baker, Extension Vet. of Alberta Agriculture

suggests that to relieve the situation a stomach tube should be passed through the nose or mouth of the animal to the stomach. After the gas has been expelled some mineral oil or antifoaming should be given.

If the gas cannot be expelled via the stomach tube, and the animal is in distress, the rumen should be punctured (on the left side) through the abdominal wall with a trocar or, in extreme cases of emergency, even with a knife. No time should be lost in performing this operation.

After the animal has been "trucked" with a trocar or a knife, it should be given procaine intramuscularly to prevent infection from developing in the abdominal wall.

Good management and close surveillance are still the key factors in the control of bloat. Products containing poloxalene when fed daily will control bloat, but their use is generally restricted by their cost and the practicality of administration.

Following are some suggestions for dealing with alfalfa and clover crops where bloat is a problem. Some may not be practical for all situations, but hopefully some will prove beneficial.

Pasture legumes only after they are in full bloom

Keep cattle off pastures during, and just after, wet weather. The most likely period for bloat to occur is when there is young fresh growth such as in the spring after a rain which follows a dry period.

Feed cattle dry hay before turning them on to a legume pasture to prevent them from gorging themselves.

Have some good, palatable hay in the field where the cattle are pastured to enable them to get enough coarse material for good rumen function.

Make sure the cattle have continual access to a mineral mix, preferably one with a calcium/phosphorus ratio of 1:1.

Keep loose salt available. If the salt tends to cake, mix it with 3 pounds of cooking type salt per the pounds of salt.

It may be necessary to vary the amount of oil, depending upon whether or not the salt continues to cake.

Grass leaved pasture in strips, using electric fencing, and making sure that all the pasture has been eaten before moving the cattle to the next strip.

Paint a four-inch wide strip of oil (4 ounces of neatfoot oil) in a gallon of kerosene oil on one side of each animal from its shoulder to its rear flank. This should be done each day 20 minutes before cattle are put on a legume pasture. When the animals lick the oil it goes into the rumen where it prevents gas bubbles from forming.

In the case of dairy cattle, one tablespoon of a detergent, such as "Tide" given in the cow's chop each morning before she is put on pasture seems to help prevent bloat in many cases.

The other day at the feed mill we discussed gut edema in young pigs, pigs that get weak, stagger and soon die. We require more information on this problem, Wayne Leamy, Sedgewick.

The causes of gut edema, also known as edema disease, enterotoxigenic, gastric edema, in swine has not been completely understood. However, there is little question that a bacterial toxin is involved. This toxin is thought to be produced as a result of the sudden, rapid multiplication of the coliform organisms in the pig gut. The toxin produced is paralytic in nature and causes the incoordination and eventual paralysis seen in such cases.

Unfortunately, it is the best doing, fastest growing pigs in the group that are affected. Once definite symptoms are noted, little if anything, can be done to reverse the rapidly progressing paralysis.

As far as prevention is concerned, there is no positive way it can be done. However, pig consistency (inbreeding) — salts have come from a modified limited feeding program. This consists of: (1) the feeding of a high fibre feed such as oats; or (2) withholding access to feed for a period of 18 to 24 hours every 10 to 14 days.

laking water, has been widely used. Charcoal is sometimes administered. Excess salts 1-3 gm. per pig depending on size charcoal (wood charcoal not briquets) only to three per cent of the ration. All of this is done in an attempt to remove the toxin. The idea is that the toxin is in the gut of the pig not yet allowing paralytic symptoms.

I do hope this has given you a little more information, but I do not expect it to completely solve your problem.

Community Spirits

by Myrtle L. Larson

On January 8, 1960, just seven days after the 10th Annual New Year's Tournament, Killam residents were awakened in the early morning by the shrieking of the fire alarm. Dashing to the windows they could see clouds of smoke billowing high into the sky. The Killam arena was burning.

Until the late 1940's Killam had not had an arena. Then Mr. Albert Labelle, a lawyer, came to Killam. After living in the town a short time he realized the great need for a Community Sports Centre. When he became president of the Board of Trade he soon convinced the leading citizens of the value of having this facility. Committees were formed.

Neighbouring towns having buildings similar to the one the committee had in mind were visited. After many meetings and much discussion blue-prints were drawn up and work on a 214 by 114 foot arena was started.

Next came the great task of money-raising! This was done by funds from Sport's days, rallies, carnivals and especially donations. Most of the labour was by citizens who gave freely of their time and finally in 1950 the Killam Memorial Community Arena was opened by Mr. A.E. Fre, local M.L.A.

It was a terrible shock then, to wake up just 10 years later and realize that the result of all their hard work was being destroyed. Many donated cloth-

Advisory Group plan for 60th

by Carol Arntsen

The Advisory Council met on Tuesday, July 13, in conjunction with the Inter-Provincial Bar-B-Que. There were representatives from all Regions with Ted Yeock and Doug Blomert from the branch also in attendance. There were several things on the Agenda such as 60th Anniversary; 4th Lenders Conference; 4th Centric and 4th Tractor and Truck Rally.

The 60th Anniversary was discussed quite a bit as we must get going now to really be able to celebrate next year with the 60th anniversary. There was not too good a response to the Logo, poster, and song contest, there were only about 10 entries in each category out of a whole province which is really poor. The committee will be meeting to choose the top logo, poster and song in the future.

The 4th Centric was again discussed as an anniversary project. The council has not yet received a final decision from the consultants whether or not it is feasible as of yet but hope to have the results of this study soon.

The Tractor and Truck Rally was discussed and the Council was not pleased with the lack of interest and entries in this Rally. It was decided that there be no deadline for entries but allow the members to enter right up until the day of the Rally to be held in the respective Region.

As a Council member I would like to encourage our members with the East Central Region in this worthwhile Rally. Send your names into the Regional Office and you will receive a Driver's Kit which contains a summary of rules, safety information and other material of assistance to entrants in connection with both written and field tests. To date there has been only two entries received for our region and in order to have a rally we need more. Let's get out and participate members.

The 4th Lenders Conference will be held in Edmonton this fall. This matter was tabled for our next meeting.

The Inter-Provincial Bar-B-Que was held at the Red Barn, 1/2 mile north of Sun Accord. There we met the exchange of the provinces across Canada. The evening's program started off with a lovely Bar-B-Que supper after which the delegates introduced each other. The President of the Alberta 4-H Advisory Council, Dewey Rigney introduced other guest members of the assembly which were in attendance. Mr. Stan Gould, Vice President of the Council presented the delegates with a small remembrance of our Province and Capital City with Harold Anderson presenting a remembrance from the Calgary Region.

HAY & SILAGE

The quality of hay and silage cut and put into storage this summer greatly determines the condition of the livestock herds this coming winter.

One of the best ways to make high quality hay is to harvest it early. A good thumb rule is to use to harvest the hay when the legume is about 100% in bloom, or the grasses have just headed out. At this time, the protein content is 2-4 percent higher for the legumes and the digestibility of the grasses can be nearly 10 percent better than when seed is being formed.

Often the argument is heard that if I cut my hay early in July, I will not receive as many bales, or pounds to the acre, as if I cut it later. If you are looking at quantity instead of quality this is true. However, if you are concerned about costs and production a high quality hay in most cases can save money as well as improve production. Low quality hay often costs money. Milk cows and feeder steers simply will not eat enough hay to live in digestible form to reach their production potential. They do not get as hungry because the poor quality hay takes longer to digest in the rumen. The result is a reduction in total feed intake and lower performance. An added bonus to cutting hay early in the season is the good possibility of a second cut later in the summer. This cut is often lower in yield, but of even higher quality.

Silage is an alternate of making a high quality feed. Silage has the advantage of being readily mechanized, not as dependent of good weather conditions, and a highly palatable forage that keeps indefinitely.

Silage can also supply high yields per acre. Some cattle-men have had yields of up to ten tons of wet silage, or nearly 2 tons of dry matter per acre. That's about the same as 110 or so bales to an acre.

Furthermore, silage if put up at the correct stages can be very good feed for wintering beef cows or using in a dairy ration. Several beef cow herds have received only silage during the winter months with light supplementation and have done well delivering healthy calves in the spring.

A thumb-rule to use when harvesting a silage is - mild to late dough stage for barley and mild milk stage for oats. Grasses and legumes are about the same as for hay.

Dear Editor,

In 1971 the then Minister of Finance, John Turner, brought down a Budget wherein it was announced that there would be a capital gains tax on transfers of farm land from parent to child.

Following the 1972 election after much pressure from myself and other M.P.s the Minister of Finance was convinced that such a capital gains tax should not apply in these cases.

On November 17th, 1975 the Dept. of National Revenue issued a Tax Bulletin (IT-294) which, in my opinion, is clearly contrary to the expressed desire of the former Minister of Finance to waive a capital gains tax on transfers of land within the family in the business of farming.

In this bulletin it states that in the case of family corporations in the business of farming the land is transferred to the corporation from the parent a capital gains tax is applicable and the above applicable by a corporation other than the family corporation.

I want to bring this to the attention of the farming community in Alberta so that farm organizations and the public at large in the coming months to make the government aware that the capital needs in agriculture are so great that the industry cannot afford to pay this excessive tax on capital gains when family farm corporations are involved.

I believe there should be established a clearly definable formula as to what constitutes a business corporation involved in agriculture.

Yours sincerely,

Jack Horner, M.P.

Question: I would appreciate assistance in establishing a sound antibiotic program for the treatment and prevention of a disease problem in small pigs called E. coli scours. We have periodic outbreaks of E. coli scours and find them difficult to control. Orville Fossan - Killam.

Answer: Further to our discussion at the feed mill the other day, I am forwarding additional information by mail. A general vaccine program that includes the use of antibiotics in disease prevention would include use of antibiotics as follows:

1. One week before and three weeks after the introduction of the boar at breeding.

2. One week before and two weeks after onset of farrowing include a laxative-type ration (40% lbs. per ton).

3. Creep feed pigs with antibiotic added in pre-starter.

4. Starter and grower rations up to 75 lbs.

5. Finish with low level of drugs. Consult your feed manufacturer on best levels for your operation. Use of vaccines and bacterins should be done on recommendations of your veterinarian. Generally, the following program is suggested:

1. Bacterins - usually erysipelas bacterins six and two weeks before farrowing.

2. Vaccinate sows pigs at 4-6 weeks for erysipelas.

3. Commence using a Special Medicated Farrowing Sow ration one week prior to farrowing and two weeks after farrowing. Use the same ration for the lean at outlined earlier.

4. The use of NF-18 for a 10-day interval immediately after farrowing is highly effective. It is the fact that capital gains tax must be paid on the sale of farm land even if it is the farmer's desire to repurchase more convenient land. The situation generally arises when a person commencing the farming business purchases scattered quarter sections as they become available and the farmer in life wishes to sell distant quarters as to consolidate his farm. Obviously, if the capital gains tax must be paid before other land is purchased the farmer is jeopardized and encouraged to continue farming parcels of property of inefficient location.

For several weeks now, I have been in discussions with the Honourable Bud Collins.

THE SKATERS

by Sharon M. Chervaux
Some of my own warm memories of the wild skiffs snow across the yard beneath my window. I could hear the laughter of the kids in the misty of memory to watch them sauntering down the street, skates along across their shoulders. Their cheeks are red in the frosty evening and their burials of laughter are sporadic and contagious. They are the phos of my own past. The kids we used to be. And I follow them. Follow them past the few houses, across the open sports ground, and watch as they skirt the shore, away from the old grandstand, perching over their shoulders rather timidly as though something might leap from its blackness to overtake them.

A muffled crash from beneath the grandstand brought the ice into wild flight. With a blade clanging and clicking together, they dash past the school house and suddenly, they're there. The Skaters. Rather breathless and red-faced, they skid across the ice, they stand a little apart from each other, gazing at the ice. The boys by one they find a seat on the old log and bend to put on their skates. They lace quickly with stiffening fingers, stopping to blow on their hands before they finish the job, grunting for their mates when it's done. They rise to their feet and glide smoothly away in the dusk, down the street as they find their special paths across the ice; then racing with wind and gale.

I can see them so clearly, those children of my past. I can hear their shouts of gleeful terror as they play crack-the-whip in the centre of the old slough. I can see pairs of the older ones gliding arm and arm around the darker corners, bear their soft whispers and muted glances as they find the sharp edges of the old car roof sticking up through the ice where the children rest after a bolder game of tag. I can remember the swoop and swirl of their skirts mingling with the sound of their mirth. And then as I watch, they vanish into the blackness of night and time, and I stretch myself back to the reality of my own warm room with the snow in the dust, down the yard beneath my window.

Farms and capital gains taxArnold Milne, M.P.
Battle River Constituency

Throughout the past couple of years, a number of farmers have brought to my attention the fact that capital gains tax must be paid on the sale of farm land even if it is the farmer's desire to repurchase more convenient land. The situation generally arises when a person commencing the farming business purchases scattered quarter sections as they become available and the farmer in life wishes to sell distant quarters as to consolidate his farm. Obviously, if the capital gains tax must be paid before other land is purchased the farmer is jeopardized and encouraged to continue farming parcels of property of inefficient location.

For several weeks now, I have been in discussions with the Honourable Bud Collins.

Shower for Diane Cameron

On Sunday afternoon, July 18th, a large number of ladies and men folks gathered at the Bellshill Hall to honor Miss Diane Cameron with a miscellaneous shower. This was sponsored by the Gracie Goodwill Club which presented the lovely and varied gifts.

Lunch was then served and all enjoyed a good visit over the tea and coffee cups.

Special guests present were: Alice and Muriel (Cameron) Hocking and husband, Gordon and Harold from Barrie, Ontario. These ladies are sisters of Charlie's.

New elevator for Hardisty

This item is taken from the Camrose Canadian.
It tells how Hardisty is to get a new Alberta Wheat Pool elevator. The new house will be 38 feet by 56 feet and 100 ft. in height, and will be equipped with a receiving and shipping leg, each capable of handling 200 bushel per hour. New dust handling equipment will involve a 5 horsepower dust collector to collect dust from both legs there store it in an outside tank. There will be room to spot seven cars at a time.

This elevator will be located on the site of Hardisty No. 1, adjacent to the present 67,000 bushel crib annex. The old pool No. 1, 2 and 4 and the huller annexes attached to them, will all be dismantled. Other elevators will be built in other locations but they will be of larger capacity than the one at Hardisty.

TOPS play softball game

The Hardisty T.O.P.S. club hosted the Sedgewick T.O.P.S. club to a ball game on Tues. July 6 with the Hardisty team winning. The Sedgewick ladies then served soft drinks and fruit to all. We'd like to thank all the spectators who donated to our "Chubby Cause". Since we started our T.O.P.S. club in Hardisty we have lost a total of 200+ pounds. We'd like to welcome anyone interested.

Bellshill reunion news

I could not begin to give a list of the names, but on going through the guest book I find I have missed some of the places people came from for the Bellshill reunion. Among those I missed were Washington and Illinois, U.S.A., Port McNeill, Nanaimo and Dawson Creek, B.C. and Rocky Mountain House, Devon, Drumheller, Rockyford, Strome, Red Deer, Killam, Calgary and Alx. Sorry about that folks, and if I've missed any more, it is not intentional. It was great seeing you all anyway.

Lars Riland of Vaila Lodge, Viking and Olive Good of Holden, Ernest and Elaine of Leduc visited Mr. Norman Armstrong.

Mrs. Eddy went to Allance and Galshead to spend a few days with her family.

Esther Hayes of Edmonton (formerly of Sedgewick) visited friends in the Lodge. Barbara (Whitely) Galshead of Prairies, B.C. visited Mrs. Frewing.

Helene Fredette of Edmonton took Mrs. Palmer to Edmonton to visit for a few days and then they went to Mayerthorpe to see her son Bill Palmer. Mrs. Ella Clouston went to Loughheed on Saturday to celebrate her grandson Darcy Clouston's birthday.

Vivian and Tommy Sparrow took Eva Altheisen to Drayton Valley to attend her granddaughter, Debbie Palmer's wedding.

Alvin and Annie Oliver of Loughheed called in to visit Mr. Earl Oliver.

We extend sympathy to Mr. Ernie Flanagan and family in the death of Dian Flanagan.

Mrs. Leslie Noel of Bakersfield, Cal., U.S.A., Mrs. Alice Redila of Edmonton, Jean and Jack McKillop of Killam visited Mr. and Mrs. Weber.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelm of Edmonton, Nilda Fisher's grandmother, brought her grandsons on Sunday.

THE BIG INCH

The ruled box is the amount of space occupied by a one-inch advertisement. It measures one column wide by 1 inch deep. It costs advertisers $1.40. It looks kinda lonesome by itself, but look at it this way: What you get when you buy a one-inch ad in The Community Press is not just a single inch of space in the paper, but one inch multiplied by our circulation of 1,593.

So you are buying 1,989 inches, which at 75 inches a page would be almost 26 pages of newspaper.

That's a mighty big chunk of space for a cost of only $1.40 and that includes mail delivery. Just imagine the cost of reaching all those people by post card. It would amount to $117.00.

So you can see that a little one-inch ad is really a BIG INCH when it's advertising space in The Community Press!

And Figures show that it's the most effective and economical way possible to let people in the County of Flagstaff Trading area know that you have wares or services that they could use.

Palm oil: growing compition for rapeseed

AGRI - INSIGHT

— by the Alberta Wheat Pool

Palm oil is rapidly developing into a major competitor in world vegetable oil markets. Twice as much palm oil is likely to be produced in the next ten years, and it would account for 1/5 of the world trade in all fats and oils, a rise of 15% from 1965. Palm oil's low cost of production may affect prices for competing fats and oils.

Malaysia has emerged as the chief producer of palm oil, surpassing Indonesia and the African nations. By 1980, Malaysia plans to expand palm oil production by 100% and could originate 74 of all palm oil exports. World palm oil production reached 2 million tons in 1975 and by 1985 is expected to total over 4 million tons. Most of this new production is scheduled for export markets.

While all palm trees take from three to five years after planting to come into production, they yield two crops of palm fruits annually for 30 to 35 years. The fruits consist of three main parts: an outer fleshy pulp which contains palm oil, a palm nut beneath this fleshy pulp and a palm kernel inside the nut which contains palm kernel oil. Each year, the harvest of palm fruits from an acre of trees yields about 400 pounds of palm oil. In comparison, a 20 bushel rapeseed crop produces 400 pounds of rapeseed oil per acre.

South-east Asia's oil palm plantations are capital intensive operations. Since palm fruit is perishable and must be processed soon after harvest, most plantations include an oil extraction plant on the site. An average plantation may have a capital investment of $2,500, per acre. However, the large yield of oil means it can be produced in a processed form for 4 to 5 cents per pound. Based on $1 per bushel rapeseed and excluding processing costs and rapeseed meal revenue, one pound of rapeseed oil is worth 19 cents.

Palm oil is mainly used in the production of shortening, although it can also be utilized in margarine and cooking oils. It is not suitable for use in salad oils. Palm kernel oil is similar to coconut oil and is used by margarine manufacturers to produce a butter-like consistency. Rapeseed oil is used in shortening, margarine and cooking oils as well as salad oils.

Leading importers of palm oil have been the E.E.C., United Kingdom, United States and Japan. Canada's largest customer for rapeseed, imported 100,000 tons of palm oil in 1975. While palm oil does not impose an immediate threat to rapeseed, its increasing supply and low prices are causing it to challenge rapeseed and soybeans.

Canada's palm oil imports are generally for use in shortening, but the oil is also used in margarine. The price of palm oil influences the amount used. In the last decade, Canadian manufacturers have imported 15,000 to 20,000 tons of palm oil annually. However, the low price of palm oil in 1975 caused imports to rise to 40,000 tons.

Palm oil is a growing competitor. As the volume of production continues to increase, margarine for palm oil will tend to be found in countries with high population growth rates, low vegetable oil consumption or low per capita income. Currently both Canada and the U.S. allow palm oil to be imported duty-free.

Clubs hold meetings

LONGHEED W.I.

At the kind invitation of Mrs. H. Swanson, the July meeting of the Longheed W.I. was held at their cabin at Hardisty Lake. Eleven members, two visitors and several junior visitors enjoyed the pleasant afternoon.

Mrs. W. Frost chaired the meeting which opened with the regular routine. Mrs. G. Coates acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. G. Johnson. Three get-well and two sympathy cards had been sent during the month. All financial statements showed a healthy bank balance.

Much discussion took place re improvements to the library, as suggested by Mr. Winkler, when he was present at the opening in June. It is hoped some of the suggestions may be carried out. The present condition of the cemetery due to the rainy and windy weather hindering mowing and clean-up operations was brought up.

Final details concerning the catering to the Camrose wedding on July 21 were arranged.

A dainty lunch, plus homemade ice cream, brought a happy afternoon to a close.

LADIES CLUB MEETING

The Gretna Ladies met at the home of Mary Bombough on July 18th. Rita Hese took the chair, as our President, Melba Cameron is away on a holiday. Seven members and one visitor answered the Roll Call with a talk about a hobby or craft you are interested in. This disclosed various hobbies, crocheting, quilting, upholstering, making decorations, cake decorating and Pickering Chickens! Plans were finalized for the shower in honor of Diane Cameron on July 18, and we thank the Gretna Creek Ladies for their help. Rita and Mary Bombough are to make a special cake (n.b. they did and it was lovely). Thanks were received from the Hase family. Plans also made to cater to a Silver Anniversary Banquet and Open House in Longheed on Aug. 7.

We missed you Christie, Melba and Margery, so are you at the next meeting at Christie's on August 11, Roll Call. Come as you are. The raffle was won by Mary Bombough and Mary Albrecht had the lucky cup. Meeting adjourned with the best, assisted by Helen Sutherland, served a delicious lunch and we had a nice visit over the coffee cups.

The Kolbitz were well represented with company as son Robert with his son Roger of Venece just spent a while with his mother Mrs. Marie Kolbitz and Bernie. Roger will spend summer holidays on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Irene Quinlan will be leaving for their home in Chilliwack the end of July as Irene's birthday is the 16th of August. She resides in Chilliwack Extended Care Hospital. I'm sure that all of her friends and relatives wish her a very happy 100th birthday.

I would like to thank those that give me news items as I was recently reminded of an article in the editorial page of a paper not far from here, that the local paper brings to the people, and if they will turn in news items to the reporter or editor it helps everyone and so it does.

Just now Hardisty and the I.P.L. workers and personal are mourning the tragic death of Mr. Pat Fash and his help Gary, who leaves a wife and two young children. The Fashs lived in Hardisty for some time and Pat was well known for the lovely house produced by his wife. He seemed to understand the life of home bees so his sister Marie came back with them.

Gayle (Helen) and her son Nancy from Northern Manitoba attended Joe and Anna Saraga's 25th wedding anniversary and stayed over to visit with her parents Edna and Margaret Quinlan of Chilliwack, who in turn are visiting at Margaret's parental home.

Mrs. Marie Kolbitz and brother Bernie, Gayle will also be spending a month at Hardisty Lake. Welcome "Joan" again.

Mrs. Dorothy Teasle, her sister Esther Teasle of Fairview, also Gladys Leisner, Assiste of the two ladies, called on Mrs. Marie Kolbitz.

Mrs. Irene Reche and Mr. Jack McCrellan left by plane July 14th for a two week tour of England and Scotland.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Beeson were visiting at the Venece home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Venece spent last weekend in Calgary visiting with daughter Cora and her husband Allan Little and also took in the Saturday night Stampede performance.

The Perry Family have had grandsons Grant and Ricky Harley of Oyen with them the last week.

By comparing notes we find that a number of women are getting crank calls and its pretty hard on the temper when you hustle up the stairs to answer the phone only to find someone on the other end trying to sing "Yankee Doodle" or just gibberish and in case these malicious makers don't realize it the Criminal Code provides for up to six months in prison and $100.00 fine for making obscene or harassing calls.

If these people are found out, their phone can be removed as if there is a law who are doing this to us as elderly people very and some not so well, use your brains if you have any before the A.G.T. Troublemakers find you out.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Matthews of Calgary spent a day at the parental home, Barney Matthews home last week.

Old Nelson from Flaggstaff Lodge spent Friday afternoon in Hardisty and had supper with his sister-in-law Isabel Nelson.

Instead of getting the news sent out when I was supposed to, didn't have time ready and went to Flaggstaff's late in Leugheed. It is always a home and belonging but Miss Bartley is happy in the Lodge and there comes a time to most of us to have to make that big decision when we can no longer keep our home together.

She was directed to the Powell home when trying to find out which was the Skogheim house so she was delighted to find someone who had known her folks and grandparents, and to find out that Grandma McClellan house was where her mother had been brought up.

She married a man from Alton, his name not recalled, but he wanted to find the Lee house in Amisk too.

Farmers win fight to retain farm lands

Kevin Peterson
Farmers won a battle but may lose the war against strip mining prime agricultural land with the Longview government's rejection of a massive Calgary. Power project near Camrose.

In turning down the plan, a $2.5 billion power plant and essential coal mine complex, the administration warned the decision only buys time and Albertans face bleak choices a decade or so down the road.

All that has been refused — and only this time — is the location, on Duddo-Roundhill coal seams under top-rated farm property in the Camrose-Hy River area southeast of Edmonton.

The government's recommended alternate site, Sherrness near Hanna, about 180 miles northeast of Calgary, could be the last that isn't on crop-growing territory, Premier Peter Lougheed says.

Next time Alberta's power grid must be expanded, possibly as early as the mid 1980s, the choice could come down to disrupting fitful farms or using increasingly expensive alternate fuels.

The province's demand for electricity doubled from 1967 to 1976, and is expected to equal that jump again by 1982. After that, new growth would mean new plants in addition to Sherrness.

Barring technological breakthroughs, coal must be used to fire new generators for the rest of this century. Deposits in the foothills and mountains are either not available, too costly or the wrong kind of ore.

Mr. Lougheed says industry and government will embark on a hunt for available plants and deposits and wherever the administration is investing in irrigation to expand stocks of good farm land.

Special Edition

The Community Press will publish a special edition to mark the 10th anniversary coming. Included in this issue will be congratulatory advertisements and special articles and photos.

Publicity Chairman Dora Milke and her crew have done extensive research and writing in order to make this a most worthwhile keepsake. It will feature past and present as subject matter and will be mailed to subscribers of the Community Press with their August 4th issue. They will also be on sale in Killam during Homecoming, August 6 to 8th.

Chambers of Commerce, retailers and others who wish to have their messages included in this issue are asked to call The Community Press and a representative will call. To Killam, "Minutemen" will be contacted by Dora Milke. Deadline for ads is Thursday, July 28th.

Big plans for Aug. 6 to 8

The countdown is fast approaching for the Killam Homecoming August 6 to 8th. Local residents are asked to pre-register on Wednesday, July 28 and August 4. Your co-operation in this matter will greatly assist the committee who are planning this event.

Killam and district residents should also stand up early with groceries and staples like bread and milk. By filling your pantry now it could avoid last minute shopping trips only to find out the stores are all sold out.

TEN DOLLAR BETS: RE-ISSUED

In conjunction with Homecoming '76, the publication "Ten Dollar Bets", a history of Killam and District is being reviewed. Copies will be available during Homecoming Days.

4-H transferred to agriculture

The formal transfer of the 4-H Program to Alberta Agriculture from the Department of Recreation, Parks and Recreation is scheduled to take place later this summer.

The transfer came about as a result of recommendations made by a special task force study into the 4-H Program and its relationship to government. Consisting of representatives from government and the private sector, the task force was established following the Alberta government's decision to transfer youth programs associated with the former Department of Culture Youth and Recreation to appropriate government departments. The transfer is expected to facilitate the co-ordination and liaison with other rural and urban youth development programs.

The 4-H Program was transferred to the Department of Youth from Alberta Agriculture.

IT COULD HAPPEN TO YOU. The tailings elevator is jammed again, must give the belt another pull. In the second jerk the elevator starts suddenly, catches the operators fingers - one finger off, wrist broken! "The baler pickup is slipping again, I'll tighten it a bit, then you start her up, we'll see if it will do. Not enough? I'll give it more force. Hey! don't start it yet!" - one hand off!

"Away with that noisy sheld! Can't hear yourself think", now to start up the motor and all up the back - opps my pants - after they untangled him the Doctor pronounced him dead - skull fracture and brain concussion! Farm Machinery: Farm Machinery accident. Statistics reveal that proper use of shelling or grain used can have prevented most of the injuries, reports the Alberta Safety Council.

A breakdown of the accident cases by the major object involved indicated that: "Belt and Pulley" accounted for one out of every four injuries. "Chain and Sprockets" and "Angers" were each involved in one out of every five accident cases.

"Power-take-off components" were involved in one out of every seven cases. When classified by cause or how the accident occurred, the results were as follows: "caught in or between" accounted for four out of every five cases reported.

"Struck by" accounted for 15 percent of the cases.

The Alberta Safety Council strongly recommends that the following safe operating practices be adhered to:

Be sure that all shields are in place before any machine is started. Replace any damaged or misplaced guards or shields. Before re-starting operation, ture in 1966 with the idea of giving the young people of this province a government department and, hence, an identity of their own. However, since that time the government has undergone many changes, and it now appears that Alberta youth prefer to have access to many government departments rather than be tied to a specific one.

Since 1966 enrollment in the 4-H Program has almost doubled and now stands at 11,000. A fairly substantial proportion of the members come from Alberta's smaller cities, towns and acreages on the fringe of cities like Edmonton and Calgary. Members' ages vary from 10 to 21, but the majority are in the 10 to 15 age group.

The number of projects available to 4-H members has also increased in the last 10 years. In 1966 there were 13 projects; now there are 23. Among the projects that have been added are outdoor sports handicrafts, photography, astrophysics, agriculture and speech arts. All members are now actively involved in public speaking and communication.

The projects are also more specialized than they used to be. In the past projects, for example, there used to be only one feeding; now there are berry sub-projects, canning sub-projects and so on. This specialization has come about as a result of the increased specialization in the agricultural industry itself.

Travel exchanges and camping are areas of the 4-H Program that have expanded considerably in recent years. The exchange programs include travel within the province, within Canada and to foreign countries.

Bill another area of expansion has been the creation of 4-H clubs. These clubs coordinate the activities of 4-H clubs on a regional, regional and provincial level.

Ted Yeuch director of the 4-H and Junior forest warden branch, sees the continuation in the present growth of the 4-H movement, which, incidentally was established in Alberta in 1937 - almost 40 years ago! He also envisages 4-H playing a vital and, perhaps, an even more active role in the communities from which it's members come.

Battle River Constituency

ROME BRONZE AND ROME BRASS

The first Canadian win at the XXIII Olympiad has earned the home in the Constituency of Battle River. I am sure all constituents will want to join together in expressing congratulations to Susan Sloan for her bronze medal victory in the 48-meter medley relay. What Susan is now realizing is the reward that accrues from dedication and effort. Major victories are never a matter of luck; but rather a product of struggle and sacrifice.

Moreover, and I am sure that Susan will be the first to agree, her victory reflects the effort of many citizens. Her parents, her coach, and her peers have all had an impact on her achievements. It is with genuine pride that all citizens of this Prairie Constituency extend a "Tip of the Hat" to the community of Battle River in general and to Susan Sloan particularly. A vivid participating spirit has harvested international recognition for a community that has justly earned its proper status. Congratulations!

In the arena of politics, a great deal has happened in recent weeks. The lanes of this past year have been generally laden with emotion. However, there has been unusual anguish experienced over the losses of recent weeks, namely, capital punishment, gun control, air traffic control and the Olympic crisis. These problems have all stood on the firing line of controversy. Amazing is one, however, is that while the above issues drew so much discussion, Bill C-56 simulated relatively little comment from constituents. This Bill which empowers the government to judge the merits of a bill, is a "Canadian" magazine by a value judgement on the editorial content, is a threat that challenges the very roots of democracy.

This Bill passed through the House of Commons only after closure was invoked; in effect making it impossible to speak on a Bill to implement citizenship in the press. The original purpose of the Bill was to destroy Time Magazine and Reader's Digest in Canada. Time Magazine is now dead but Reader's Digest was granted an instantaneous privilege to continue publication. So, while Time Magazine was willing to sell 75 per cent of its shares to Canadians and write 50 per cent Canadian material, the government of the land (not the citizens) chose to execute the magazine.

SASKATOON

The Saskatoon season is here.

Saskatoon life is often the favorite way to serve these berries. Saskatoons are usually a little fluff unless some acid is added. The acid is also needed to help get the fruit. Rubbing the fruit with lemon juice will give the needed acid to the berries. Betty Birch, D.J.E. at Stettin (line) 2 cups of Saskatoons and 1 cup of rhubarb a good combination. The rhubarb supplies some acid and a little juice, especially if the berries are a bit dry. Use about ¾ cup of sugar and 1 tablespoon of lemon juice for thickening.

Pies may be frozen before or after you bake them and thawed in the oven before serving. A little rhubarb or raspberries added to pie seem to keep the berries from being dry and hard after the pies have been frozen.

Saskatoons may be frozen without making them into pies. Pack the berries dry in bags or tubs. If you wish to add sugar, the berries should be slightly crushed. Allow 1 cup of sugar to 5 cups of fruit.

Cabinet ends Agency

Kevin Peterson

The Lougheed government will put an end to the Alberta Export Agency's troubles by abolishing the province's three-year-old international marketing arm Sept. 1.

Opposition leader Bob Clark, who led a prolonged challenge of the agency's record this spring, warned the administration is trying to sweep embarrassing poor performance under the rug.

But Minister Development Minister Bob Dewling claims the agency really represents an "extremely positive move."

successful experiment and clear the way for improvements in a job already launched by the agency.

Mr. Moore credits the agency with some million worth of sales for Alberta products abroad last year and 600 million in 1974.

Deputy Premier Hugh Brown established the agency on May 15, 1976. The idea was to select marketable products, build buyers and sellers and provide financial aid when exporters couldn't manage deals themselves.

Mr. Clark concluded during legislative public accounts committee scrutiny this spring that the agency may have lost up to $4 million in public funds due to faulty decisions.

His list of steps included extensive loan guarantees for ventures that eventually went sour plus a $1.5 million subsidy to buy producers in a sale to Japan that failed to meet optimistic expectations.

The agency's and also claims in the midst of an investigation by Provincial Auditor D.

W. Rogers, at the public accounts committee's request, of financial aid for a rancher exporting calves to Europe.

Mr. Clark calls the agency's demise "political." He believes organized international marketing began as a good idea but fell apart when Mr. Dewling inherited the agency in government reorganization last year.

New agency's work will be carried out four ways. Mr. Dewling and Mr. Moore say duplication of efforts will be avoided and the government's expert program will be stepped up.

The agriculture and business development departments will have their own agents. All agency employees will be offered new jobs. Industrial and farm sales are said to require separate procedures.

Some coordination will be handled by the intergovernmental affairs department. Financial aid for exporters will be handled by the Alberta Opportunity Company and the Agriculture Development Corporation.

HARDISTY

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Will-

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reed-

Hardisty and District News

J.C. Cavanaugh has returned from a trip to Yellowstone and he said that Northern Alberta was very wet. In the Manning area, I believe it was, they had had 10 inches of rain already in July. Roadwork equipment was sliding like and the crops were swimming. According to reports from many people, we so far are living in the lap of luxury.

Greeting came by way of Doris Charlton of Car who has attended a family reunion at Elmwood Lake, from Mrs. and Mrs. Floyd Jarvis. Now that Floyd's parents are no longer living we don't see him here anymore.

Mrs. Nellie Johnston and Annie Higley took one of those fun tours and enjoyed sight-seeing through B.C. and on to Portland. Since coming home Nellie has been around to visit her children as well.

The Car barbecue appeared to be a huge success judged by the line-up for supper, which was well served this time and much under the weather. People just taking what they wanted instead of it being put on their plate. Your reporter did not see many from Hardisty there, Anika Miller was visiting her Aunt and Uncle, the Delanges and Mrs. Scott.

Mrs. Ruth Goding of Owen Sound who has been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Leitch, has come to visit relatives and friends in Vancouver for awhile. She also has a daughter living in Red Deer.

White Perkins, John and Linda Parson have enjoyed the company of a young couple, Edna and Gus, who are from New South Wales, Australia. They are a world tour and have been across the States. They are now visiting again with Elsie, after spending a few days at Calgary.

Elsie, John and Linda are going to take them on a tour of parts of Alberta. Before their arrival Elsie's sister in law, Mrs. Harold Reason and two children were visiting for awhile from B.C.

Your reporter had coffee with Noreen Delange of Killam and of course Louie was there too enjoying acquaintances with all his old friends.

Also your reporter met a school friend of many years ago Mrs. Irene Lytton and her daughter. Although Irene has lived in Delaware for some years now she really misses me by saying that she looks forward to my news in the Community Press.

The Jockels home has been full of visitors lately, both ones, Bob and his wife from Hignepac Lake, and Henry and his wife of Brownfield were here for Sunday.

Then on Saturday, visitors were old school friends of Mrs. Jockels, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Doodie of Lac La Poudre. We expect that the Doodies visited with brother Walter Kahlbach as well.

Mrs. Findlay Reid of Edmonton has been visiting her sister Mrs. George Jockels.

Another visitor last Sunday was Ralph Stevenson of Wainwright.

Mrs. Mildred Redman who is still in Hardisty hospital was delighted to have two cousins from Tacoma Washington call on her on Sunday.

Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Hensland came up from Calgary with Mrs. Redman's daughter Betty Lou Morgan.

Mrs. and Mrs. Vernon Detour of Redwood, Missouri, cousin of Hugo Detour, stopped overnight in Hardisty and drove out to the farm. It was 1958 when he was last there. And for those of you who remember a way back when Hugo Detour lived where Paul Manure now lives.

I am the printing press

Born of the mother earth, my heart is of steel, my limbs are iron, and my fingers are of brass.

I sing the songs of the world, the oratories of history, the symphonies of all time.

I sing the voices of today, the herald of tomorrow. I weave into the warp of the past, the threads of the future.

I tell the stories of peace and war alike.

I make the human heart beat with passion or tenderness.

I stir the pulse of nations and make brave men do better deeds and soldiers die.

I am the laughter and tears of the world and I shall never die until all others return to immutable dust.

I am the printing press.

Hardisty news items

Recent visitors to the Camrose Harold Moody James were Mrs. Canlin's daughter, Mrs. Wren Clark and her husband, from Manassas, Virginia. With them were their daughter, and son-in-law Marilyn, Barry and baby from Brandon, Manitoba. They were as usual to Jasper but had to check in and see how mother was. That sounds like a four generation visit. Hope they took some pictures.

Bill and Frances Leake of Quessell B.C. stopped in to say "hello" to George and Betty Mills when on their way home from a trip to Eastern Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Canlin of Calgary stopped in to see Mrs. Canlin on their way home from Winnipeg.

Alfred Nelson has returned home after keeping Reg and Emma Johnson's daughter, Betty, in St. Albert. Calgary while her parents went to St. Albert.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Bradshaw motored out from New Westminster, B.C. staying for a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moody and Mrs. Canlin.

Mrs. Canlin had flown to B.C. to visit her sister. Faith for a couple of weeks and returned to Hardisty via car with the Bradshaws.

The Fred Drager family are rejoicing to have Shari and her husband home. They arrived in New Orleans from Salisbury Rhodevia via freighter and had a bus trip of 5 days from New Orleans to Edmonton so bet they were one tired crew.

Why is it that when the 6:30 train arrives at the station, the Pat Madeney wait hall-daying too. Met Patrick Madeney at St. Sylvan Lake and later took in some Klondike Days.

The Everett Goodrich have their daughter Lorraine Northern of London, England visiting for awhile.

We are glad to hear that Everett is home again after a brief stay in hospital.

Debbie Donnelly has been visiting in Edmonton and is soon joining her father in B.C.

It was nice to see Marj and Fred Alderice of Guss down to attend brother Donald's wedding dance, also Mr. and Mrs. Wad and Mr. and Mrs. Hoodman.

One to be from the farthest point we believe was Lorraine Northern from London, England.

Leonard and Mariel Karch, also their daughter Ann and her husband of Sedgewick as well as Ruth Raymond of Alliance attended too.

Marguerite Dwyer with grandchildren Gary, Darlene and Donna Dwyer visited with daughter Florence at Cecilia and daughter Marlene at Burnaby. Her grandson Danny Byrne from Cecilia has been at his grandparents home for the last month.

While Marguerite was in Vancouver she met with her old friend Mrs. Jack Everett, the former Kitty Wells. Also to visit with Kitty was her brother and his wife Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kitchen of Camrose. Kitty lives quite close to Dr. and Mrs. Perserve.

These ex-hardistays returning to their childhood haunts. Another one to look for about the middle of August is Bill Miller of Fredonia Kansas. Bill is eagerly looking forward to seeing some of his old friends, especially Hazel Broder and her sons. He has not been here for some years now and will notice a few changes.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Blaine of Calgary were paying old friends and stayed at the Paul Powell home in Hugheden.

There are no many illiterate people in Hardisty who cannot read.

The driver comes in, has to park on main street and often makes many trips back and forth with very heavy cargoes in the bus depot. The help that Raymond Hefle offers helps a lot, but it is mighty frustrating to the bus driver when he has a parking spot and can't use it until after he has got all his express into the bus.

Mrs. Ken Blackwell has returned from visiting her mother in Lower Sachwell N.S. as well as other relatives, among which were her two sisters.

Mr. Tom Wilkenson who was brought up north of Hardisty and now to California spent a couple of days visiting around old familiar places and made J.C. Cowan's home his stop.

He joined the airforce in 1912 and had an old airforce friend with him lives in Saskatoon.

Tom was back in 1915 and so had seen many changes.

He visited with Paul Mazures, the Vickersmans, Jim Whitehead and then on to Saskatchewan where his wife was. It's always nice to hear about these ex-hardistays returning to their childhood haunts.

KILLAM MAIN STREET IN THE TWENTIES AND IN THE SEVENTIES

* Killam Through the decades * A full three days activities planned 1906 — They assembled early — a small group of settlers from scattered homesteads — waiting with bewilderment for the first train. Isolation. Suddenly they could hear it — a train whistle echoing across the normally silent land. A few awesome moments later the locomotive steamed into sight, puffing towards them at the incredible speed of 15 miles per hour. The band began to play, Children cried. Horses bellowed. And a town was born.

August 1, 1906, Killam. The excitement that attended Killam's birth also ensured its rapid growth. Those first settlers and the flood of new people — businessmen, speculators and farmers who followed the train — enthusiastically envisioned a miniature city nestled where the tall prairie grass grew.

Among the many businesses and homes which were quickly constructed, perhaps none so symbolized the magnitude of their dreams as the Florence Hotel. The minutes, written in informal, often unbusinesslike English, record the small hassles the citizens encountered as they organized the structure of their community.

For example, one of the earliest concerns dealt with an adequate water supply. Officials thought they had solved the problem when they hired Charles Stewart, a local resident determined to become the Honourable Charles Stewart, Premier of Alberta, to dig a public well on Main Street. Then came the first disagreement. Where to dispose of the extra dirt. Five months after that was answered and the well dug, a committee had to be formed to have the well "put in proper shape." Within seven years, that well was deemed inadequate and unsanitary and a deeper one was commissioned further down the street.

There were other such tangles to be solved — adequate sanitation when residents insisted on leaving dead dogs lying on the street or allowing livestock to roam at will through town — town beautification when businessmen couldn't agree on the height of proposed buildings and some threatened court action unless their specifications were met. Yet, as years passed and the town grew, the enthusiasm of its citizens remained.

This summer the people of Killam are celebrating 70 years of progress towards their dream. The fun and excitement an estimated 10,000 people will have will undoubtedly add the noise made by one small band and a few settlers in 1906 but a few Killamites will be remembering the echoing train whistle that started all this.

For Homecoming Committee and those who will treasure this anniversary, I thank you all.

Marie Nilka

It's a party for ourselves.

It's our 70th birthday and we've invited 600 past residents as well as all our friends and neighbors.

We've Lieutenant-Governor Ralph Steinhilber and Mrs. Steinhilber coming Sunday to the 11 a.m. ecumenical service at Centennial Park to help us honour seven citizens who've been part of the community for 70 years.

Mary and Andrew Sorenson, Jim and Dave Anderson, Ian Binn, Jim Rasmussen and Mrs. Gibb are to be honoured. You'll find their stories inside. All were here by December 29, 1906 when Government or Alberta order in Council 710-66 made Killam an incorporated village.

This year we celebrate not only that event but 70 years of achievements, disappointments, and growth through both.

HOMECOMING PARADE

At 3:00 p.m. on Friday the Homecoming parade will lead off. Business places are going all out to enter floats with an historical theme. All the old school districts will be represented bringing back memories of years gone by. Our distinguished guests will ride in the stirring music of the Elk Point and Fernburg bands. The Pipers from Dayland will make your toes tap.

ENTERTAINMENT

Killam has many events to entertain her guests during Homecoming '76. One will be a Variety Show in the Elk's Hall on Friday and Saturday evenings. This show will feature amateur entertainers.

Over at the Killam Public School Gym a Beer Fest and home made food will be in progress on Friday and Saturday nights. You can give to the cause of the Mike Nilkaus or the Sparty Hoffman - Carl Mallett orchestra as you did years ago.

We have and forgotten the treats as they can drop in at the Agriplex Curling Rink and registration booth.

OF SPECIAL NOTE

Two booklets were printed in conjunction with Killam's Homecoming '76. One is a history of the Prairie Park School District and was compiled by some former students of that school.

The second is a full program of the events of the Homecoming '76 and will be available at the various places during the event and will be available at the registration booth.

YOUNGSTOWN—J. M. Bickle gambled that a town would be founded on his quarter section survey line passed through it. He built a stop-over house, part of which still stands as the mid-section of Herb Holstrom's house, and he established a post office and store, also still on the Holmstrom farm, 1½ miles north and a little west of the auction mart. The picture above shows the stop-over house as a farmhouse in the Thirties.

By 1916 Killam existed with most of the services it has today. The skeleton at least was there, the last 60 years have fleshed it out. The 52,000 two-story cement block school was opened in 1903. There was the Merchants Bank, Milt Dunham's barbershop, real estate offices, Maan Get's cafe, the Willow Hollow Co-op Association, credited with being Alberta's first co-op, was buying and distributing materials to members although the store wasn't opened until March 16, 1921.

Records show a newspaper was edited by one A.L. Eastly, three elevators were operating, council chambers and a fire hall were built, churches were founded, lodges started, the fairground set out, and curling, skating, football and hockey were played. The first cars had arrived and livery stables made some provision for their care and upkeep... and there were telephones in town. Some of the big homes, the mansions, were and yet built like the F.R. Nichol, W. E. Larson homes. Other towns were doing well too. Strathmore, Edgewood and at Viking gas had been discovered, and reported to Edmonton by a geologist making an 86-mile trip Nov. 4, 1914.

1916 was by no means a primitive time in this part of Alberta. And the country was at war. The Battle of Ypres was fought.

And prohibition was the law here after the vote July 21, 1916. Times were changing. Why, in 1914 village council had even outlawed boxing and wrestling here.

New people were still arriving. Ivan Piersons arrived from Sweden and Eli Morgans arrived in from, and local resident Charles Stewart was MLA and a cabinet minister. In 1917 he was to become the premier of Alberta, serving until 1921 when the UFA government was elected. But in 1922 he became MP for West Edmonton and then Minister of the Interior and Administrator of Indian Affairs for Mackenzie King.

Killam was no longer a frontier town. The pioneering was over.

WATER SHOW

The swimming pool staff at the Killam Agriplex are presenting an informative but humorous water show on each of the three evenings. Various stunts for swimming will be featured as well as diving.

In 1948 Killam 147 telephones according to the Post-Dispatch in the first year it was published.

One decade later, 1958 there were 238.

This year's total of 516 reflects recent housing developments.

Hometowners for 70 years

JIM & DAVE ANDERSON

They headed east in April 1901 into Indian country. James Anderson, his wife, 10 year old Dave, three and one half year old Jim, and 18 year old Aunt Niede.

Young Dave and Jim, now both schoolers of the district, remember little of their arrival here. Presumably one day they just stopped and their companion William Gibb said, "This is it" and it was. Prairie, like the 70 miles of prairie they had just crossed, nearly level from the fires a recent year, grass grown tall with the dimming herds of buffalo, and sloughs blue in every direction.

Edmonton had been mere to remember. The end of the line for both the Andersons and CPR had been Strathmore. No high level bridge, and as Dave remembers, just two hotels, both across the low level bridge and reached by shoe-burning the family into a 2-seater democrat. He says it was at the houses they met William Gibb who persuaded them to head east and wait with him for the surveyors to arrive so they could file a homestead.

Gwynne Hill was the highlight of the trip out from Winnipeg.

"It was too steep for mother and Aunt Maggie as we walked down while dad put a rough lock on the wagon," Dave says there was a bridge at the bottom and "there at the bridge was a short horn bull, we don't know where he'd come from, but we were scared to death."

Presumably someone had the password for they were allowed to cross and the only other adventures were spring mud and fords across sloughs. The women complained of the spear grass and the woolen stockings they had to wear to protect their legs.

Spring Lake, south of where Dayland grew, was the nearest post office and store. The Andersons lived in a tent us-all they built a 14 x 16 foot frame shack with the lumber they'd hauled. The tent was to be tent in the Gibb family when William went for them. The Andersons had to go south of 50-gowach for popular logs to add a kitchen lean-to. Drinking water came from a pit dug at the edge of a slough. Water filtered in and was usable. Baths were taken in the sloughs.

Jim Anderson's early memories are of starting school at Willow Hollow in 1907 and attending a Bachelor school... and shopping at Archie Farley's store.

Breaking with a walking plow, or a foot burner as Jim terms it, was a job that made a fellow walk like an old man. The foot just naturally lifted higher than the other one 1926 Rural mail routes had started in 1922, rubber-tired tractors were common. Killam had two movie houses and the roaring twenties no doubt treated local swains to a few flappers and some shapely knees. The town minutes books are missing and newspapers from that era are very rare locally because as always, the householder had uncensored news for last week's paper, and Easty's fire destroyed this period's copies of the Killam News and the Killam Standard.

Yes, "The Killam Standard" published by W.F. Johnston, Standard Building, Killam. One copy of it, May 16, 1929 is at hand. Empire Theatre is advertising Richard Dix in "Shanghai Bound", a five-piece orchestra at every show and a free glass on the bar at the end. The Adeline Theatre has Miss Gibson in "The Rawhide Kid" and next is William Boyd and Mary Astor in "Two Arabian Knights."

F.E. Nichol is installing 3 additional phones in his store. C.S. Pelgote advertises he'll do spring plumbing, guaranteeing 30 acres per day. Earl Lake will give you a shave, shampoo, hair cut or massage, and W.H. Shilliday has men's, garters for 50c and men's combinations, $1.25. Gelder's Bread "makes good toast" another ad says and F.W. Bennett and W. Irving offer Massey-Harris implements and blacksmithing.

In 1928 the churches were St. Joseph's, Rev. Fr. McCarthy, United, Rev. Wood, St. George's Anglican, Rev. Berge, Continuing Presbyterian (the one who didn't embrace the union which created the United Church), Rev. Wm. Simons, Prairie Park Baptist, Carl Levin, and Protestant Mission, Pastor A. Scratch.

Wheat No. 1 Northern sold for $1.45 Wednesday, May 10, 1928. Hogs alive, 50. Eggs, 15c. Local news was "Hugh Vagi has commenced erection of a new butcher shop. Wm. Irvine is now located in his new blacksmith shop on the street west of Main. The I.O.O.F. is having the clay removed from around the memorial to the returned boys and replacing it with rich earth that flowers may be planted and made to bloom."

Later, in 1928, electricity came to Killam households, another major change.

A few items from 1926 exist from clippings. "The Elks band obtained new caps and tunics. A.E. Fee and J.R. Large offered a $10 reward for information leading to the arrest of persons destroying property on their premises. The Killam Hockey club was treated to an oyster supper at the hotel by Mr. Albert Erickson, donor of the Erickson Challenge Hockey Cup. Will Rancier heard from Toronto where he'd taken several cars of horses and cattle that some teams of horses brought a high of $250. The Hon. Charles Stewart came back in a special car for duck hunting and Cliff Felgate and Jack Radick were digging a well back of the skating rink.

KILLAM'S NATIVE SON DOES WELL WITH MUSIC

You've heard of Bob Ruticka, Edmonton's singing dentist, a performer-composer in the tradition of Gordon Lightfoot and Bully St. Marie. Did you know the Rutickas and music are part of Killam's history?

The first band to play in Killam was a brass band formed by the nine Ruticka brothers who'd come with their parents in 1901 to homestead at Prague, 15 miles north of Killam. They had come to play at picnics here and as far away as Wetaskiwin. Bill Ruticka formed a brass band after he came to live in Killam, which must have been in early days for his wife Frances said she could hear neighbors but not see neighbors as there was ample brush in town.

For many years the band culminated fairs, ball games, and races and when Bill retired Jack Barrigan assumed leadership.

Bill loved music and the children, Laurence, Bob and Georgina shared this interest. The talent has been passed along as a grandson, Dr. Bob Ruticka, is now a known T.V. and recording artist.

Hometowners for 70 years

The magic of a miniature display, trail, hills, and Red River Court in a Calgary store window stayed in the five-year old miss' memory. So too did an upstairs room in a lodging house in Daysland.

"Mom had sent me up to get a diaper for the baby out of the suitcase and I couldn't open it. 'Oh you can if you try, you've opened it lots of times,' she called up. But I just couldn't," says Ina Busse now one of Killam's 70-year residents.

When the case was opened it held a Chinese clock and Bible, a mix-up with one of the other early settlers at Daysland March 26, 1906.

Ina Fox Busse and her family bought the J.A. Neely homestead and his two-story house near where under Frank and John Fox had homesteaded at Youngstown. She can't recall anything of Killam but the Youngstown store she remembers probably because her mother sold butter there regularly. She says that the store is now part of the I.E. Halmstrom farm house, 15 1/2 miles north and a bit west of Killam's west corner on Highway 13.

INA BUSSE

Youngstown was a gamble by J.M. Bickle that the CPR survey across his quarter would bring the railway and then a town. He established a stopping house, a store, and a post office.

"But the line came out of Wetaskiwin not Edmonton," says Ed Busse, Ina's husband.

— PARLOR SHOWS — When the D.V. Yorks moved into town, their house, the first frame house in Killam which still stands at the corner of St. Ave. and 54 St., was still unfinished.

The upstairs floor was replete with knut holes. There were no movies in town but Eva and Madge York the children of the household, found romance could be enjoyed via the knut holes while a certain McCormick-leering implement dealer counted the school's first certified teacher, later his wife, in the York living room.

— as told by Mrs. York.

KILLAM HIGH SCHOOL. — Built in 1906 for $5,000 and added to in 1911-12, with the brick addition at the rear as shown in this picture, this structure housed local school classes, including high school until 1941. In 1955 the present public school for grades 1 through 9 was built.

Item from the Montreal Archives of the Bank of Montreal:

"From 1906 to 1909 the former Merchants Bank of Canada which amalgamated with Bank of Montreal, 1912, operated in Killam under the supervision of J.L. Clark as a sub-agency to the Sedgewick Branch, opening at first one day a week then twice a week in part of F.E. Nichol's store. The railway was completed in 1906 and it was at this time the village was incorporated consisting of three or four small stores, one operated by F.E. Nichol. The population at that time was about 200. In October 1909 the bank opened

This was the year for neighboring Sedgewick when Billy Rose won the MacDonald Bri-

Preceding 1910 there were no Catholic services in Killam. Then Father Teck drove from Dauphin to say mass. Later, in the Bill Rusick and Rudolph Simon homes. Father Teck was replaced by Father Moulder. The house began to overflow with the congregation so a church became a necessity.

Money was a scarce article in those days. Building a church became a possibility when the lumber yard owner, J.A. Dohy, donated sufficient land for a church and rectory, and 20000. He also proffered further lumber required for building at a discount. His one request was that the church be named St. Joseph's in memory of his little daughter, Josephine, recently deceased. The congregation were happy to comply and prepared a plaque commemorating his generosity to be attached to the outside of the church. The church was completed and the first mass said in it September 3, 1910.

Father Moulder now came every other Sunday. He never failed to appear, though many a time he and his trusty horse Fritz had to brave severe winter storms. The Stadians offered him their hospitality and the return trip would be made Monday morning.

The first altar was a rough wooden table covered with a clean cotton sheet. Pew plaques placed on nail legs. There were followed by home made structures. To inspire others to do likewise, Mr. Stadier purchased a lovely pew and placed it at the front of the church. Since they did not follow his example, other parishioners were reluctant to make use of the fine new. Consequently, the Stadians always were guaranteed a place at the church regardless of the time of their arrival. Hymns were accompanied by Bill Rusick on his cornet.

A large granite-covered coffee pot and tin mugs were acquired. Mrs. Bill Rusick would prepare the pot full of coffee and place it on the pot bellied stove at the back of the church before mass, to keep the coffee hot. During mass, the aroma of coffee was a promise for rural parishioners of a hot drink before proceeding home.

A country residence was bought and moved next to the church to serve as a rectory. A few alterations were made to make it more habitable. Father Cadena was assigned as resident pastor. His widow, Ed sister-in-law came from France to be his housekeeper. She spoke no English. The parishioners' French consisted of "Oui, oui." However, with much head wagging and gestures, they set up a line of communication.

Father Cadena was replaced by Father Sullivan. The ladies formed an Altar Society with Mrs. Joe Chevrain as President, Mrs. Emory Callahan as Secretary, and Mrs. Bill Rusick as Treasurer. They organized chicken suppers, gave an update hall, where even the stove had to be carried. There was running water, the "you run and get it" type. Teas and bazaars were popular efforts also. The Altar Society was dissolved and replaced by the C.W.E., and the ladies carried on.

In 1928, Father Quirk took Father Sullivan's place. On Good Friday of that year, fire demolished the little church. The only remembrance recovered from the ashes were the Dohy plaque and a little altar that was always attached to the tabernacle key.

The other churches in Killam generously offered their churches for services until a new church could be rebuilt. John St. John also proffered the use of the Empire Theatre for mass.

Through Father Quirk's efforts work on a new church commenced very soon. When Father Quirk was transferred Father M. Murphy took his place for a few months. He was followed by Father M. McCarthy who served from 1925 to 1941.

This first church had a bell. The first organ was a foot pedalled instrument. It was succeeded by an organ which was activated by hand propelled bellows. Volume now became dependent upon the energy expended by the bellows operator. A return to a foot pedalled organ was followed by the acquisition of an electric organ.

During Father McCarthy's time, the second church became too small to accommodate the congregation. The present church was erected and dedicated exactly forty years after the second one had been.

Father Anthony Dittich served after Father McCarthy retired. Father Archie MacKenzie is the present pastor.

Homan Caldwell's horse was famous for his speed. Homan was delighted to provide weekend transportation to a young lady teacher from Ontario living at Prague, 12 miles north of Killam. Perhaps it was because of the horse and its savoir-faire that she later became his wife.

It was observed that Homan had the fastest horse in the country going to Prague and the slowest one anywhere on the return trip.

Nash Cup Hometowners for 70 years

C.A. Nash, Killam's long time Post master was a veteran of War I. He was very interested in the development of the young people. To stimulate their advancement he donated a trophy, the Nash Cup, to the school. It was to be awarded to the student who showed the best academic achievement and leadership. Those who received it were: Wm. D. Kall, 1931; Madeline Whyburn, 1933; Lloyd Schuchman, 1935; and Frances Justik in 1939. Christian Patton, 1940; Rita Slavik and Norah White, 1941; and Rita Slavik, 1942.

Rita and Norah were Muri and Jeff builders. Norah was very tall and Rita very shy. Their relationship was made even more precious when they were co-recipients of the Nash Cup. However, their teacher, Mrs. Dewar, had to endure criticism that she had not made a single selection. Norah's School Superintendent father was moved to Vegreville for the 1942 term. This year both Norah and Rita were recipients of the Gov. General medals in their separate areas. Then Mrs. Dewar felt happy justified.

The old school ceased to be used and the Nash Cup was found, by some children, in the ash pile. They took it to Mrs. Dutton. It was rather battered but she considered it a cherished souvenir and delivered it to the family of the last recipient where it has been since.

Many other Killam students were recipients of Government awards for achievement. Among them are: Evelyn Simon, Bertram Edwards, Lloyd Schelle, Gordon Rancier, Irene Cotton, Rosemary Manning, Joan Wilson, and Betty Kueber.

Andrew and his brother Alec who had come with him, built a small frame shack on Andrew's homestead and lived there for the next 2 years until Andrew built a new home and asked Mary to become his wife.

They were married Christmas Day, 1918 and began a life together which was to produce 7 children - Chester who died at the age of 19 months, Esther, Hartley, Amy Ray, Ralph and Ruth. Last Christmas the Sorensens celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary surrounded by members of their family who now total 25 including 13 grandchildren and 6 great grandchildren.

The years in between have been busy ones for Mary and Andrew. In the early days, Andrew took short term jobs working for the railroad com-

SIR. & MRS. ANDREW SORENSON

Mary and Andrew Sorensen are the only couple in the Killam District who have both lived and worked on a farm here for the entire 70 years of Killam's history.

Mary came first, arriving from Westhook, Minnesota in September of 1906 with her family, the J.W. Johnsons. She was followed in December by young Andrew Sorensen, a childhood friend from Westhook who had come to join his brother Nels and his relatives, the Ericksons, and seek his own homestead.

Both were here to experience the terrible winter of 1907 when the temperature plunged so low and stayed there and the snow piled three feet high on the roads. In fact, Andrew arrived in the middle of it and his train could only inch toward Killam, hampered by constant freezing and the need to thaw out every few miles.

Andrew and his brother Alec who had come with him, built a small frame shack on Andrew's homestead and lived there for the next 2 years until Andrew built a new home and asked Mary to become his wife.

They were married Christmas Day, 1918 and began a life together which was to produce 7 children - Chester who died at the age of 19 months, Esther, Hartley, Amy Ray, Ralph and Ruth. * Through the decades *

1956 This was Killam's Jubilee: the great pipe-line debate occupied Ottawa; young males were repulsed in charcoal grey and pink; beach cuts referred to hair, not trees; 288,558 Alberta children were receiving polio vaccines; french fries and soft ice cream had found their way to Killam, and Alberta was getting his first producer marketing board (for eggs). There was a grain surplus.

Our Lady of Fatima School added two rooms to the four built in 1954, and the hospital was involved in the nursing aid training program in Alta. The Princess Theatre was now the movie hall while the old Empire was a community hall with Saturday night dances every week to help with costs but a carnival was held to reduce the outstanding loan of $1000.

The square dancing club was swinging; the Merna oil field had 21 producing wells, 2 gas wells; the black top reached Lougheed, the William Halls and Olav Pedersons celebrated golden wedding anniversaries and Grandma Anna Sorenson celebrated her 100th year.

Village Council headed by Gordon Fee proposed a farmer school house be converted to a town hall, fire hall, library to a town hall, fire hall, library complex at cost of $5000. A large choir, undermaled would provide water for fire trucks (still at 20 Ave., St. St.). Schools occupied much of the community's energies with Home and School Association active and teachers were complaining at equipment shortages, overcrowded classrooms, and the size of schools. The post war babies were in the classrooms and the U. of A. offered one-year and two-year teaching certificates. The amount the government had offered for land just out of Calgary for a jail, $145 an acre, was a matter of content.

Jim Rancier handed over the old ledger.

It's 70 years old, The Killam Minutes of the Youngtown School District 1906; and the first meeting recorded in September 18, 1906. W.H. Shilliday, W. Rancier, and J. G. Fox present. The business is starting a school. Later minutes record a series of payments that indicate mission accomplished although the early Minutes didn't bother to note opening dates. H.P. Fox was paid $50, for land, was awarded the contract, and in August 1907 received $50, for building a foundation and $50 for extra work. A Mr. Harrison was paid to teach May and June 1907.

Jim probably was there in the first school class for he's one of the 70-year residents, his family arriving in 1905. Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Rancier, James, age 5, Talmage, and George, with a wagonload of supplies and lumber brought from Wetaskiwin to a homestead held in their name since 1903 by Mrs. Rancier's parents the Asaleys.

"Of course Alberta wasn't a province then... no survey at first... no fences... our cattle ran free and roamed as far north as Irma and Paradise Valley.

"Most of my young life was spent in the saddle, dad had over 100 head of horses and lots of cattle," Jim says. He has dozens of stories that say for him "those were the days my friend," but it's obvious too that it gives him great pleasure to say "and my son Norman still lives on the old place."

nial project was to write a Killam history and incorporate it into the school yearbook. The result was "The Ten Dollar Bet".

John Fox, Killam homesteader in 1901, and real estate man, was the victim in Killam's first fatal auto accident. He died March 21st, 1915, aged 41 years.

KILLAM BRANCH OF THE ROYAL CANADIAN NO. 65

Welcomes all to Killam's

70th Anniversary

ON THIS, THE LEGION'S GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY YEAR.

Killam's first hockey team

An open air rink was established in the earliest days and Killam began to play a hockey team. Records were of two varieties, those who had played a little, and those who had never seen a game. Nevertheless they practiced vigorously and always kept a wary eye out for new recruits.

Father Sullivan, Killam's first resident Catholic priest was a most unassuming person. The chap he talked least of was himself. However, a visiting brother priest told that Father had been asked to be a professional hockey player before he'd decided he'd become a priest. He was called into joining the hockey team.

At last an opposing team was discovered. The game would be played in Killam. Uniforms were your own production, varied and picturesque. Father appeared in well worn hockey pants, a beat up old sweat shirt and hockey socks that did not match. He did not appear too impressive as he skated to his position as center. The puck was dropped. He nailed it and scored. Naturally it was considered a fluke, though Killam fans roared approval. The puck was dropped again and the performance repeated. Then the opposing team decided he was well worth watching so they assigned several players to stop him. That left Killam players unguarded as Father passed the puck to them and they scored.

Killam won handily. There was great rejoicing and a wonderful sport was established here.

This story was told by Lawrence Ruzicka. He now has Ruzicka translated to Rome.

KILLAM HOSPITAL 1946 - A new wing with more beds, new operating room, and staff quarters, was added to the structure on the right in 1946. The Sisters of St. Joseph had started their hospital in the F. E. Nichol house in 1939. With the move to a modern hospital on the old fairgrounds site in 1961, the addition on the left was demolished by the purchaser, D.H. Larsen, and the Nichol house became a residence for the Jack Crouter family.

Ed Basse laughed at the spindly willow fence poles when he came to this district in 1918. In Idaho where he'd been, poplar and tamarac were in use. "I look the little thing and thought I'd break it off ... and bend it to the ground - then I thought I'd twist it off." But willow doesn't twist in two. "What a novelty," and Ed still laughs at the memory.

Already it's been a remarkable year. Esten's catalogue printed its last issue, the Princess Theatre was gutted by fire and renovated. Father Merlin McCarthy was feted by the community on the 50th anniversary of his ordination, and Rick Fre, grandson of the late A. E. Fre, a pioneer, was ordained a Presbyterian minister in St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

And Killam has been building up to Homecoming '76. In preparation "The Ten Dollar Beta" have been repainted and there's centre-street lighting, two new main street parks and downtown planters, thanks to a local committee and money provided by Town Council and the Devonian Group of Charitable Foundations which sponsors the Mainstreet Alberta project.

The first planning meeting for Homecoming was May 8, 1975 with 11 people. Over the months some 50 other names are mentioned in the minutes as workers on one committee or another. This week should be the high point of the year. (As this is written Sunday, Aug. 1, homeowners are already arriving although events don't start until Friday, a good omen.)

Some of Killam's favorite government members have been invited to attend Homecoming and ride in the Friday 1 p.m. parade.

Arnold Malone, MP for Battle River; Henry Krueger, M.L.A. for Sedgewick-Cornwall and Mrs. Krueger; former resident Don Mazankowski, MP for Vegreville; and Mrs. Mazankowski; Hon. Harold A. Schmidt, Minister of Government Services and Culture; and Hon. Robert Dowling, Minister of

Laurent Basterash, Manager Ph. 385-3622

War bride of 1918

One day bachelor Despard Anderson arrived at the Killam Co-op to buy new overalls. Basking clothes was an occasion so manager William Halsall jokingly inquired what the event was.

"I'm being married today," was the answer.

Still thinking it was a lark, Mr. Halsall inquired where the special lady was.

"I guess she's in the hotel because she was to come last night on the train," was the answer.

New convinced that his friend was serious, Mr. Halsall grasped him by the elbow and propelled him to his home. He brake the news to Mrs. Halsall. Her first concern was for the lady alone in the hotel in a strange land.

She walked quickly to get her, still doubting a bit the truth of the story. The young lady was there.

She had come from a home in Ireland where a servant brought her breakfast in bed every morning. She'd met her fiancé while he was a soldier and fallen in love.

The trip had been long and tiring. When she stepped off the train in Killam she'd seemed to be surrounded by a dark void for it was 2 a.m. and very cloudy. She noticed a light eventually, headed for it and discovered that she was at a hotel lobby.

A bell on the desk brought a maid.

"May I have a room and hawthorn?" she inquired in her English accent. There was no response but the maid marched up her luggage and headed up the stairs. She followed. Her three open a door and said, "This is a bed. If you want a hawthorn take it in that," and he indicated the bowl and jug on the stand.

The Halsalls took charge. The tall-man Halsall unit had its legs and sleeves shortened and Mrs. Halsall tried, not too successfully, to limit the width of the shoulders.

The Anglican minister was contacted and he agreed to perform the marriage. While being taller, Mrs. Halsall was trying to prepare a hasty wedding luncheon, best water for a bath for the bride, dress to make a presentable witness, and try to entertain her guest. It was a hectic but happy wedding.

Despard donated his new overalls for the wedding trip to the farm north of town.

At home he went about his chores expecting his inexperienced bride to prepare supper. She said all she knew how to do was cry. It was a week later and she couldn't engineer it. The house needed cleaning and she didn't know how.

Her first days were difficult coping with housekeeping she knew nothing about. Then Mrs. Swoboda came to call, provided friendliness and taught skills to the Irish lady with her licentiate from the London Conservatory of Music and a degree from the Paris Music Conservatory.

She missed her music deeply. Twice her parents sent her money to purchase a piano. Twice the harvest ate up the funds.

When the Andersons retired to Killam she became friends with a woman who had a piano and at last the hunger was stilled a little. The Anglican minister had a portable organ. It only had five octaves but he left it with Mrs. Anderson to play through the week and collected it each Sunday for his minister.

Despard liked his cigar before bedtime. Smoke disturbed her so he'd close the door, have his smoke and retire in the bedroom off that room. She went out one night after he'd gone for his smoke. She became confused and lost her way. It was winter and she had only slippers and dressing gown. Next morning she was found in a ditch very ill. She did not recover.

After her death in 1948 Despard lived many years. Learned to skate and skated beautifully at 80, and died at 90 years.

CHURCH SERVICE
All the churches will join together at the Centennial Park on Sunday morning at 11:00 a.m. for an interdenominational Church Service. Helen Kliner and Jean White will preside at the organ and piano and the Community Chorus, under the able direction of Dr. Rudi Regehr will lead the singing of the hymns and present two special numbers. Our own much loved and respected Sister Mary Lourdes will be the first speaker.

Immediately after the service His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Ralph Stichbauer will honor the 70 year residents. Later he wants to meet with young and old as he circulates among the crowd. It will truly be a memorable occasion.

HOW YOU GET FED
One way is to go to church. The six churches are co-sponsoring with one another to provide food for all hungry people. There will be meals beginning Friday, August 7th at noon at the Baptist, Catholic and United Churches. They are all serving the same thing for the same price.

Supper will begin at 6 p.m. and breakfast will be served, Sat. Sun. and Monday mornings from 8:00 to 10:00 a.m. They will also serve you a cup of coffee any time of the day Saturday.

The Agriplex lunch counter will be open as well as the restaurants in town.

On Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p.m. there will be a Beef Barbecue served at the Centennial Park. Tickets are available from the Committee.

SALE OF HANDICRAFTS
The Killam Craft Club people have been busy making all sorts of interesting items for you to see and buy. They will have ceramics, pottery, leatherwork, quilts, crocheting, knitting and Barbie Doll clothes, as well as beautiful cakes for sale.

OVER 1000 ATTEND CHURCH SERVICE AT KILLAM'S HOMECOMING

Local support 90%

by Doris Milke
"You can't go back" ... says the old adage. "It's never the same."
And Killamites returning to Homecoming '76 found that true.
"I thought the town had grown smaller ... until I took a walk this morning," said one lady.
"It's better," was a common comment.

registrar ... they were busy.
An estimated 2,300 watched 75 entries parade by as Homecoming opened Friday afternoon. Teas sponsored by the Senior Citizens' Club and Killam Hospital were filled to capacity as were dances both Friday and Saturday nights. Committee members are still compiling reports so many local aren't available.

Noted During Homecoming
Ann Spiller, Donnell Forster, and Karen Conroy admired Lieutenant-governor Ralph Stichbauer's limousine and the next thing they knew His Honor had invited the three to take a tour with his chauffeur at the wheel while Mr. and Mrs. Stichbauer toured the strip.

TWO-TRUCK ACCIDENT CLAIMS LIFE — This semitruck truck owned by Drever's Transport. Hardly was in collision with a wedding truck on Saturday, August 7th, Paul Vernon Berton, 38, of Drayton Valley, driver of the smaller truck, was killed on impact.
It took several hours to upright the semi, which was wreathed. The wedding truck (travelling east, apparently came across the center line, hitting the tanker. The point of impact was the rear duals of the tanker, sending the wedding truck into the opposite ditch, and resulting in the death of Mr. Berton. The driver of the tanker and his young passenger, Dale Drager of Hardisty, received minor cuts but were not hospitalized.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A short time ago there were two nurses that graduated from the university. One nurse went to try and get a job and the first thing they asked was disinformation she was and was asked if she was a R.C. and Olga Wynn's name was on the list. She was told there was no name available there. The next day she took in her friend and was asked the same questions. She was a R.C. and, yes they could see her telling her they could see a nurse right away.

She was given a complete tour of the hospital. She is now there.

Summer! For many people, it's the season to can and freeze the many fresh fruits and vegetables available. The use of a pressure canner is strongly recommended when low acid foods such as vegetables (except tomatoes) and meats are to be canned. Why? The canner is specially designed to heat foods to a higher temperature than can be reached in a boiling water bath, even or steamer. This high temperature kills harmful bacteria which may not be killed at boiling temperatures in non-acid foods. Bacteria such as bacillus botulinus, which cause botulism poisoning. This is type of food poisoning is 60 percent fatal. The toxin produced by these bacteria cannot be detected by appearance or taste.

WHEN USING A PRESSURE CANNER:

1. Keep the pressure canner clean, particularly the opening to the petcock, safety valve, and pressure gauge. A toothpick or sharpened match may be used. Make sure the gasket is clean and fits perfectly. Replace if necessary. Never immerse the pressure gauge in water.
2. Use sufficient water to provide steam during the entire processing time. If the canner is being filled to capacity a depth of about 2 inches of water (before water is added) is required. If, however, the canner is not filled to capacity, 2 cups extra water should be added for each sealer missing. This additional water helps to prevent liquid being drawn from the sealers.
3. Place filled containers on rack in canner at least 1 inch apart. Tin cans may be stacked. If they are arranged so that there is good circulation of steam around, over and under them.
4. Adjust lid of canner and fasten securely.
5. Open petcock and keep open until steam escapes with a distinctly audible sound. This takes 5 to 10 minutes.
6. Close petcock and allow pressure to rise slowly until the gauge indicates the required pressure. Start to count processing time at this point. Regulate heat to keep pressure constant. Liquid will be drawn out of sealers if pressure fluctuates.
7. Process fruit or vegetables the required time.

8. At end of processing time remove canner from heat and place on board or heavy rack. Allow pressure to drop gradually to zero of its own accord. Sudden cooling will cause loss of liquid from sealers and may crack canner.

9. After gauge has reached zero, allow canner to stand 1 to 2 minutes. Then slowly open petcock. Let canner cool for 2 or 3 minutes before removing lid.

10. Remove lid in such a way that the steam will be directed away from the face. Immediately cover open canner with a dish towel and let stand 1 or 2 minutes.

11. Remove towel and leave sealers in canner until bubbling in sealers ceases. Then remove from canner.

12. With lid closed, the petcock may be opened as soon as the gauge registers zero. Remove cans immediately and cool.

This information was taken from a booklet "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables" which is free from your district office. Also available is the booklet "Preserve by Freezing".

Alberta cabinet dislikes court ruling

Even though the Supreme Court of Canada has upheld the federal Anti-Inflation Act, Alberta leaders read the ruling as a warning to Ottawa against freely raising provincial affairs.

The case against unilateral peace-time federal controls on private wages and price lost.

the program-but it still stands. However, there are 2 ways to read rulings. The obvious outcome is for or against a case counts most in the short run. But the reasoning behind a decision is far more significant years down the road in other cases.

To Garden — With Love

by Shirley E. Foster

How do you feel about gardening? At first I hated it. The push and pull of the rake and the hoe. The seeds that didn't always grow. And the bugs that flew about and made me uncomfortable didn't help either.

It always seemed as if I was planning for more than just my little family. Occasionally Doug would help me plant and often he went overboard in his enthusiasm. I'm sure he never realized just how much we would reap from it all.

I remember one year when my mom was visiting from the city and she commented on what appeared to be a thick hedge down one side of the yard. I asked her, "What bed get?" She said, "The hedge over to the left side of the house with the little white flowers in it." "Hick, Mom," I replied "that's a hedge that's our pea patch." She laughed and then asked why we had so many. I told her we both really liked peas and thought they were worth the effort.

Carrots. I tried to freeze, but didn't like them doing that way. I decided that seeing as how I could get them all year round that I'd save as many as I could in a box and buy them when I ran out. This wasn't necessarily an economic solution but it was the best under the circumstances.

This year I thought I'd try my luck at raising tomatoes indoors. Well you should have seen them! The immature, spindly stems you ever did see. I felt I was raising by rather than tomato plants. I took them over to a friend who had a greenhouse. They successfully survived and their son and family. They sent roses, back to all in Lougheed. We had a very enjoyable visit with them.

Hardisty and District News

On July 24th Bernice Tillman, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Tillman and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Koblitz attended the wedding of their cousin and Bernice's niece, Ruth Matthews to Mr. Earl Allen.

Ruth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Matthews and the reception was held in a hall in St. Albert.

Mrs. Florence McCarty of Calgary spent a day or two visiting her sister Isabel Nelson, also here since Mrs. Mary Brown of Camrose.

It's nice to see Mrs. Mildred Fraser back in town and her two grandchildren are with her for awhile. It's pretty rough when young children leave their mother as these are Jean's family.

Melroy Sampson of Moose Jaw arrived at the Perry's house and his sister and her husband to visit in this area.

The Irma Fair was quite successful and the number of prizes won by Daria Powell were five firsts.

Beverly Bell won a number of prizes on Friday and reported it as being really beautiful. This is what happens when people all work together.

Congratulations to Mr. Hestell Strate on his 80th birthday. A number of relatives from Hardisty attended a surprise dinner arranged for by his daughters, to honor him and we all wish him many very happy birthdays.

Don and Mrs. Dwyer had a nice surprise the other day when Laurie Kleier of Ponoka visited and they were met by herself leaving her parents Dick and Beryl Kleier behind.

Arthur Anderson son of Chas. A.C. and his sister Elma Nordfors of Red Deer called on Isabel Nelson Saturday. Arthur has only been back once since he left here.

Seen lately in the Camrose area was Dick Gillespie who wished to be remembered to all their old friends down this way.

Freda Blackwell and Isabel Nelson attended the lovely dinner at the Killam United Church for their home coming.

Was happy to see our former bus driver Jack McLeod and his wife there. It really appeared to be a great get together for old friends meeting after many years.

J.C. Cavanaugh attended the parade on Friday and reported it as being really beautiful. This is what happens when people all work together.

There were many old time pictures which would be of great interest to the Old-Timers, also museum pieces, cer-amies, old painting display. It was certainly a well organized affair. As Mr. Fossen said "About the only time people get together like this is for a funeral and it shouldn't always be that way." So congratulations to Killam for a very happy event.

One Dowdle girl has returned from her trip to the west and is home. It's rather difficult to see her, instead of large wheat fields there were corn fields and one interesting thing at a cafe was the price of Texas. Made with flour they were with corn meal.

Pearl Reeve has returned from her little holiday with friends at Fort Saskatchewan. Don McKenzie of Moose Jaw with four children, among them Shobley and Deana were visiting friends around Hardisty for a few days.

Congratulations to June Rose who won the Ella jacket of $125.00 and we understand that she is going on a holiday with Lola and family so it comes at a good time.

Those of you who knew Al Bakland of Amiah will be sorry to learn of his passing away in an Edmonton hospital. Deana and Irving Bell attended a reunion of the Harvey family at Devon recently, living surely enjoyed seeing so many of his old schoolmates again as the Harvey family used to live where Robert Bell lives now. Pearl and Ross Hinkley also attended.

The sixth grade, His Christian education was received at Trinity Lutheran Church.

He leaves to mourn his passing his beloved parents, John and Edna Grove and three brothers, Leslie, Randy and Brian. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Crile of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Grove of Lougheed, Alberta and uncles Mr. and Mrs. Rob Affens of Sherwood Park, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cook of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Grove of Fairview, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Grove and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kinghorn of Lougheed, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Grove of Sedgewick and scores of cousins, other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held on June 1st at 2 p.m. at Trinity Lutheran Church with Pastor Olson officiating. Christine Myrehaug rendered a solo and the Flying Tigers, the group which Todd so dearly loved, sang so beautifully.

Todd's six uncles, Rob Affens, Frank Cook, Bill Kinghorn, Carl Peter and Cliff Grove carried him in his final resting place in the Church cemetery.

Honorary pallbearers were all of his friends, Barry Lien, Howard Ness, Elsie Short, Edward Tilden, Deana Ness, Doreen Wedekind and Dwight Armstrong.

We would like to express our gratitude to all our friends, relatives and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy, floral tributes, food, cards and all other acts of kindness during the loss of our beloved son Todd Michael Grove. We'd also like to express our sincere appreciation to Dr. Cahill and Dr. Meyer, Pastor Olson, pallbearers, Flying Tiger Group and Christine Myrehaug.

John and Gail Grove, Leslie, Randy and Brian

Hardisty C. of C. ask for R.C.M.P.

The Hardisty Chapter of Commerce held their July meeting at the Park cafe on the 21st.

Interviews and letters were received with regard to the possibility of placing an R.C.M.P. detachment once again within the town were discussed and approval from "K" Division was discouraging at this time.

Several memos were received from the tourists in this area stating the fact that there were poor facilities for eating along this line and within the town of Hardisty. A lengthy discussion was had on this matter.

It was made a motion that the Chapter alternate their supper meetings between the cafe and the hotel and that our next supper meeting be held in the Hotel at 6:30 p.m.

The meeting adjourned at 7:30 p.m. with the next meeting to be held August 25, at 6:30 in the hotel.

Chivaree Bellshell couple

On August 17th despite the busy season about 80 people gathered at Bellshell to honor Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd O'Reilly.

The evening started with a beautiful pot luck supper, served buffet style. This was followed by a short program consisting of a few readings and musical numbers.

Mrs. Albrecht, M.C. of the evening presented the honored couple with some chinaware and a purse of money, which was a welcome to Margaret to the community and to wish them both and their family the best of luck.

Lloyd and Margaret very graciously thanked everyone for their kindness to them. Following the presentation Mrs. A. Armstrong got guests all intermingling with a couple of party games. The highlight of these was when the groom had to model a suit of underwear which caused some laughter amongst the guests. After this they returned on their way home and thirty of them gathered again about mid-night at Lloyd and Margaret's and had an old fashioned Chivaree and stayed until day-light and the O'Reilly's had trouble getting into their bed.

"New look" in Sedgewick

Sedgewick has taken on a new look this summer. One of the first improvements is a beautiful little park north across from the post office. Designed by Danny Demmann, the park is complete with a fountain, a creek, rocks, trees and shrubs attractively arranged. Grass has also been placed along the east slope of the boulevard in that block.

On the corner across from the Hotel, the new building is house the Bank of Montreal is taking shape, with the roof beams being put into place in the past week.

On the east side of main street, the Herculak - Els building, which will house a dress shop on the main floor, and two suites upstairs, is being completed on the interior and will soon be ready for occupancy. Hardisty and District News

A welcome visitor to Hardisty was Bill Stiller of Fredericton, New Brunswick. He had many changes here and was surprised to see so many tanks now at the tank farm as there were only two or three when he was here last.

Visitors with Isabel Nelson for a couple of nights was a group of three and three friends from Kenia, Manitoba. They had been to Thompson, Manitoba and found no change in the scenery for many miles so really enjoyed the scenery.

Barb and Barney Mathews were in there too with Barney's rug and Barbie's knitting. Whenever you see Mrs. Jim Jackson from Irons anywhere she's always knitting. After being at the Fair I could see why, with all her lovely knitted articles there and Mrs. Jackson being crowned "King for a day" made it a day to be remembered by all.

The children were well looked after too, with various races for the little ones to bigger ones, so there was something for young and old, a very lovely day.

Adella Goldsmith has returned from a week's holiday in B.C. with her daughter and son-in-law Constable and Mrs. Bob Walker and family. You hear of bear stories but they got a real thrill to find out that the campsite they planned to stay in, only had one other night between them and a bear trap. Needless to say they spent the night in the car, rather than the tent.

They debated about staying at another campsite, Tunnel Mountain, but decided to go on to Calgary, later riding in the paper where a couple in a camper at Tunnel Mountain had been kidnapped by a young fellow from the east. However the police were soon on their trail and the couple were unhurt. It only goes to prove that home is a pretty good place after all.

Mr. Jim Stuart of Creston, B.C. with his son Murray, wife and children of Coleman, Alta visited with his brother, Geo. Stuart, also his niece Pearl Rove.

A lovely family reunion with Mrs. Nettie Johnston and her family was held at Hardisty campsite on the 15th, belatedly honoring Doris and Oscar Bible of Lloydminster on their 25th wedding anniversary and to remember Ken Johnston of Boulder on his birthday. All members of the family were present except Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnston of Blairmore. Mrs. Annie Riddle of Revin also attended. The campsite was a busy place, many people enjoying the outside meal.

Mr. and Mrs. CHU Saville of Edmonton have been visiting with Mrs. McLeary at her cabin at the Lake. Hans Ekland and Bill Davies were dinner guests at the Arne Bank home on Sunday. It was Bill's 65th birthday. No congratulations.
